Beavers Fade after 58-All Knot to Lose to Hoosiers

Two northern division coast conference basketball quintets went up against intersectional opponents last night. Both got slapped down.

Oregon State's defending Coast titlist bowed 65-60 to a hard-driving Indiana five and Washington State college was dumped unceremoniously by St. John's 67-44 before 15,000 Madison Square Garden fans.

OSU's Beavers were in the game right up until the final moments, only to have the Big 10 invaders break away from a 58-58 deadlock with three minutes remaining. Jack Detour, reserve guard, led the Beavers with 13 points.

The Hoosiers from the Big Ten conference and the Pacific Coast conference defending champions were tied 12 times.

After an initial three goal Indiana lead, the Staters bounced back for the first of four ties in the opening half. The midwest squad held a 29-28 halftime edge and in the second half never more than three points in front until the last three minutes.

Then with the count tied 58-58 on Dick Ballantyne's free throw, forward Jerry Stuteville went into the key and scored on a one hander.

Indiana's high scorer for the game, guard Lou Watson stole the ball and made it 62-58. After three foul line points—two by Stuteville and one by center Tony Hill—Oregon State's Tommy Holman laid in a goal for the 65-60 final.

Watson combined six field goals with a free throw for 13 points. This was tied by Jack Detour. His seven free throw points were added to three field goals.

A six-foot sophomore, Jack McMahon, broke the heart of the two-platoon Cougars at New York and split the game wide open in the second half. WSC held a 36-35 lead after five minutes of the second period when McMahon caught fire and sparked his mates on a 20-point spurge during which the Cougars scored only two foul shots. The sophomore marksman, hitting 11 of 19 floor attempts, topped all scorers with 27 points. Ed Gayda led the Cougars with 11 points.

The Cougar loss snapped their win streak at six games. Another six game streak goes into jeopardy tonight when Washington entertains Minnesota in the first of a two-night stand. The Gophers, strongest foe yet faced by the Huskies are favored slightly.

In addition to the Washington-Minnesota clash and OSC's second go with Indiana, both Idaho and Oregon are billed for action tonight. Idaho goes up against Iowa State at Ames, Ia., and Oregon takes the first of two cracks at the touring Stanford Indians at Eugene.

New Revolving Offense Wins Cage Go for Okla.

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—Oklahoma Coach Bruce Drake is a man who never uses the same basketball tactics from one year to the next.

Last night his team sprang a new revolving offense against City college in Madison Square Garden that broke a man loose for easy drive-in shots more than a dozen times. The Sooners won, 67-63.

"Shoeky Needy (his scout) and I have been working on it for a couple years," he said. "This is the first time it's come out so well."

In intricacy, the pattern rivals that of the sliding T of Oklahoma's Sugar Bowl football champions.

Time and again, playmaker Paul Merchant would start off the whirling and cutting that bewildered a good City college five, hitherto unbeaten.

On other courts, most of the country's major teams came through with victories. Bradley rebounded from its Purdue defeat by trouncing Georgia Tech, 84-60.

Down South, North Carolina State blew a 10-point lead in losing to Michigan, 54-46. It was State's first loss in five starts.

All-winning Villanova did it again, 49-45, over Loyola of Baltimore. Vanderbilt upset Temple, 49-45.

Iowa edged Notre Dame, 64-62, for the Irish's third loss to a Big Ten team.

Unbeaten Cornell dropped Rutgers, 78-46, for its fifth straight. Yale overpowered Rochester, 58-37. Undefeated Syracuse staged a second-half drive to trounce Princeton, 80-48.

Iowa State upheld the Big Seven's record against the Big Ten, taking Northwestern, 64-54. Nebraska had it easy with Colorado State, 63-43.

Bears Bowl Team Slated for Work

Berkeley, Calif., Dec. 20 (AP)—The University of California Bears defensive unit goes to work today against Ohio State plays in preparation for their Rose Bowl game Jan. 2.

The shifty halfback, Jack Swamer, was the only member of the California offensive platoon not on the field at the first daily drill yesterday. He was in Eureka, Calif., where his wife is expecting a baby shortly.

George Souza, the Bear's best defense end, was suited up but wore a knee brace as result of his late-season injury.

Coach Lynn Waldorf said his Bears were only "somewhere between 50 and 60 per cent of the team" which went through the regular football season undefeated.

Woodburn Bill Offers 15 Bouts

Fifteen bouts will be offered at the smoker at the state boys' school near Woodburn Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock with boys competing from five guest organizations. The public is invited and no admission is being charged. Packy McFarlane, Salem, will be the referee.

Guest clubs will be the Pal club, Portland, coached by Mickey Pease; Milwaukie boxing club, Tommy Moyer, coach; American Legion Post No. 1, Portland, Al Gross, coach; Longview Boxing club, Clark McAllister coach; and the Silverton Post club, Coach DePeel. Tom Entwistle is coach for the host group.

With the addition of Fordham to the 1949 schedule, Army's football teams have met 130 different football foes.

A Colossal Affair

Although we have no desire to become boring about it, we feel Oregon State's tremendous basketball plant is worthy of additional information. As one of a party of scribes and editors who enjoyed a personally conducted tour of the building with Spec Keene in the role of guide, we had ample opportunity to wander through the long corridors, climb the long flights of steps leading to the far upper reaches of the spectators' galleries and peek into dressing and shower rooms as well as the many rooms that will eventually evolve into offices for the athletic department. The task ahead in completing the job is a long one but a construction job of such magnitude is not an overnight engineering assignment. It may be March before the work crews are paid off for the last time.

Accommodations Super

They don't smell of linament as yet but we presume the dressing rooms, some of them sufficiently large to accommodate a battalion of men, will get that way in due course. Each major sport has its dressing rooms—one for the home team and another for the visitors. Looking ahead to the time when a new football stadium will be built to the southwest, dressing rooms and showers for this sport have been constructed in the basement along the western part of the building. Tentative plans call for a tunnel between the pavilion and the grid field—about 100 yards or more distant. Ramps which will accommodate six persons abreast—one on the south and another on the north (the latter not yet completed)—will empty the pavilion in rapid order. And there will be little delay in gaining admission either, for, if necessary, 24 ticket selling stations can be opened. Certainly a delightful improvement over the queue system that prevailed during the regime of the old men's gym.

Cold Statistics

For those who like to revel in statistics: The pavilion is the second largest suspended arch structure of its type in the U. S. The largest is in Indianapolis. The highest part of the roof is 83 feet above the floor; 1000 tons of structural steel, 14,000 cubic yards of concrete and more than 100,000 pumice blocks in the building. The roof is insulated with $41,000 worth of acoustical tile (no echoes in the structure). Illumination for the playing floor consists of 48 1500-watt lamps, providing more than 90 watts for each square foot of playing surface. Each light can be individually controlled as to height from the floor. Air conditioning system will keep the temperature at 65 degrees. Six thermostatically controlled heating units will displace 120,000 cubic feet of air per minute. The heat control system also will blow in fresh, cold air in the second half of its dual function.

After 70 Years National Loop Sets New Records

New York, Dec. 20 (AP)—You'd think that after doing business for more than 70 years, the National League would have finished breaking records in wholesale lots.

But just take a look at the senior loop's miscellaneous marks for the past season. Three major league records were broken, and four others tied, according to official records released today.

Eight National league standards were smashed and a half dozen tied.

Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh's man with the big bat, was the individual standout. He did something the old sultan of sweet, Babe Ruth, couldn't accomplish by leading his league in home runs for the fourth consecutive season. In two of those years, 1947 and 1948, he tied with Johnny Mize of the New York Giants.

The other two major league marks cracked were 938 home runs for the league as a whole and only 17 bases stolen by the St. Louis Cardinals. That was one in reverse.

Kiner, who poled 54 home runs during the 1949 campaign, also broke two of his own league records and tied another. It was the first time anyone hit 50 or more homers on two occasions. He hit 51 in 1947. He also punched out 16 round-trippers in one month for the first time in history in the circuit.

Stan (The Man) Musial and Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals, each broke a pair of records. Musial paced the league in base hits for the fifth year and in triples for his fourth season to set new marks.

Schoendienst's records were in the fielding department. He had the longest errorless streak for a second baseman, accepting 285 chances without a miscue and finished with the highest fielding mark in the history of the league for a second baseman, .987.

Other major league records that were tied included: Most home runs one inning by a club—Philadelphia 5.

Most consecutive home runs one inning by a club—New York 3.

Most home runs one inning by a player—Andy Seminick, Philadelphia, and Sid Gordon, New York, 2 each.

Other National league records set included: Most years 100 or more home runs hit by a club—New York 12.

Most players hitting 20 or more home runs in one season—12.

Other players hitting 20 or more home runs in one season—12.

Other National league records that were tied, included:

Most home runs nine-inning game (modern)—Seminick and Walker, Cooper, Cincinnati 3.

Most consecutive hits also nine-inning game (modern)—Cooper 6.

Most double runs inning game—Wille Jones, Philadelphia 4.

Playing most games at second base one season—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn 137.

Most triple plays for club—St. Louis 2.
