Miss Heyerly Recent Bride

Hubbard — Miss Shirley Heyerly, daughter of Mrs. Gladys Heyerly, Hubbard, and Raymond Gerig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gerig, Pratum, were united in marriage at the Calvary Mennonite church, Barlow, with the Rev. Paul N. Roth officiating, and Rev. Wilbert Regier assisting, Thursday evening, December 15, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Wilbert Regier was pianist and Mrs. Ernie Graham, soloist, singing.

The church was decorated with white and yellow chrysanthemums and greens over the altar in the form of two bells.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Keith Heyerly. She wore a traditional white satin gown, princess style, with peplum, a fingertip veil held in place with a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, white satin streamers tied with Cecil Bruner rosebuds.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harley Hostetter, wearing a pastel blue gown.

Best man for the bridegroom was his brother, Roy Gerig. Ushers were Richard Berkeley, uncle of the bride, and Bill Weck.

Candlelighters were Mrs. Abe Reznicek, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Don Rabe, both wearing pastel green gowns.

The bride's mother wore a wine suit with black accessories, and the bridegroom's mother, a black suit with black accessories.

ies. Each wore a corsage of white carnations and gardenias.

A reception followed the wedding in the basement of the church which was decorated with chrysanthemums and greens. The bride's cake was served by Mrs. Lee Yoder, aunt of the bride, and the bridegroom's cake was served by Miss Adeline Heyerly, aunt of the bride. Misses Hazel Schenk, Marilyn Hostetter, Winona Roth and Marjorie Morris assisted in the serving. The guest book was passed by Miss Mary Gerig and in charge of gifts were Mabel Zimmerman, Beverly Yoder, Barbara, Ruby and Rubene Heyerly, Adeline Haurey and Glorlene Heyerly.

DAYTON — Miss Katherine Shawver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shawver, Dayton, and John Edwin Mickle of Redmond were united in marriage at the Episcopal church in Klamath Falls, Saturday evening, Dec. 17. The couple will live in Klamath Falls for the present, as they are both attending the Oregon Technical Institute there. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shawver left here Saturday and attended the wedding of their daughter. They went on south to Los Angeles and to Chandler and Phoenix, Arizona, where they will visit friends for a few weeks.

SCIO — Miss Virginia Schroeder, formerly of Salem, who has been a telephone operator here, and Harold Varney of Albany, distributor of the Oregonian, were married in Reno, Nev., last week. The bride was an Albany

Teen-Talk

BONG—goes the signal for a gay winter season and happy holidays ahead. Let's see if we can wade through it without eating all the icing on the cake. Go to the parties and keep the dates that you can't resist. But don't go around seeking excitement. Rest up in between the big moments so you'll look fresh and pretty for mistletoe and winter carnivals.

You might be invited to a special celebration or school dance in a strange city. In that case it might be necessary for you to stay at a hotel. And, just because you are away from father's critical eye, don't throw caution to the winds.

It's possible for any girl to have a good time and still observe the demeanor of a sheltered debutante, says Frank L. Swadley, general manager of the Ritz Carlton hotel in New York. A perfect lady conducts herself with dignity when left on her own, but it doesn't have to spoil her fun. Says he:

"It always is a good idea for parents to make the hotel reservations for daughter so it can be confirmed before the girl starts for a strange city. Frequently we call the parents to ask if we can keep a watchful eye on their offspring, and they always are grateful for the extra bit of reassurance."

1. Even if your date meets you at the railroad station and escorts you to the hotel, you should do your own registering. Your parents or yourself should make the reservation. Don't ask the young man to do it.

2. Since you do not invite guests into your bedroom at home, you probably will not invite them to your hotel room, which after all is a bedroom.

3. Whenever possible two girls should travel together. Then they will not be lonesome, and they can share a room.

4. The curfew that parents stress should be observed. If you expect to be out later, leave a message at the hotel so that anxious parents will not get panicky if they should call in the late hours.

5. Your date should buy your dinner, but you should pay your own hotel bill. If he wants to reimburse you, that is for you to decide.

Mr. Swadley says that hotels want young people to enjoy themselves during their stay, but they also like to help them avoid embarrassing situations.

If you are going to entertain in your own home, your parents should meet the guests. If parents choose to go to bed or leave the house before the guests arrive, that is a different matter. But don't insist that they leave.

Sometimes after a party, your special date will linger around to say a special good night. If he does stay later than the other guests, make it a brief adieu. Unless you decide to whip up a snack and a cup of tea, he should leave within ten minutes after the other guests have departed.

Lots of young moderns write asking whether it will make them particularly unpopular if they must tell their friends that a house party must be terminated by midnight, or if they are invited to one that they must be home at a reasonable hour. This attitude of your parents never will affect your popularity with nice boys, particularly if they have sisters. Don't think you are the only girl experiencing parental supervision. Any well-brought-up girl goes through the same experience. If

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons fat, 1 medium onion (finely chopped), 1/4 cup finely diced celery, 1 pound ground beef, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces elbow macaroni.

Method: Melt fat in large skillet; add onion and celery and cook 5 minutes over low heat. Add beef, breaking up with a fork. The boys you know come from good homes, they will expect your parents to act as parents are supposed to act.

long-handled two-tined fork or wooden spoon, as it cooks and browns. Add the 2 teaspoons of salt, chili powder, and flour and mix well, stir in tomatoes, cover, and simmer about 30 minutes. Add parsley and cook uncovered for about 10 minutes longer. Add the 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Place macaroni on a large platter and pour sauce in the center.

Shower Given

Scio—The Munkers Community club gave a bridal shower Tuesday evening for Miss Shirley Nave of Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Nave of Scio. Miss Nave and Miss Donna Shindler came from Salem for the event and returned the same evening.

The guests made a scrap-book, each guest making one page which was presented to the honoree. Assisting with the entertainment and refreshments were Mrs. Edna White, Mrs. Cecelia Rollier and Mrs. Maxine Pierce. The shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thurston.

Rogers-Baumann

Woodburn—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baumann of Woodburn announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jeanette Baumann, to Dwaine Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of Woodburn. The ceremony took place Friday, December 16 at Chehalis, Wash. The young couple are making their home in Vancouver. Both Mr. and Mrs. Rogers attended Woodburn high school where he was graduated in June 1949, and are both prominent in their work at the Woodburn Presbyterian church.

DAYTON—Miss Betty Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker, Dayton, was wed to Louis Hackworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hackworth, Dayton, Saturday, Dec. 10, at Vancouver, Wash. They are making their home in Dayton.
