

Instructor In Nursing

Miss Elizabeth McIntosh has joined the staff of Salem General hospital as nursing art instructor, it is announced by Miss Lillian McDonald, hospital superintendent. Miss McIntosh will have charge of nursing services at the hospital and of the training and supervision of nurses aides.

The aides met last week to organize as a social group, naming Carl J. Woodruff as chairman, Mrs. Minnie Gregory as vice chairman, and Mrs. Eugene Krebs as secretary-treasurer. The organization meeting was attended by 49.

Christmas party for the aides was held last evening at the nurses home, Miss McIntosh as an honor guest.

The hospital nurses also held their Christmas party, at the nurses home, 50 attending. Miss Grace Taylor was a special guest. A late buffet supper was served.

Wednesday afternoon, the non-professional personnel at the hospital met for their Christmas tree and party in the dining room. Miss Betty Bolton, dietitian at the hospital, is sponsor for this group.

Couple Honored As Goldenweds

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond L. Landers of West Salem celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, December 18, at the Evangelical United Brethren church in Philomath. Approximately 125 friends and relatives gathered to enjoy a dinner at 1:30 o'clock and a reception which continued throughout the afternoon. Rev. Arthur Bates of Silverton, Mr. Landers' brother, was master of ceremonies. A tribute to the couple from all the nieces and nephews was made by Chester Bowers of Coos Bay. Dean Stephenson of Klamath Falls sang, assisted in pantomime by Mrs. Ralph Cheney of Portland and accompanied at the piano by Robert Field of Portland. Toasts were given by Richard Marquardt of Corvallis and a little Ronnie and David Thorkildson of Portland in behalf of the grandnieces and nephews.

Seated at the honor table with Mr. and Mrs. Landers were their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ellery Landers of Portland; Mrs. Landers' brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Peterson of Corvallis, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. McKenney of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cheney of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Campbell of North Bend, and Mrs. Hattie Bowers of Eugene; Mrs. Landers' brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bowers of Corvallis, and Ben Bowers also of Corvallis; Mr. Landers' brothers and sisters-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Loma Field of Dundee. The only other living brother of Mr. Landers, Henry Landers of Elmira, was unable to be present. Every living brother and sister and their wives and husbands, of Mrs. Landers were present.

Guests came from Lakeview, The Dalles, Coos Bay and many communities of the Willamette valley, also from Camas, Ocean Park and Vancouver, Wash.

There were 46 nieces and nephews and 28 grandnieces and nephews present, many of whom assisted with the dinner and about the rooms. Mrs. Myrtle Murphey of Philomath was in charge of the kitchen.

Mr. and Mrs. Landers are both members of pioneer families of the Willamette valley. Mr. Landers came to Oregon at the age of five with his two brothers and their widowed mother, about 1878. They came overland from Missouri to San Francisco, then to Oregon by ship and settled in the Willamette valley near Irving. Mrs. Landers was born in Oregon, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Bowers, having crossed the plains when they were small children, by ox team during the height of the western migration near the middle of the last century.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Landers took place December 20, 1899 at Irving, Oregon, in which vicinity they lived for many years. A son, Ellery, was born in 1902 in Eugene. The family resided in Eugene until 1916 when they moved to Willamina. In 1918 they moved to Portland, residing there until they moved to Salem, 17 years ago, where they now have their home at 891 Rosemont avenue.

AP Lists Outstanding Women of Year

LITERATURE
Eleanor Roosevelt

SCIENCE
Margaret Mead

SPORTS
Marlene Bauer

BEAUTY
Jacque Mercer

MOVIES
Olivia de Havilland

Mary Martin

MUSIC
Helen Traubel

RADIO
Marie Wilson

BUSINESS
Georgia Neese Clark

EDUCATION
Margaret Clapp

POLITICS
Margaret Chase Smith

Mary Martin, the Texas girl who washes her hair nightly as star of the Broadway phenomenon, "South Pacific," has received high vote in the annual AP poll on outstanding women of the year.

The poll, conducted among editors of Associated Press newspapers, was divided in most categories, but was almost unanimous in naming Miss Martin top actress of 1949.

It was the first time an actress received top vote in the annual editors' poll. Outstanding women named in previous years have included such personalities as: Clare Boothe Luce (then congresswoman) in 1944; Lise Meitner, atomic scientist, in 1945; Princess Elizabeth in 1947 and Margaret Chase Smith, senator from Maine, in 1948.

Mary Martin began her career as a dancing school teacher in Texas, gave the movies a tentative whirl and made her first impact on Broadway in 1938, when she wowed the customers with "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," hit song of "Leave It to Me."

She is married to Richard Halliday, former film executive, and lives quietly in Norwalk, Conn., with her 17-year-old son, Larry, and their seven-year-old daughter, Marry Heller.

Ten other women were voted outstanding in their respective fields for 1949.

Woman of the year in the field of sports was 15-year-old Marlene Bauer, of Los Angeles, winner of the USGA Girls' Junior Championship. Pretty Marlene is five feet three and has been playing golf since she was three.

In the field of music, Helen Traubel, Wagnerian soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, again was voted tops. A native of St. Louis, Mo., Miss Traubel has won fresh laurels this year, being named a "Woman of Achievement" by the Group Action Council of St. Louis and receiving an honorary doctorate of music from the University of Southern California.

In politics, the laurels went to Margaret Chase Smith, first woman to win an initial election to the U.S. Senate, and "woman of the year" in 1948.

Outstanding movie actress of 1949 was Olivia de Havilland, who won national acclaim for her remarkable portrayal of the title role in the film, "The Heiress," after a similar earlier triumph in the role of the mad heroine of "The Snake Pit."

In the field of business, the poll named Georgia Neese Clark, of Richland, Kans., appointed this year first woman treasurer of the United States. Her signature appears on all U.S. currency issued since her appointment—a distinction never before accorded to a woman.

The vote for outstanding woman in the field of radio went to Marie Wilson, star of the zany program "My Friend Irma."

Woman of the year in literature was Eleanor Roosevelt, whose memoir, "This I Remember," has been a best-seller.

Margaret Clapp, new president of Wellesley college, was named woman of the year in the field of education. The eighth president of the famous women's college in Massachusetts recently won a Pulitzer Prize for her scholarly biography, "Forgotten First Citizen. John Bigelow," and at the time of her appointment was an assistant professor of history at Brooklyn college and a Wellesley alumna of the class of 1930.

Named outstanding in the field of sciences was Dr. Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist and author of an impressive series of books, the latest "Male and Female." She is associate curator of Ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History.

Outstanding beauty of the year was the current Miss America, Jacque Mercer, of Phoenix, Arizona.

MONMOUTH—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haller celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary when they held open house at their home in Beaverton, Sunday afternoon, December 18. They were married December 18, 50 years ago at Taylor, Ia. Before moving to Beaverton they lived for a number of years on a farm north of town. Five of their six children were present, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. James Riddell and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith attended from here. Mrs. Smith assisted in serving.

Formal Party Enjoyed

Mill City—A group of young people attending the formal party given by the Girls' Athletic association of the high school gathered following the affair at the home of Miss Patricia Cree for a tamale supper. They were Misses Dolores Brewer, Sunnie Hoffman, Lavetta Powelson, Patricia and Betty Cree, and four boys home for the holidays from Oregon State: Gordon Kay, Bill Howe, Duane McFadden and Harold Cox.

Woman to win an initial election to the U.S. Senate, and "woman of the year" in 1948.

Outstanding movie actress of 1949 was Olivia de Havilland, who won national acclaim for her remarkable portrayal of the title role in the film, "The Heiress," after a similar earlier triumph in the role of the mad heroine of "The Snake Pit."

In the field of business, the poll named Georgia Neese Clark, of Richland, Kans., appointed this year first woman treasurer of the United States. Her signature appears on all U.S. currency issued since her appointment—a distinction never before accorded to a woman.

The vote for outstanding woman in the field of radio went to Marie Wilson, star of the zany program "My Friend Irma."

Woman of the year in literature was Eleanor Roosevelt, whose memoir, "This I Remember," has been a best-seller.

Margaret Clapp, new president of Wellesley college, was named woman of the year in the field of education. The eighth president of the famous women's college in Massachusetts recently won a Pulitzer Prize for her scholarly biography, "Forgotten First Citizen. John Bigelow," and at the time of her appointment was an assistant professor of history at Brooklyn college and a Wellesley alumna of the class of 1930.

Named outstanding in the field of sciences was Dr. Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist and author of an impressive series of books, the latest "Male and Female." She is associate curator of Ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History.

Outstanding beauty of the year was the current Miss America, Jacque Mercer, of Phoenix, Arizona.

MONMOUTH—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haller celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary when they held open house at their home in Beaverton, Sunday afternoon, December 18. They were married December 18, 50 years ago at Taylor, Ia. Before moving to Beaverton they lived for a number of years on a farm north of town. Five of their six children were present, Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. James Riddell and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith attended from here. Mrs. Smith assisted in serving.

Formal Party Enjoyed

Mill City—A group of young people attending the formal party given by the Girls' Athletic association of the high school gathered following the affair at the home of Miss Patricia Cree for a tamale supper. They were Misses Dolores Brewer, Sunnie Hoffman, Lavetta Powelson, Patricia and Betty Cree, and four boys home for the holidays from Oregon State: Gordon Kay, Bill Howe, Duane McFadden and Harold Cox.

"Tag, You're Santa Claus"...

TONIGHT! AS NEAR MILLER'S AS YOU CAN... SEE PAPERS TODAY FOR DETAILS!

"Let's Have Fun Tonight"

IT'S MEN'S NIGHT TONIGHT ON OUR SECOND FLOOR. SPECIAL DISPLAYS! FREE GIFT WRAPPING.

Gift Suggestions

SPECIAL! . . . 3.95

Gowns in Famous Brands

White or pink or blue . . . regular $5.95 gowns in this special for $3.95! Others to $15.

PANTIES . . . 1.98

Black, navy blue, daffodil nylon panties in regular $2.50 quality at $1.98 tonight! Others to $5.95.

SLIPS . . . 5.95

Nylon slips will surely please her on Christmas morning. In azure blues and sunshine. Regular $8.95 tonight $5.95! Others to $12.95.

Nylon Hose 79c to 2.00

Her favorite nylons here in her correct sizes! Boxed in one, two or three pairs.

FREE! CANDY CANES TONIGHT For . . . Dad, Bud, Sis Mon, Dad, Bud, Sis MAIN FLOOR Get a Candy Cane For Your Christmas Tree

7:00 to 9:00 O'CLOCK

Miller's

NOW THAT YOU'RE FRANTIC...

Check These Final-Hour Specials

Pin-Up Lamps
They're semi-indirect, and make a splendid bed, study or reading lamp. They were 3.95.
NOW 1.95

Cory Electric Knife Sharpener
Help Pop keep the knives "carving sharp."
11.59

Metal-Top Ironing Boards
Ventilated and heat-retaining (and that makes her happy)! Fire-proof, warp-proof, mirror smooth . . . so what could be better!
8.95

Pressure Pans
Presto 13.45
Mirromatic 13.95
Warever 13.95
There are a few demonstrators available at substantially reduced prices.

Steam Irons
General Electric 17⁹⁵
Silex 18⁹⁵
General Mills . . . 19⁹⁵

Now that we've made the suggestions, why don't you fly to that convenient location.

Nylon
Rayon
Flannel
Tommy

COATS

(Lace Trimmed & Tailored)

3.95 and 5.95

Gift Certificate

Smart Shop
115 North Liberty

Alexanders Jewellery #41 COURT

GIVES "J. & N." GREEN STAMPS

FRONT COURT

KEITH BROWN LUMBER

YARD

PHONE 8-9163