Caroling on Steam Whistle

Christmas eve is okay for sound, people for miles in all directions are bound to hear Carl Smyser's caroling.

A music teacher long on ingenuity and keen on volume, Smyser will set off a midnight concert on a powerful, steam-operated factory whistle.

The principle of it is describ-ed as simple—like that of a trombone. Smyser works the steam pressure with one hand steam pressure with one hand and a slide with the other. What comes out is like calliope tunes. "All you need," says Smyser, "is a strong right arm, a full head of steam and an ear for music. The right kind of weather gives you distance. On clear, crisp nights people as far away as ten miles hear my carols."

It all started when Smyser was in his teens and yearned to toot big whistles to artistic purpose. A York manufacturer, fascinated by the idea, lent his factory whistle to Smyser. That was 24 years ago. The Christmas eye steam serrondes have mas eve steam serenades have been going on ever since.

Washington, Dec. 24 (49-The government has $544.50 for William Wallace Braw, but it can't find him.

The office of the housing expediter reported sadly to-day that it has been unable to return the eash to the people who own it because they moved away without leaving a proper address,

The agency said Braw was one of about a dozen tenants who moved out of 130 West 47th St., New York City, after being overcharged for rent —and then couldn't be located for repayment. Braw was high man on the agency's list.

Low man was Clifton Pen-rod, late of 1022 South Third St., Louisville, Ky. He has 44 cents coming to him. If he wants to collect it, he, like the other 514, can do so by getting in touch with the nearest area rent office.
