

Winter Wonderland?—Working in a wonderland of ice and a maze of wires, telegraph groundman Arthur F. Kenney, Jr., seemingly has a bewildering job ahead as he repairs telegraph pole snapped by weight of ice which formed during sleet storm. Kenney was one of the many linemen called out to restore disrupted power and communication facilities in wake of storm which struck Sedalia and other Missouri towns. (Acme Telephoto)

Airlines Report 1949 Best Year

Seattle, Dec. 27 (AP)—The best year ever. That was the report by Croil Hunter, president and general manager of Northwest Airlines, for the first 11 months of 1949.

Hunter said the line carried 711,015 passengers through Nov. 30, slightly better than 111,000 more than the year before. The 1950 goal will be a million passengers.

Net profit before taxes, Hunter said, was $2,003,417 for the 11-month period, compared with a net loss of $2,662,436 during the same months of 1948.
