Marion County Gets O & C Funds

Marion county's share of proceeds from the management of resources of O & C lands is $32,945.02.

Other counties in the Salem district shared as shown here: Benton, $65,713.87; Clackamas, $92,140.36; Columbia, $36,468.56; Lane, $267,436.07; Lincoln, $8456.48; Linn, $60,604.75; Multnomah, $16,912.95; Polk, $50,210.33; Tillamook, $13,389.42; Washington, $14,446.48; Yamhill, $16,736.78.

More than $1,750,000 is being distributed to the 18 western Oregon counties as their share of the proceeds from the management of the resources on the 2 1/2 million acres of O & C lands, bureau of land management Regional Administrator Daniel L. Goldy announced today.

Distribution is made annually in accordance with the stipulation of the O & C act of 1937 which provides that 50 percent of the income from the O & C lands be distributed to the O & C land grant counties in lieu of the taxes which they would have received had the lands remained in private ownership.

Love Insurance Policy Issued

What is believed to be the first insurance policy of its kind was issued today in Salem by the Marion Curry-Henry Kropp agency in its "love insurance" policy covering the Elsinore theater.

According to Marion Curry of the insurance agency, the management of the Elsinore theater feared a wholesale loss of Salem wives' and sweethearts' affections to "The Great Lover," portrayed by Bobbie-Boy Hope in the attraction of that name currently on the Elsinore screen.

To protect itself against alienation of affections suits by irate Salem men, the theater obtained what is believed to be the first "love insurance" policy ever written.

Wally Cowen, Elsinore manager said, "We recall the consternation caused by such past screen lovers as Rudolph Valentino, John Barrymore, Wallace Reid and Ramon Novarro, and we propose to protect Salem men against a recurrence in the case of Bob Hope."

Truman Says Detroit Dam

At least 88,000 miners were reported idle and the number was spreading. Steel companies announced more cut-backs and the banking of furnaces for lack of coal. Railroads were laying off workers for the same reason. The striking miners may be protesting Lewis' order to work only three days a week, or they may be forcing a showdown with coal operators who have held out against Lewis' contract demands since last spring. The miners have been working on and off without a formal contract since last July 1.

Mr. Truman was reliably reported to be convinced that if the outbreak of strikes in western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio were ended, the coal shortages feared by operators, retailers and congressmen would lessen or disappear.

White House policy advisers on whom Mr. Truman relies were reported to be cautioning against any action by the president before next week.

Gen. Wedemeyer, Staff Will Visit Salem Friday

By MARGARET MAGEE

Friday will bring Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, Sixth Army Commander, and members of his staff to Salem for a call on Oregon's Gov. Douglas McKay and an inspection of reserve military training facilities here.

The general, who arrived in Portland Wednesday and will remain there and at Vancouver Barracks until sometime Friday morning, is to be accompanied to Salem by five of his staff members from the Presidio of San Francisco.

In that group are Col. L. H. Slocum, G-3 for Sixth Army; Capt. R. W. Berry (U.S. Navy) naval aide to General Wedemeyer; Col. W. R. Woodward, G-4 of Sixth Army; and Col. James Notestein, PIO for Sixth Army.

Shortly after his arrival in Salem, Gen. Wedemeyer and his party are to be honored at a luncheon to be given at the Senator hotel and attended by military personnel and a group of Salem citizens.

Among the military invited to honor the Sixth Army commander at the luncheon are:

Brig. Gen. Robert A. McClure, commander of the northern military subarea, Vancouver Barracks; and his chief of staff, Col. J. H. Rodman; Col. R. C. Snyder, chief of the Oregon military district, Portland; Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, Oregon's adjutant general; Brig. Gen. G. Robert Dodson, commanding general of headquarters of the 142nd fighter group, Oregon Air National Guard; Brig. Gen. H. G. Maison, assistant division commander of the 41st division; Lt. Col. Bruce Johnson and Capt. Richard Reynolds of the instructor group for ORC, Salem; Lt. Comd. David N. Morey, Jr., of the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve training center; and Lt. Comdr. Wallace Hug, officer in charge of the Salem Naval Air Facility.

Gov. McKay will be represented at the luncheon by his administrative assistant, Lawson McCall, the governor being in Southern Oregon until later in the day.

Visits to the reserve training facilities in this area, to the proposed site of the new army for the organized reserve corps of the army here, and to the state forestry building have been arranged to follow the luncheon.

Later in the afternoon Gen. Wedemeyer is to visit the office of the adjutant general, Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, and will be escorted by Gen. Rilea to pay his respects to Gov. McKay, who will return in mid-afternoon from Grants Pass.

date is dependent upon adequate congressional appropriation. The president's budget has requested $20,000,000 for the project for the next fiscal year.

Wallace said it is "not for me to pass judgment upon my conduct," but added:

"I state unhesitatingly that I am proud of my participation as vice president of the United States during the time when the war situation was most critical, and I am proud to have been associated with the administration whose policies were so effective in making available the essential materials when they were most needed."

Wallace's point No. 2 was a reference to testimony from Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, retired, that he did not show Wallace certain wartime reports on the A-bomb project.

Groves directed the Manhattan project. He is to be recalled later on for further testimony.

Now! Just 3 minutes mixing for these Super-fine Cakes because SNOWDRIFT is Emulsorized

CHOCOLATE MARBLE LAYER CAKE
A Snowdrift quick-method recipe

Melt 1 square unsweetened chocolate over hot water.

Sift together into one large bowl:
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 tsp. double-acting baking powder (3/4 tsp. single-acting)
1 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups sugar

Add:
1/2 cup Snowdrift
1/2 cup milk

Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer use "low speed", scrape bowl often. Scrape beaters after 2 minutes.

Add:
2 eggs
1/2 cup vanilla
1 tsp. vanilla

Beat 1 minute. Remove 1/2 to another bowl; stir in melted chocolate. Turn white and chocolate batters alternately into 2 greased 8" layer pans lined with plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes. Cool and frost with:

CHOCOLATE ICING: Heat together 1/2 cup water, 2 tsp. butter and 1 tsp. Snowdrift. Add 3 one-ounce squares of unsweetened chocolate (melted); 1 1/2 tsp. vanilla; and blend. Add chocolate mixture to 3/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar; beat until creamy-smooth. Ice cake.

Only an emulsorized shortening gives you these luscious cakes in such a jiffy!

What enthusiastic praise you'll hear when you serve Snowdrift's Chocolate Marble Layer Cake. How light...how rich and luscious! Best you ever baked!

Yes, in only three minutes your batter is mixed and ready for baking because Snowdrift is emulsorized. Only an emulsorized shortening blends so completely, makes cake mixing so quick. New cake success—is that easy, thanks to Snowdrift.

Baking and cooking with pure creamy Snowdrift is such a joy. Use it every day
