Bad Weather

Snowbound in Seattle after making a flight to the Naval Air Reserve Training unit there, Lt. Comdr. Wallace Hug, officer in charge of the Salem Naval Air facility Friday evening at 6:10 o'clock made it back to Salem with his plane.

Hug first started the trip to Seattle by auto last Tuesday when weather prevented his fly.

Thursday if marginal weather continued he was to be flown back to Salem in one of the navy's larger planes at the Naval Air station. That day the weather was so bad that not even the big planes could leave the ground. The first break in the weather did not come until Friday afternoon when Hug and Brown left for Salem.

Lt. Cmdr. House Sent to Capital

From Washington, D. C., has come word that Lt. Comdr. Wil-liam H. House, USN, son of Mrs. Nina House of Brooks has been ordered to duty with the Bureau of Aeronautics in the national capital.

House, who has served as com nanding officer of attack squad ron 115 based at the Naval Air Station, San Diego, since Sep-tember, 1948, was graduated from the U. S. Naval academy with the class of 1940 His first sea duty was aboard the heavy cruiser USS Northhampton, which later took part in the hattle of Midway battle of Midway.

The officer from Brooks entered flight training at Pensa-cola, Fla., in November, 1942, and was retained as a flight in-structor at Fort Lauderdal, Naval Air Station, Florida, wal-January, 1944. At that time he was given the assignment of executive officer of Torpedo Squadron 14. Later he served as commanding officer of the squadron aboard the aircraft carrier USS Wash in the first strikes at the Japanese homeland. His awards include the Navy Cross, Silver Star, Distinguished Flying Cross. Bronze Star and the Air Medal. From January, 1945, until January, 1946, Comdr. House served as a staff member of Commander Carrier Division Two. Following that he returned to the Naval Academy in June, 1946, to serve as an instructor in the aviation and electrical engineering department. He was detached from that duty in August, 1948, for his assignment to VAl15.

"From there out," Chairman Sawyer said, "it is up to officials and citizens of Salem to work this important matter to a successful conclusion.

Coates in his letter to the com mission sets forth costs of the project, with $12,600 as the cost of the Summer street lot; $15,600 for architects' fees; $960 FHA fees for commitment; $100 for survey and $671.50 for Salem ouilding fee, or a total of $20,-

The first proposal offered by Coates stipulates that the state of Oregon, or anyone acting in its behalf, purchase the property at its original cost plus the addi-tional expenses. If this proposal is accepted Coates states willing. ness to take his own chances in obtaining another piece of property, or failing in this, abandon
