Small Hero-Paul Frank Bacon, 10, rests in bed at his home in Burbank, Calif., after a dynamite cap explosion at school inflicted 50 cuts on his chest, abdomen, arms and legs. Paul sighted the burning cap in a locker. He picked it up, ran to the door and was about to throw it out when the cap exploded. Police said his action saved several students from being hurt. ## Time Stopped for Ancient City With Wartime Knockout Raids share, Kirkpatrick was then chairman of the Lebanon bank

Kassel, Germany, Jan. 31 (P)—World War II seems like only yesterday in the ruins of this bomb-blasted German city. Bodies still lie beneath uncleared rubble almost five years after the war. The "graves" are marked by weather-beaten wreaths and crosses placed atop levelled homes by friends and by allied figures.

Asks U. S. Mercy-Zygmunt Ass U. S. Mercy—Zymunt-Figlerowicz, 20-year-old Pol-ish refugee, surrendered to San Francisco immigration authorities as an illegal en-trant with the hope that the U. S. government would "un-derstand." Figlerowicz, born in Grudziadz, Poland, was interned by the Germans in 1939. He escaped and met in-vading Americans, who advised him to come to the U.S. Using a Canadian seaman's birth certificate, he made his way to Montreal and then drifted to San Francisco. "If you send me back to Poland, it will mean 10 or 15 years in jail," he said. (Acme Tele-

Bank Stock Sale Issue in Lebanon

Albany, Ore., Jan. 31 (P)— Profits from the sale of 122 shares of stock in the First National Bank of Lebanon were at issue in a suit here involving two members of a prominent Linn county family.

James Powell Garland, Washington, D.C., son of the late Samuel M. Garland, has sued his cousin, Hugh R. Kirkpatrick, for a share of the profits. Garland claims there was a "secret profit" in the resale of the bank stock and that other heirs received their share.

The suit charged that bank stock from Garland's father's estate was sold to Kirkpatrick at $300 a share, to keep it in local hands. The father, Samuel M. Garland, had asked in his will that the stock stay in local control. The younger Garland and Kirkpatrick were ex-blow on October 22, 1943. British bombers attacked that night with high explosive and fire bombs. German officials say that 20,000 Kasselers were killed and half the city wrecked in an hour and a half.

By the end of the war, the city was 78 per cent ruined by German calculations, 68 per cent by allied figures.

Jump Off Dam

Las Vegas, Nev., Jan. 31 U.P.

Jake P. Jaramillo, 30, Oxnard, Calif., was held in protective custody after he tried to jump 700 feet to certain death from the top of Hoover Dam, the highest dam in the world.
