New Church to Have Services

Keizer, Feb. 2—Organization of the new Lutheran church for the Keizer community has progressed to the point where the first service in the chapel-parsonage, 4505 North River road, will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning with Rev. George L. Holmquist, BD, speaking.

One week later the Sunday school will be organized with Mrs. Carl Langeland as superintendent, assisted by a corps of competent teachers. Literature for the next three months has been provided by the church board of publications.

Formal organization of the congregation, together with incorporation, is expected at a special consecration service April 30. A volunteer choir is now available for services and an orchestra formed.

As services progress it is planned to arrange a schedule of mid-week services and prayer meetings, league meetings for youth and instruction classes by the pastor, followed by auxiliary organizations for men, women, children and mixed groups.

Interested individuals met for the first time December 12, 1949 at the Keizer Grange hall and the organization committee was chosen. The Pacific Lutheran synod and the Board of American Missions purchased the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lansing for use as a chapel and parsonage, occupied during mid-January by Rev. Holmquist and family.

Arrangements were immediately made to equip the chapel with five new chairs purchased, new common service hymn books received as a gift of the board of missions and offering plates, altar furnishings and pulpit provided by individuals of the community.

Rev. Holmquist was assigned to the Keizer community by the Board of American Missions of the United Lutheran church in America and came to Salem last September 11. The family has been living in Salem since.

Mountain Slide Isolates Prison

Petros, Tenn., Feb. 2 (AP)—Brushy Mountain prison stands virtually marooned today following the slide of a mile-long chip of frozen Head mountain to the institution's front door.

Two of the prison's three coal mines are out of operation, their means of access wiped away by the landslide yesterday.

After increasingly heavy rainfall, "most of the entire south face of the 3,500-foot mountain seemed to split away from the main mass."

That's now a newsman at the scene described it.

A small creek which normally is no more than a trickle was dammed by material washed down from above, backing up water above the level of a spur rail line. The scarred mountain stands behind. The railroad is risky. The highway is knocked out.

The landslide, whose main body was estimated at a mile in length and up to 100 yards wide, scraped about a half-mile downward, ripping trees, boulders and discarded timbers from the prison's mine in its progress.

A crew of prisoners and others working in heavy rainfall erected a barricade to sluff the mass of rubble away from the prison powerhouse, which was at the edge of the slide's path.

Although successfully defending the powerhouse, they were unable to save a long section of the road leading into the pris-

Upset Stomachs Yield Inches of Gas and Bloat

"I was certainly 'out of whack' before I took Kai-O-Dex," writes Mr. Clint Huskey, Box 346, Fowler, Calif., retired rancher. "I had to use strong laxatives constantly for the awful tightness I'd get in my stomach and bowels. Food made me sick and would back up into my throat for hours after sitting—got so weak I could hardly walk up town. Then after 2 or 3 bottles of Kai-O-Dex my appetite improved and meals tasted good again. My bowels became regular so that the tightness around my waist disappeared and I've surprised my friends by the difference in my looks and actions. I'm a great booster for Kai-O-Dex in my town."
