

88-Year-Old Widow Cleared Of Stealing 2 Cubes of Butter

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 9 (AP)—"Grandma" Margie Russell, a spry 88-year-old widow, was cleared Wednesday of charges she stole two cubes of butter worth 38 cents.

A request that a petty theft complaint be dropped was granted by Judge Louis J. Hardy. The half-blind and nearly deaf old lady then signed an out-of-court settlement with owners of the pay-less market.

Freed—Mrs. Margaret Russell, 88-year-old $75-a-month pensioner, cocks an attentive ear to proceedings at Municipal court in Oakland Calif., where she appeared on charges of "stealing" two cubes of butter valued at 38c. The charges were dropped and she got a $300 settlement. (Acme Telephoto)

Bridge Players To Portland

About 40 of Salem's contract bridge enthusiasts will migrate to Portland for the four-day northwest regional meet starting Thursday.

Nearly the entire membership of the Elks Bridge club will play in at least one tournament, while many will compete for the men's pair, women's pair and open pair championships, all two-session affairs.

Eleven players who had top scores in the five-week series just concluded at the Elks club were named as official representatives as follows: W. E. Kimsey, Mrs. Stuart Thede, Mrs. John S. Bono, Gilbert Groff, Elmer Berg, Mrs. Dewey Howell, Mrs. Arthur L. Lewis, Mrs. Harry J. Wiedmer, Mrs. Arthur L. Binegar, Ellis H. Jones and John Pugh of Shedd.

Winners in the final competition of the series included William F. Leary, Robert May, James Schaub, Howard Pickett, Gilbert Groff, W. E. Kimsey, Jack Nielsen, Mrs. Milton D. Parker, Mrs. Edward E. Roth and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dannen of Brownsville. Weekly tournaments will be resumed at the Elks club February 13.

Class Holds Party

War Prisoners Get $1 Daily

Washington, Feb. 9 (AP)—The U.S. war claims commission announced Wednesday that every American prisoner of war of the German and Japanese will get $1 a day for each day in prison.

The decision clears the way for distribution of about $120,000,000 in war claims to some 140,000 Americans and 135,000 Philippine prisoners of war.

The claims will be paid out of approximately $160,000,000 in reparations taken from the Germans and Japanese.

Commission chairman, Daniel F. Cleary, said the decision applies only to Americans and Filipinos imprisoned by Germany and Japan because it has been proved the two nations violated the 1929 Geneva convention which set up minimum standards for care of war prisoners.

Clearly said this does not cover such American civilians as construction workers captured on Wake Island "since they are contract workers and are not covered by the government as are military prisoners."

Four Corners Greets Many New Residents Into Area

They have taken the Donnelly cottage at 455 S. Lancaster drive. There are six children the 17-year-old son is a patient at the Fairview hospital for a nervous breakdown. Mr. Smith is employed by P. Steinbock.

Unique Display of Boy Scout Activities

An unique demonstration in depicting boy scout activities has been installed in a show window at 456 Court street. The display was placed in recognition of the 40th anniversary of scout week.

The display consists of a revolving table on which enlarged photographs of scenes emblematic of the characteristics of a boy scout have been placed. The troop involved is No. 1, sponsored by the Salem Rotary club with Paul Griebenow as scoutmaster.

The photographs were taken by the scouts and the scenes also involve boys of the troop. In exemplification of the word "Obedient," the picture shows a father handing a shovel to his boy, who has been assigned a certain task. The word "Thrifty" is demonstrated by a boy making a deposit in a bank and a chapel scene is used to exemplify the word "reverent."

will present a program before the school and the third grade room mothers on Monday Feb. 13 at 1:15 o'clock. Mrs. LaVaun White is the teacher.

The "Hobbyists" held their bi-monthly meeting on Feb. 7 with Miss Marie Lippold as hostess. Members present who do textile painting were Mrs. Ross Christian, Mrs. Jess McIlhenny, Mrs. Warren Shrake, Mrs. L. J. Stewart, Mrs. Morris Stewart, Mrs. E. E. Walker.

The community center council of the Community Center association met at the community hall. All representatives of the various civic and social organizations were present. The entertainment committee made tentative plans for a pie social and program sponsored by the association, date to be announced at a later date. Program chairman,
