Grange Host To Stockmen

Marion county stockmen will be guests of Union Hills Grange on Thursday evening, March 9 for dinner. All stockmen and their families are invited to attend the dinner at 7:00 o'clock. Following the meal, a full evening entertainment has been arranged by Louis Hennies president of the livestock association. A new moving picture on "Foot and Mouth Disease" will be of interest to most stockmen. Pro. George Cadmus of Oregon State college will talk on "Keeping Sheep Records for Greater Profits." Cadmus has recently published a popular bulletin on the subject.

Breeders who attended the Western Oregon Livestock association in Corvallis last month, will report on the activities there. Swine growers will have a complete report of their promotional sales held this winter.

County Extension Agent Ben A. Newell will announce the dates of livestock tours to be held in Marion county during the spring months.

Union Hills Grange Hall is about three miles east of the Silverton-Stayton highway just off the Silver Creek Falls road.

Area Council Coming Here

The Pacific Northwest Area Council of the YMCA, legislative and policy making organization of the Y, will hold its annual meeting in Salem Saturday and Sunday at the Senator hotel.

Student representatives from a number of campus YMCAs from the northwest will be here Friday for a series of conferences that evening and Saturday morning with Paul Keyser, Portland, regional secretary for student work in charge. Dave Handy will be Willamette's student representative and Prof. Charles Derthick will represent the faculty.

Tinkham Gilbert, vice president of the area council, is general chairman for the two day program. Eugene McCarthy of St. Louis, president of the national council will be here for the sessions.

Registration of delegates from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and a portion of Montana is slated for Saturday forenoon. The official conference banquet will be held Saturday night and much of Sunday will be devoted to council business.

Gate to Education Under G. I. Bill to Be Locked July 25, '51

By ROWLAND EVANS, JR.
Washington—The Veterans Administration (VA) has warned veterans that the gate to education and training under the GI bill will be locked July 25, 1951.

All inside the program by that date can stay there until their entitlement runs out or until their "course" ends or until July 25, 1956, whichever comes first.

Most others will stay outside.

One reason for this move undoubtedly was the howl brought on last fall when the VA put out a pre-dated regulation, known as 1-A. Pressure from veterans, congress and schools forced the VA to withdraw 1-A, although its bad timing was not the only reason. (The strongest objection to it was that it compelled all veterans wanting to change a course to prove the new course was "essential" to employment.)

The VA is taking no chances on the possibility of any veteran's misinterpreting the significance of the July 25, 1951, deadline. In a long report sent to congress January 25 the VA took six closely-typewritten pages to present its interpretation of the cut-off date. It recognizes that the GI bill could be interpreted several ways with regard to that date.

The language in the law goes this way: "... That such courses shall be initiated not later than four years after either date of (a veteran's discharge or after the termination of the present war, whichever is later." The "termination of the war" for this purpose is July 25, 1947, so there is no problem there. Four years later is July 25, 1951. (Almost all veterans were discharged before July 25, 1947.)

But what, the VA wondered, did congress mean by "initiate a course"? It decided it meant that a veteran would have to be in or working on an education

Open Bids on Logs March 9

Bids will be opened by the Portland district, Corps of Engineers, at 11 a.m. March 9, in Portland, on a total of 1,210,770 feet board measure, gross log scale, of logs in the vicinity of Detroit dam site on the North Santiam river.

Colonel Donald S. Burns, Portland district engineer, said the lot consists of two stockpiles, both of which are young second-growth, principally Douglas-fir.

Of the total, 588,770 feet board measure are in stock piles in the vicinity of Blowout creek on either side of the North Santiam river, and 621,000 feet board measure are in stock piles in the vicinity of Rapley Creek logging camp on the north side of the Santiam river.

The logs are available for inspection and persons desiring to view the property should contact the resident engineer, Corps of Engineers, Detroit dam, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, inclusive.

Persons interested in bidding on the logs should contact the Detroit dam resident engineer or the Portland district office of the Corps of Engineers, 678 Pittock Block, Portland 5, Broadway 0621.

All bids opened January 18 for the logs were rejected as being too low.

Norblad Protests Columbia Diversion

Washington, March 2 (AP)—Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.) protested today against the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation's survey of a plan to divert Columbia river water into California.

Norblad, in a letter to reclamation Commissioner Michael W. Straus, said the survey would cost $525,000.

He said it isn't feasible to send water to California because of the mountainous country that would have to be crossed. Norblad also denied that there would be surplus water in the Columbia river after the valley is developed.

This survey will take several years to complete. It was started several months ago.

Saved—Miss Josephine Pou, (above) Pan American Airways Stewardess, was partly blown through window as the glass blew out while plane, on ferry flight from New York, flew at 20,000 feet over South Carolina coast. She was asleep beside window in pressurized cabin, and Purser Michael Mari pulled her to safety. (AP Wirephoto)
