

East Salem is Organized For Red Cross Campaign

East Salem, May 4—This year with Frank A. Doerfler again general chairman of the county division for the Red Cross drive each of the school communities have been organized into divisions for the canvass.

Forest Nursery Helps Farmers

Oregon's forest nursery at Corvallis has made available to farmers of eastern Oregon for windbreak and shelterbelt plantings a number of specially selected species of seedling trees.

According to the superintendent of the nursery, Vern E. McDaniel the seedlings are species known for their hardiness and will grow in extremely dry and cold climates. They also will do well in hot localities and after the first two or three summers will require but little care.

In the group are Russian Mulberry, Russian Olive, caragana Chinese elm, black locust, green ash, Scotch pine, Chinese arbutus and ponderosa pine. They also are good for shade trees for use in pasture lands.

Seedlings, especially good for the Willamette valley area is the cork oak, which can be secured by Willamette valley residents for mass plantings.

Cost of the seedlings is $5 per thousand plus postage charges. Deadline for making application either directly to the state forester at Salem or through county agents is March 20. A refrigeration and cold storage building has been erected at the forest nursery so that the seedlings may be taken from the nursery beds and stored until such time as the farmers in eastern Oregon are ready to plant.

Woodburn Ministers Sponsor Movie Show

Woodburn—"Dust or Destiny" is the title of a film in natural color and sound, which will be presented in the Woodburn high school auditorium Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Star performer in the production is "Mickey," a bat, who furnishes the cameraman with proof that radar is the bat's secret guide to night flying. Other features are a bird that flies non-stop from Labrador to Argentina, a fish that lays eggs on dry land, and even a close up of the human heart. Many other unusual stories and facts are shown.

The film is the latest production of the Moody Institute of Science and admission is free to the showing. It is sponsored by the Woodburn Ministerial association.

Gates Takes Steps For Incorporation

Gates—At the last regular meeting of the Gates Chamber of Commerce the subjects of the incorporation of Gates and the need of an adequate water supply for the town were discussed. Walter Bell, Stayton attorney, spoke on the advantages to be gained by incorporation and explained the methods of procedure.

Petitions are being circulated for signatures to get the matter of incorporation on the ballot. Boundaries have been decided upon which include only the area on the Marion county side of the river.

Different plans for the installation of a water system were suggested and discussed. One plan was to take the water from the river. The plan that met with the most favorable comment was that of the drilling of a well on the hill north of town and the installation of a gravity system.

Church Council Awards Prizes

Richard Tyler Scott, 960 North Fifth street, has been named a first-prize winner of the preliminary Parshad award contest, according to announcement made this week by the Oregon Council of Churches.

Evelyn G. Bolliger and Kenneth D. Lawrence, students at Willamette university, were second-prize winners in their respective divisions.

Other winners were Donna Lee Plymale, Lebanon, first-prize in the girl's division; Mary Ruth Brinks, Oakland, third prize; and Ralph E. Undseth, Woodburn, who tied with Lawrence for second place in the boy's division.

The Parshad award is presented annually by the United Christian Youth Movement and is based on five parts: Life purpose, school and study interests, local church or denominational activities, community work and a 1500-word essay on the "Church's Responsibility in My Community."

State judges for the contest were Rein Jackson, Rev. Edward Terry and Mrs. Ralph Mort.

The papers of both Scott and Miss Plymale will be entered in the national contest.

Unionvale—There were 40 members attending the monthly dinner of the congregation served at the social room of the church.

Fire Threat Overcome by Linn Patrol Association

By C. K. LOGAN

Though the 1949 season was a prolonged and threatening one, the fire record was highly successful, Mel Crawford, secretary-treasurer, reported at the 38th annual meeting of the Linn County Fire Patrol association at headquarters office in Sweet Home.

Losses were kept at a low figure and there were no serious ones. The timber industry was blamed for starting 15 of the 38 fires with 36 of them listed as man-caused. Total damage was placed at $9,563.

During the season 588 burning permits were issued by the organization to farmers, loggers and others to clean up on cleared land and slash disposal.

Rainfall Short
Total cost for the season was $75,953.97 or $16,827.93 below the budget for the year, Crawford reported.

An extreme shortage of rainfall during the four critical fire season months was reported. These were June through September, making the danger period longer than usual.

Putting out fires or supervising burning of slash was not the only work of the association. Besides smoke chasing and fire fighting tree planting took place from March 1 to April 15; telephone lines were maintained; roads and trails repaired; change made from telephone to radio and considerable equipment purchased.

Improvements Made
A new guard station was built near Jordan, a large storage tank installed and a garage built at Sweet Home and a new guard station erected on Section 9, replacing the one on Thomas creek.

Officers of the association are Carl Davis, president; Charles Fox, vice president; Crawford; Carl Davis, D. T. Mason, Fox, Clyde Martin, J. Brandis, H. H. Holland, Harry C. Patton and W. E. Hoffman, directors. Taylor Alexander was named director to replace F. L. Thompson, resigned.

Attending the meeting were representatives of the Linn patrol organization, logging and milling industries. Oregon state forestry department and others interested in problems of forest preservation and reforestation.

North Side Troop Works on Badges

Willamina — Troop I, north side, met at the home of Beverly Hubbard. The girls worked on their badges, and the whole troop studied first aid under the direction of Mrs. Otto Hirn and Miss Grace Hartley. Mrs. Roy Hubbard served refreshments. The Girls Scouts are planning a court of honor, which will be held some time during Girl Scout week which begins March 12. The court of honor will be held at the grade school.

HOLLY SAYS . . .

With the sun shining, the flowers blooming and spring in the air—seems to be the signal for young folk (and others, too) to think about being married. The usual spring crop is beginning to show around my place. Seems people talk those things over and I'm sure glad they do because I seem to get more than my share of the engagement ring business. People have seemed to learn, thru one source or another, that I am sincere in my helpfulness to young people embarking on the big ship. My advice, concerning the ring that is, is free and unbiased and is honest in every respect even to the cost of losing a sale, if necessary. You and the boy friend or you and the girl friend should come in and talk it over, you'll be glad you did.

Mrs. Jackson, at one time, talked it over with me. Now we have two fine boys and four saddle horses.

The beginning
OF THE HARVEST

Some folks think that the first day of reaping begins the harvest.

But the farmer knows that the real beginning of the harvest is the first day of plowing. Furrows come before fields of golden grain. Without the labors of Spring there can be no sheaves in the Fall.

The Greatest Teacher taught that. He said His Truth was like seed . . . some of it might fall on poor ground and die . . . but when it was sown in rich, well-plowed soil it would bring a fruitful harvest.

Every Sunday our Churches plow deep furrows in the good soil of humanity . . . so that God's Truth can take root and grow . . . so that the world may realize its long-cherished hope, a harvest of peace and goodwill.

But remember, the harvest begins with the plowing. Worship God in Church next Sunday!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
