Manager Billy Southworth says he has all the confidence in the world that Johnny Sain will have a fine year on the mound for the Boston Braves, and to make it unanimous Sain shares the confidence.

Tough breaks had a lot to do with Sain's indifferent 10-17 record last year after his fine 24-15 performance in 1948. Southworth insists.

As a nucleus for a starting pitching staff Southworth has Sain, his southpaw ace Warren Spahn, and Vernon Bickford. There is a strong possibility that rookie Norman Roy from Milwaukee might earn a start-er's job, but time alone will tell.

All in all, the Braves at the moment look quite solid; and if Southworth gets any kind of hitting he has a contender on his hands.
