

Chiang Scores Two Victories

Taipei, Formosa, March 9 (AP)—Nationalist China was heartened today by two tiny victories—repulse of a small scale invasion attempt against Hainan island and recapture of Kangting capital of the far western province of Sikang.

Nationalist troops on Hainan, big island off the south China coast, beat down an attempt Monday by 900 mainland communists to invade the northwestern sector of the island. Two hundred Reds were reported killed. Most of the remainder were routed or captured. The invaders apparently sailed from Luchow peninsula 10 miles across the strait from Hainan.

There has been no indication the Hainan landing was the forerunner of a large scale Red attempt to take the island. It might have been a nuisance raid, a reconnaissance in force or an attempt to supply communist guerrillas held up in Hainan's mountains. The possibility of other coastal raids on Hainan by the communists was not discounted.

Hainan is defended by 100,000 nationalist regulars and 90,000 militiamen. They are commanded by Gen. Hsueh Yueh, who fought the Japanese in Hainan province. He and other nationalist leaders have pledged allegiance to President Chiang Kai-Shek and his government, which is expected to undergo sharp reorganization if Gen. Chen Cheng is confirmed as premier.

Two-Year Old Pays Income Tax to U. S.

Los Angeles, March 9 (AP)—At the age of two, Jeanine Caruso knows about paying income tax (deadline one week from today). Jeanine earned $1340 for three months work as the child of Mme. Bovary in the movie of the same name. She then collected $650 in unemployment benefits at the rate of $25 a week for 26 weeks.

The state department of employment would not say that Jeanine is the youngest to be given unemployment benefits, but it conceded she was one of the youngest.

Yesterday Jeanine, with the help of father Vincent Caruso, sat down to figure out her income tax. What it amounted to is not a matter of public record.

Collection Racket Revealed by Murphy

Merchants, doctors and business men were warned today that unlicensed collection agencies are running a racket in Oregon.

State Real Estate Commissioner Claude H. Murphy said these unlicensed operators solicit accounts for collection, collect the money, and then keep it, instead of turning it over to the persons or firm to which the money is owed.

Murphy said that when a collection agency solicits business from a firm, the firm should demand to see the collection agency's state license card. Collection agencies have to post a $3,000 bond with the state.

Oregon Wool Clip Lowest in 50 Years

Portland, March 9 (AP)—The wool clip in Oregon last year was the lowest in 50 years of record.

The federal crop reporting service said the clip was 15 per cent below the year previous. The total was 5,207,000 pounds.

Not Enough—Dr. Richard Ford (above), pathologist of Harvard university, struck at the heart of the state's "mercy-murder" case against Dr. Hermann N. Sander in Manchester, N. H., by stating: "Forty C.C.'s of air is not enough to block the arterial system leading to the human lung." Dr. Sander is charged with murdering a woman cancer patient by injecting air into her veins. (Acme Telephoto.)

Unhappy—Judith Coplon sits unhappily in U. S. marshal's van on way to detention house after she and Valentin Gubitchev had been convicted on espionage-conspiracy charges in New York. Miss Coplon, already under sentence for 40 months to 10 years for stealing government secrets, faces a maximum sentence of 25 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. (Acme Telephoto.)

Lumber Men Vote for AFL

Eugene, March 9 (AP)—Workers in the Pope and Talbot lumber mill at Oakridge decided last night in an NLRB election that they preferred to maintain the status quo and be represented by the Lumber and Sawmill Workers union of the AFL. The vote was 131 for the AFL and 83 for the CIO.

Elwood Strumpf, NLRB election examiner, who conducted the election, said that the mill is now organized by the AFL union but that a sufficient number of dissident workers had filed petitions alleging they preferred leadership by the International Woodworkers of America, CIO. The election was called as a result of these petitions. The CIO union now represents the Pope and Talbot woods crew.

Polk Granger Groups Called

Dallas—The annual meeting of the Polk county agricultural and home economics committees of the Polk county Granges will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Rickreall Grange hall, according to O. C. Brown, Pomona Grange, agricultural chairman. R. W. Schmidt, state agricultural Grange chairman of Albany, will attend the meeting and discuss the agricultural program of the State Grange.

Rex Warren, farm crops specialist of the extension service at Oregon State college, will discuss various weed control methods and answer questions in regard to control of noxious weeds and control of brushy plants with chemicals.

Brown states that selection of the Grange to receive the Dallas Chamber of Commerce trophy will be held in the morning with announcement to be made at the noon luncheon. Each year the Grange with the best agricultural program for the year receives the revolving trophy offered by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

For republican precinct committees: Hazel V. Clark, Route 4, Box 810, precinct 51; H. Grace Kowitz, 1961 Center, precinct 19.

Lie Urges Big 4 To Act on China

New York, March 9 (AP)—The New York Times said today that U. N. secretary-general Trygve Lie has urged the Big Four to find a compromise settlement of the east-west deadlock over China's representation in the United Nations.

Russia and her satellites have walked out of all U. N. meetings in which representatives of nationalist China participate. They insist that the communist regime now speaks for China.

The report by James Reston, the Times Washington correspondent, said Lie had circulated a private memorandum to the governments of the United States, Russia, Britain, France and several other member nations outlining a tentative basis for a compromise. Lie was also said to have discussed with U. S. officials the possibility of calling together the foreign secretaries of all states in the Security Council for a special meeting to thrash out "a number of questions dividing East and West."

The United States has not recognized the Chinese communist regime but five other members of the Security Council—Britain, Russia, India, Yugoslavia and Norway—have extended recognition.

Smelt Run Begins
Portland, March 9 (AP)—The smelt run was reported today to be moving up the Columbia river toward the tributary streams of the Cowlitz, Lewis, and Sandy rivers.

The U. S. Geological survey estimates its mapping operations cost about 25 cents per acre.

Albany Hosts UO Educators

Albany—Headed by President H. K. Newburn, a representative group of some of the outstanding members of the University of Oregon faculty were here Thursday to attend a banquet at the Cascade room at the Albany hotel. Alumni and friends of the University were present from Corvallis, Lebanon and Albany.

Also appearing on the program with President Newburn, Ralph R. Conise, Albany, announced were Dr. James Gilbert, retired dean of the College of Liberal Arts; Dean Theodore Kratt of the school of music; Prof. E. B. Ebbinghouse, physics instructor, and James K. Aiken, head football coach.

Capital Journal, Salem, Ore., Thursday, March 9, 1950—

Dr. Gilbert also addressed the Kiwanis club of Albany Thursday, and Dean Kratt appeared at a high school assembly, when he gave his short course in Music Appreciation.

Coach Aiken told alumni something about his future football prospects in his talk entitled "We've Got a New Crystal Ball." Accompanying the faculty on the Albany "educational tour" was Lester Anderson, director of the U. of O. Alumni association, Cronise stated.
