Tournament Information

The Eugene Active club, cooperating with the University of Oregon in staging of the high school basketball tournament has compiled information which may be of interest to those who expect to sit on the sidelines. Hotel space isn't too plentiful and motels are rapidly being filled. However, the housing committee of the Active club has prepared a list of private home where sleeping room accommodations may be secured. The committee has recommended a rate of one dollar per student for private home rooms. No food will be served by the landlords. Headquarters of the Active club have been established at the Eugene hotel where all tournament information will be available While no data concerning the availability of tickets has been forthcoming, we presume those spectators who plan to attend should make their reservations as soon as possible.

Who or What Gets the Credit?

Tex Salkeld, rotund matchmaker for the Veterans of Foreign Wars fistic cards, occupying his favorite seat just in-side the entrance, waived his hand as he said "Eddle Kahut is responsible." Tex had reference to the increased attendfor Wednesday night's listicuffing which was evident the moment one stepped inside. "I've been sitting from the moment one stepped inside, "I've been sitting here and watching the spectators come in and at least 40 percent of them are Kahut backers," continued the matchmaker. Personally we do not believe inhabitants of Wood-burn or its immediate territory look any different than other residents of Marion county, but unquestionably Tex had a point. Others interested in bringing about a revival of the boxing game insisted that it was the lower admission charge that was responsible for the influx of fans. Perhaps the combination of Kahut and less outlay of cash should

"But should he decide to make the plunge, I will do everything in my power to make his career a success," comented Joe.

Official Gun Book

How many models of rifles, shotguns and handguns are currently being produced by American sporting arms manufacturers? One hundred and fifty-four according to the "Official Gun Book" authored by Charles R. Jacobs, just off the press. Rifles lead the parade. There are 70 rifles of which 17 are high power models and 52 small bore 22's. The majority of them are bolt actions. Ten are large bores and 38 are 22's. Semi-automatics come next, followed by lever and pump actions. There are 51 shotguns in produc-tion with the slide action variety the leader-17 models. Doubles, singles, bolt actions, self-loaders, and over-unders follow in that order. In the handgun field, there are 19 revolvers and 14 pistols on the market. The 178 large revolvers and 14 pistols on the market. The 178 large sized page volume is crammed with all the latest information concerning ammunition, reloading, rifles, shotguns, hand-guns and shooting. The edition is the work of Crown Publishers, 419 Fourth Avenue, New York City.

Knee Bothers Cub

That bad knee that bothered Cub Houck during his first year That bad knee that bothered Cub Houck during his first year at Oregon State apparently hasn't been cured. An item in a publicity release from the Beaver institution concerning baseball prospects states that Houck, "first string receiver for the Hooks last year and rated a good prospect, may be lost to the squad for this season because of a contemplated knee operation during spring vacation." Cub is an outstanding candidate for Coach Kip Taylor's 1950 football squad and a knee operation is probably being undertaken to get him in shape for that sport out to make a runaway of the rooters' memories.
