Salem School Board Gets Bouquets Instead of Kicks

The Salem school board members didn't have to dodge any brickbats during their meeting Tuesday night. Instead, they were the recipients of a bouquet or two.

They heard their school bus transportation system held up as a model for the state by A. H. Wright, director of transportation for the state department of education. At the same time a letter was read from W. H. Baillie, secretary of the Salem Knife and Fork club, praising the manner in which Leslie junior high's auditorium was prepared and maintained during the appearance of Henry Scott, pianist.

"The Salem public schools keep the most minute, accurate and detailed records of their transportation system that I know of," wrote Wright. "The Salem school buses are probably maintained better than any district in the state and they are certainly operated more economically. . . If I were to choose a model school transportation setup in the state I would have to pick that of the Salem school district."

The board adopted Superintendent Frank Bennett's recommendations concerning teacher tenure, recognized several resignations and instructed the clerk to write letters af appreciation to Lillian McKay and Florence A. Whelan who will have reached the retirement age at the close of the present school year. Mrs. McKay is a teacher at Hayesville and Mrs. Whelan is a Liberty instructor.

The 4-H club organization was granted use of the third floor of the old Washington building for a spring show and the Evangelistic Temple was authorized to use the high school auditorium May 21 and 28 when a nine year old girl evangelist will be featured.

Resignations were accepted from Jean Spaulding, Phyllis Goakey, Shirley Sue Noerz, Wilma Hammond, Clarice Akerson, Evelyn A. Smith and Marilyn Wickert.

Barbara Egelston, Thelma Lindstrom, Grace Stenback, Madalene Suko and Fay More were hired on an assigned substitute basis.

The board authorized the purchase of a tractor and certain pieces of equipment for use on school grounds. The equipment will be added to from time to time.

The board is expected to take advantage of an offer of the Federal Works Agency to finance the drawing of plans for contemplated school buildings. In case the schools are constructed the agency will be reimbursed.

A bill for $1800 for the annual audit of the district's books was ordered paid.
