

Students Donate Blood—It was "Willamette university day" when the mobile unit from the Portland regional blood center made its monthly stop here, Tuesday. Of the 135 pints of blood received, 83 were donated by Willamette students who were official sponsors for the unit for the day.

Police Get Prowler But Send Him on Way

Police caught a prowler Tuesday night, but they sent him on his way after hearing his story. The subject was caught in his own woodshed on a tip given police by a neighbor. The man's explanation for being in the woodshed was that he was hiding from his wife and didn't want to be seen for fear of getting a beating from his wife's friend.

Potato water was once regarded as medicinal lotion in Ireland.

135 Pints Record at Mobile Blood Center

A total of 135 pints of blood was received when the Portland regional blood center mobile unit stopped at Salem Tuesday afternoon—the best day yet for Salem in the year the unit has been coming here.

More blood was received when the unit stopped at the state penitentiary, but that was not a regular Marion county visit.

Of the 135 pints donated, 83 were from Willamette university students. The Willamette students were sponsors of the visitation this time.

So badly depleted were supplies of blood in the regional center that as soon as the first 50 pints were received here they were rushed to Portland for processing to be available upon call within the area served by the center, the remainder of the blood being taken to Portland when the unit ceased operations at 5 p.m.

The Willamette student committee working to sign up donors on the campus included George Adams, Stephen Nicks, William Moore, James Jackson, Eugene Walters, Miles Edwards and Jack Falkenhagen.

Next visitation to Salem for the unit will be April 11. Hours for the monthly stop have been changed, and on that date the unit will be in operation between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m., at the First Methodist church as usual.
