Boots and Spurs

The western horse show of the Saddle club and Oregon Mounted Posse, will be April 15 and 16, one show Saturday afternoon, one again in the evening, and the last show Sunday afternoon. Anyone belonging to a regular club is invited to enter and attend and sometime this week entry blanks will be mailed to the secretaries of all clubs in the state.

The Salem Saddle club will host Friday night to a group of riders from Toppenish and Yakima, Wash. The riders are quite famous for the numerous events they win in horse shows under the sponsorship of the Toppenish Outlaws.

Most renowned of this group is Dottie Thomas, who is recognized as world champion ladies stake bender—a very popular event in Washington shows wherein the rider has to ride his horse at a fast clip winding through numerous stakes.

The regular fun night event will start early at 7:30 p.m., and will be over at 8:30 p.m. Then the arena will be cleared and a program of matched events will take place. This affair is open to the public at no charge at the horse stadium at the State Fair grounds.

Some of the events will include a bareback relay race between the Toppenish Outlaws and a team of men from the Salem Saddle club. A team stake bending contest of four to a team with teams entered from the Toppenish Outlaws, the Salem Saddle club men, Salem Saddle club girls and a team from the Jefferson Saddle club.

There will be a matched calf roping contest between Alex Camrille of Salem and Cal Courtright of Yakima, each rider roping two calves. Probably of most interest will be an exhibition of cow cutting by four local horses that have been in training for this fast coming popular event for the past few months. Horses exhibiting will be ridden by Wayne Edwards of Sweet Home; Van Wierder of Salem; Steve Stephenson of Lebanon; Thomas Allen and Grant Farris of Salem.

A special feature will be a matched stake bending race between the girl champion of Yakima and Ray Garlick of Jefferson. Garlick will have the length of the arena start and as he has won many events of this type the champion girl will have to really hurry to catch up with him. The Yakima group of seven riders will remain over the week-end and will be house guests of the Tom Allens. They will participate in the cow cutting and calf roping Saturday and Sunday and return home Sunday night. A party will be given them Saturday night by members of the Salem Saddle club and their wives.

The fun night and following show will be put on by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Allen, assisted by Ralph Stangeby, Bus Youngquist and Jack Lindeman, with various other members assisting with details.

Ray Adams of Independence will bring in a couple of bucking horses that will be ridden by local cowboys for added thrills, and a fast moving evening of interesting events is expected.

Last Friday's fun night was a complete success for both the sponsors and the members who rode in the various events. Unfortunately Tony Minden was confined at home with a cold but Bert Karr and his wife with the assistance of the members of the cowboy band from Jordan Valley gave both the riders and spectators a grand time.

Monday night, the monthly meeting of the Saddle club was held with president Al Inglis presiding. The following applications were voted in as members—Sharon Bates, Christine Slopner, Judy Wolf, Peggy Riehl and Steven Taylor of Dayton. An invitation was received from the St. Paul Rodeo association for the club to participate in a trail ride on June 4. The Dayton Saddle club also sent an invitation to their dance on March 25 at Bellview hall, west of Dayton.

This coming Sunday another meeting of the Oregon Rodeo
