

Boots and Spurs

By GRAHAM SHARKEY

Where all the people come from who attend the Sisters rodeo still a mystery. Of course, there is always the group from St. Paul, with their queen and her court, the Molalla bunch, the gang from Sweet Home and Lebanon and then the big crowd from Salem. Contesting in the events were Bud Spencer, Jack Halter, Earl Holland, Bob Graham, Don Hantz, Keith Adams, Travis Barnard, Homer Sims, Duane Pulp, Alex Cammerillo, Ray Bilyeu, Lou Gallagher and Jim Pyeatt who all now, or in the past, have held memberships in the Salem Saddle club. Bud Spencer gave one of the best exhibitions of all. His ride on the bareback horse Firewagon was just as good as the ride he made the week before at Sheridan. We hope the judge liked can't work as well as the crowd did.

The Saddle club members who were in the grandstand included Van and Margaret Wieder, Holmquist, Ellen, Phillip and Clarke Jackson, Bill Fuller, Jeff Beal, Fred and Blanche Anunson and Tommy and Pat Livesley. This his rodeo is one of the best conducted shows of the whole season.

In a floral ovation in the colors of the Neighbors of Woodcraft insignia, a formal ceremony was observed in memory of Pearl Blackerby who passed away during the year at his Salem home. He had served as a NOW member of Marion circle for many years.
