Miss Weston Wed Sunday To Mr. Lea

Prof. T. S. Roberts' studio was the scene of the wedding of Miss Dorothea Jean Weston and James Lea, Sunday, July 9, at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Brooks Moore officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mrs. Regina Weston, was given in marriage by her uncle, O. L. Brubaker. Her gown was of heavy white slipper satin, fashioned with log-o-mutton sleeves, fitted bodice and net yolk trimmed with lace. Wide lace edged the dress and train. A fingertip veil cascaded from a lace tiara trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. For "something borrowed" the bride wore a double strand of pearls with matching tear-drop earrings belonging to her aunt, Mrs. Elmer Westley. The bride carried a white Bible topped with an orchid.

Mrs. Malcolm Ramp of Brooks sang, accompanied by Prof. T. S. Roberts. The room was decorated with white tapers, pink and white gladioluses, pink and white chrysanthemums, carnations and sweet peas. Lighting tapers were Mrs. Fred Lea who wore a salmon taffeta gown with fitted bodice and gathered skirt.

Miss Mary Ann Murry, in a gown of ice blue taffeta with an over-skirt of blue net and matching net veil held in place by a tiara of sweet peas, was bridesmaid. She carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations and sweet peas.

Flower girls were Donna Rae Weston, niece of the bride, and Sally Mae Taylor. Their frocks were of taffeta with high roll down collars, fitted bodices and gathered skirts with wide smashes. One was of daffodil yellow while the other was of ice green. Each had matching ribbons in her hair and carried a nosegay of pink and white sweet peas and carnations.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lea of Brooks, was attended by his best man, Richard Raaf. Groomsman was Charles Beckner, while ushers were Fred Lea, brother of the bridegroom, and Joe Kahut.

A reception followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with an egg shell lace table cloth, caught up at both sides and in the center by little white hearts with pink satin bows and Cecil Brunner roses. White tapers wound with pink satin ribbons lighted the table. Cutting the cake was Mrs. Wayne L. Weston, assisted by Mrs. Monty Wagner. Mrs. Paul Ziellinski poured the punch while Mrs. Ennis Butler passed the guest book. Mrs. Keller Wagner was in charge of the gifts and was assisted by Mrs. Albert Wyatt. Miss Beatrice Wattenberger passed the dream cakes.
