

Dam, Sire Shield Colt from Cougar

Albany—A cougar, apparently the loser in a fight with the dam and sire of a palomino colt in the Parrish Gap area of Marion county, was hunted today.

Mrs. Dale Harnisch, owner of the horses, said she found the colt and its mother badly slashed and bleeding profusely yesterday when she went to inspect a herd she pastures in the well-populated area.

A stallion, sire of the colt, was seriously scratched.

Harnisch and Dale Priest, assistant Linn county agent, tried to pick up the trail with a hound, but were unsuccessful. They said however, they found evidence of a cougar, and thought it still in the area. There were indications it was an old one or had been injured, they said.

Cougars had been reported seen in the area previously. The fact that they seldom leave without killing a victim led to the theory that the dam and sire had protected the colt.

The colt and mother were treated by a veterinarian.

Baptist Youth To Make Report

Sixteen young people of the First Baptist church will share in the Sunday evening service which will be designated as "Camp Night." Misses Joyce Spillman, Virginia Burris, Virginia McCullen, Carol Kampters, Jean Turnbull, Phyllis Johnston, Beverly Salishury, Arlene Dutoit, Messrs. Kenneth Lottis, John Jelden, John Periman, Ronald Swanson, Dave Heinz, Bill Gwin, Larry Delk, and Alec Howard will give brief reports on the different phases of camp life.

The young people have just returned from the Conservative Baptist Youth Camp at Cannon Beach, where 200 Baptist young people from over the state of Oregon gathered for their annual retreat.

Pastor Lloyd T. Anderson will bring the evening's message entitled, "Is This the Prophetic Hour of God?" Jim Vaus will be the guest speaker at the regular Wednesday night service at 7:30 July 26. Vaus is a former "wire-tapper" for a gangster mob and was converted at the Billy Graham meetings in Los Angeles.

Dr. Lloyd Anderson will leave Sunday night for Seattle, Washington and will spend the next week at the Beulah Park Bible Conference as the Camp speaker.

Year 'Round Plan Garden Group Aim

Kelzer—Main business transacted at the July meeting of the Kelzer Garden club held this week in the fire hall was a discussion of an organized plan to be carried out through the year.

Three new members were added to the planning committee to aid chairman John L. Oudeans in preparing a large-scale program. The new committee members are Virgil R. Ballantyne, Mrs. David Friesen and Mrs. Archie Claggett.

Donald Fleming was initiated into the club.

A very attentive and interested group listened to and watched guest speaker D. Ray Brown of the Salem Men's Garden club as he demonstrated corsage making. Afterward several members tried their hand at the tricky procedure under his direction.

Refreshments were served after the lecture by committee-women Mrs. A. W. Beardsley and Mrs. J. M. Six.

$18-a-Week Scrub Woman Finds $40,000

Syracuse, N. Y., July 21 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Sakowski, an $18-a-week cleaning woman, called the First Trust and Deposit Co. yesterday and asked officers to come get their $40,000.

Mrs. Sakowski explained that she found the money on the bank floor while sweeping Wednesday night and took it home for safe keeping.

New at the job, Mrs. Sakowski said she was scared and did not know what to do with such a sum of money when she found it. "So when I finished work, I simply put it in a paper bag with my shoes and took it home with me."

"I was sure glad to get rid of the money," Mrs. Sakowski said when a bank officer came to her

Second Cover Spray For Apples, Pears

Apple and pear growers in the Willamette valley are being advised by Entomologist B. G. Thompson of Oregon State college to apply their second cover spray for codling moth control by July 25.

Three pounds lead arsenate in 100 gallons of water is the recommended spray for the average orchard. In orchards where codling moth is not a serious problem, two pounds lead arsenate to 100 gallons of water may be used.

Three pounds calcium arsenate in 100 gallons of water is only slightly less effective than the lead arsenate spray.

For growers following a DDT spray program, Thompson suggests the second application be made by July 25. The spray should contain two pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT to 100 gallons of water.

home to get it. "I couldn't sleep all night."

The money was in four bundles of $10 and $20 bills.

A bank spokesman said Mrs. Sakowski would get a reward, but that the amount had not been determined.

Public School Study Group Conference at Monmouth

Oregon College of Education, Monmouth — More than forty leaders in Oregon education and school administration circles will serve as discussion leaders at the Oregon College Conference on Community and School Relations to meet here Wednesday, July 26th.

Questions which are really hot issues in various Oregon communities will be under intensive study. Emphasis on the "three R's," classroom discipline, use of out-of-school time, ability grouping of students, the school lunch program, how citizens can best participate in planning work of the school, and evaluation of teaching and teachers all will be assigned to groups of educators, administrators and parents for consideration of the factors involved and report to the conference later in the day.

Dr. Louis I. Kaplan, head of the department of education at OCE, will be the main speaker in the opening session of the conference at 9 a.m. Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead, president of the Oregon Congress of Parents and Teachers, will preside.

Dr. Roben Maaske, president of OCE, will welcome the delegates and guests.

After an orientation session, the conference will divide into question groups for exploratory study of the problem assigned each group. Following luncheon at noon, the question groups will become discussion groups to consider the interplay of the factors involved on each question, and to formulate a group report for inclusion in the conference report.

Dr. Wendell Van Doan, superintendent of the Corvallis schools, will be the summary speaker at the closing general session. Dr. Van Doan will report on the work of the conference and its implications for Oregon schools and communities. A printed report on the work of the question and discussion groups and on the conference as a whole will be made available to interested persons.

Among those who will serve as group leaders for the conference are: From the P-T-A: Mrs. Helmer Lindstrom, Astoria; Mrs. C. A. Fratzke, Independence; Mrs. H. H. Hargreaves, Mrs. Wilbur J. Falloon, Mrs. Arthur N. Green, Mrs. Raymond F. Graap, Mrs. C. D. Cummins, Mrs. Lawrence Frey, Mrs. Earl E. Petersen, Mrs. E. P. Copley, Mrs. Harry H. George, Mrs. William Kletzer and E. Dean Anderson, all of Portland; Mrs. Paul Patterson, Hillsboro, and R. E. Lieuallen, Oregon College of Education, Monmouth.

Representing the Oregon Education association are: Dr. George Ebeby, Portland; Frank Bennett, Salem; James King, Lebanon; Wendell Van Loan, Corvallis; Marion Winslow, Grants Pass; Loy Marshall, Forest Grove; Luther King, Oregon City; Frank Doerfler, Woodburn; Ralph Jones, Hood River; Mrs. Lucille Klinge, Eugene; Dale Ickes, Milwaukie; and Fred Patton, LaGrande, all school superintendents.
