Miss Lewis and Mr. McElroy Wed Here Sunday Afternoon At Church; Reception Given

Decorated with peach and white gladioluses and candlelight, the First Congregational church was the setting for a pretty wedding Sunday afternoon when Miss Virginia Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper D. Lewis, was married to William B. McElroy, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. McElroy, Jr. of Everett, Wash.

Dr. Seth R. Huntington officiated at the 3 o'clock service. For the music, Terry Murray sang and Jean Hobson Rich played the organ.

The brunette bride wore a wedding gown of white marquisette over satin. The dress was fashioned with a yoke of nylon sheer that was set off with a lace inset around which was a ruffle of the marquisette. The sleeves were long and pointed over the hands, the bodice in fitted style and the very full skirt had insets of the lace. A ruffle encircled the hem of the train. A satin and marquisette cap, enhanced with tiny seed pearls, held in place the double fingertip veil of sheer illusion. For her flowers the bride carried a bouquet of white orchids with stephanotis caught in the satin loops. Mr. Lewis gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Albert Hanson and Miss Phyllis Causton, Grand Coulee, Wash., cousin of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were in light green, fashioned identically to that of the matron of honor. They wore light green linen shoes and white half-bonnets. Lakie, Lou Scrivens of Portland, William Marshall of Arlington and Albert Hanson were the ushers.

Mrs. Lewis wore a navy blue sheer with white accessories for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother wore a grape colored dress with dusty pink accessories. Both wore corsages of baby white orchids. The reception was in the church parlors. Mrs. Clifford Tibbetts, aunt of the bride, cut the cake, assisted by Mrs. Darrall D. Lewis and Mrs. Bruce Cattle, Eugene, cousin of the bridegroom and Mrs. Franklin Ward poured. Mrs. Duane Kottek, Miss Lorene Rossiter, Miss Clara Roth, all assisted at the reception. Miss Barbara Owens was in charge of the gift table. Miss Sonja Docka, Cle Elum, Wash., cousin of the bridegroom, passed the guest book. Decorations for the reception were all white gladioluses.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. William B. McElroy, Jr., Mrs. William B. McElroy, Sr., all of Everett, Wash.; Mrs. Clarence Docka and Miss Sonja Docka of Cle Elum, Wash.; Nels Nelson, Mrs. Fred Potter, Miss Phyllis Causton, all of Grand Coulee, Wash.; Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Cattle and sons of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. George Crofton of Snohomish, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Wally Meyer of Lake Stevens, Wash.

Some Notations . . .

For some families the weddings come in pairs this summer. . . . For Alfred J. Morgan of Eugene, whose son, Gerald Edward Morgan, was married here Saturday evening to Miss Patricia Ann Pearson, daughter of the Harlan B. Pearsons of Salem, it was the second wedding in his family within six weeks. His daughter, Miss Phyllis Morgan, was married July 9 in Eugene to Bruce M. Keller. . . . The newlywed Kellers were both in the wedding party for the Morgan-Pearson ceremony, Saturday. . . . Among the guests at the wedding here Saturday was Mrs. Elmer F. Keller of Eugene, who also has had two weddings in her family this summer. She is the mother of Bruce M. Keller, mentioned above. . . . On Sunday, August 13, her daughter, Miss Mary Eleanor Keller, was married to James Berwick of Umatilla, the ceremony being solemnized on the lawn at the Keller home adjoining the McKenzie river near Vida. . . .

Adding a bit of sentiment for the Morgan-Pearson wedding, a group of the bride's sorority sisters in Alpha Chi Omega sang the Alpha Chi sweetheart song during the reception, the group lining up in front of the receiving line to serenade the bridal couple. . . .

Visitor in the capital Saturday was State Senator Marie Wilcox of Grants Pass, here to attend an interim committee meeting. . . . The summer heat through the valley is nothing compared to the "heat" due when the legislature opens in January, thinks the only woman state senator who looks for a very heated and prolonged session if all is to be settled that is supposed to be settled. . . . From here, Senator Wilcox was to go to Portland to attend a wedding—it seems there are just as many weddings elsewhere this summer as in Salem. . . .

Down the center aisle were bouquets of the peach glads and fern tied with white ribbon at every other pew, and in the windows were low arrangements of the gladioluses and lighted candles. The colored clouds at that hour reflecting through the windows gave added hues for the setting.

The couple exchanged their vows at 8:30 o'clock, the Rev. E. H. Gebert of Longview, Wash., a long-time friend of the family, officiating, assisted by the Rev. John Goodenberger of the local church.

Mr. Pearson escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bridal gown was an exquisite model in white marquisette designed with a wide berth of lace around an illusion yoke, the lace also forming a deep peplum extending in back to form a bustle. The fingertip veil was gathered into a crown decorated with pearls. For "something old," the bride carried a handkerchief that had belonged to Mrs. Flora Thomas, mother of Mrs. E. J. Scellars.
