

Miss Cook, Mr. Gottfried Wed in Sunday Service

In a candlelight ceremony at the First Congregational church Sunday evening, Miss Marilyn Alice Cook of Salem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Cook of Tigard, was married to George Marshall Gottfried, son of Mrs. Mary Gottfried of Salem and Jacob S. Gottfried of Marylhurst. Dr. Daniel Schulze officiated at the 7 o'clock rites.

The center aisle of the church was decorated with candles and ribbons draped between pews. Gladioluses were used at the altar. Lighting the candles were Charles Robinson of Gresham and Douglas Carter of Salem.

Richard F. Smart, uncle of the bride, sang, accompanied by William Fawk, who also played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown fashioned with boat-shaped neckline with bertha, beads on the bertha and front of the skirt and cap sleeves. She wore three-quarter length mitts and a fingertip length nylon veil secured by a Juliet cap of satin cord. The bride carried a fan-shaped bouquet of red roses.

Honor attendant was Mrs. John Elfring, cousin of the bride from Portland, who wore a gold satin gown made similarly to that of the bride. It was trimmed with Japanese beadwork. Mrs. Elfring carried a bouquet of flowers in the shape of a candleholder with a lighted candle in the center.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert E. Robins of Salem and Mrs. Robert Millikan of Beaverton, cousin of the bride, who wore mist green dresses like that of the maid of honor. All the attendants wore mitts, Juliet caps of matching material and carried bouquets similar to the honor attendant's.

Best man was Leo A. Gottfried, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Charles Robinson, Arthur Gottfried, brother of the bridegroom, and Douglas Carter.

The bride's mother wore a lavender crepe dress and the bridegroom's mother, a powder blue crepe dress. Each had a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

At the reception in the church parlors following the wedding, Mrs. Leonard Gottfried and Mrs. J. P. Gottfried, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, cut the cake. Miss Constance Smart, aunt of the bride and Mrs. David Branson, poured coffee and punch.

The bride chose a beige crepe afternoon dress with brown gloves, hat and purse for traveling. With the ensemble, she wore a corsage of red roses from her bridal bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Los Angeles, the couple will make their home in Weston. Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried are graduates of Willamette university where Mr. Gottfried is affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity.

Miss Peterson Wed At Home Ceremony

Albany—On Saturday evening, August 12, Miss Lois May Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peterson of Albany, was married to Robert Lee Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon M. Grant of Albany. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. George H. Huber, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white tailored suit, with a French coral shaded blouse and white linen accessories. She carried an orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Charles Beek, sister of the bridegroom wearing a gray tailored suit, was the bride's only attendant. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids and sweet peas.

Dales S. Peterson, brother of the bride, was best man.

Lighting the tapers was Miss Marie Grant, sister of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother played the wedding music and was the accompanist for Mrs. Charles Beek who sang "Because," preceding the ceremony.

The immediate families of the bridal couple witnessed the affair and attended the informal reception which followed.

The bride was graduated from Albany high school and attended Oregon State college. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Grant, formerly of Iowa, also attended Oregon State college and is presently attending the Merritt-Davis School of Commerce in Salem. They will make their home at

The garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Evans, 3155 D street, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Maxine Evans and D. C. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Robinson of Jefferson, Saturday afternoon, August 12. The Rev. Mr. Goodrich officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Soloist was Miss Evelyn Kent and organist, Miss Lola Koerner.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown fashioned with round neckline, net yoke, long sleeves pointed at the wrists and hooped skirt. A fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place by a crown cap trimmed in seed pearls. The bride carried a nosegay bouquet. For "something old" she wore her mother's baby heart-shaped locket.

Honor attendant was Mrs. Stanley Robinson, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, who wore an orchid gown. Mrs. Charles Shaffer, sister of the bride, and Miss Dorothy Doran, were bridesmaids, wearing yellow and aqua frocks. All the attendants wore shoulder length veils of colors matching their dresses and carried nosegays.

Flower girl was Charlene Shaffer, niece of the bride, who wore a full pink organdy frock and miniature fingertip length veil. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Standing with the bridegroom were his brother, Stanley Robinson, as best man, Charles Shaffer, brother-in-law of the bride, and Charles Evans, brother of the bride. Ushers were Otis Bradbury, Max Graves, and Frankie Pummel of Portland.

The bride's mother wore a full pleated rose colored gown and the bridegroom's mother wore a black gown. Each had a corsage of roses.

About 90 persons attended the wedding and the reception in the garden following the ceremony. Cutting the cake was Mrs. Pauline Lewis, aunt of the bride, and pouring were Mrs. Elwood Meyers and Mrs. Orabelle Evans, grandmother of the bride. At the guest book were Miss JoAnn Evans, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Stanley Robinson.

For going away the bride chose a sky blue suit with white accessories and a red roses corsage. After a wedding trip to the Oregon coast the couple will be at home in Albany.

A surprise shower was given the bride preceding her marriage by her mother, Mrs. Ernest Evans, and her sister, Mrs. Charles Shaffer.
