Miss Rempel Bride At Recent Service

Smithfield—The chancel of the Grace Mennonite church in Dallas was the scene of an afternoon wedding when Miss Imogene Ruth Rempel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Rempel of Smithfield, was wed to William Ernest Domes, son of Mrs. Jane E. Domes of McCoy, in the presence of about 300 relatives and friends.

The altar was decked with daffodils and pussywillows in baskets guarded by tall bronze candelabrams holding white tapers. Bronze candlesticks stood at the piano and the organ. Rev. J. J. Reiger officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Miss Marcel Burr sang and Miss Esther Stonebrook presided at the organ. Immediately after recessional march, Larry Diehm, cousin of the bride, played incidental music for about an hour on the piano.

Mrs. John Morris was her sister's only attendant. She was dressed in a pale blue taffeta gown with a yellow ribbon for a sash and carried a colonial nosegay of blue irises and yellow satin bow. Miss Beverly Hurlbert, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss Zora Ann Hiebenthal, cousin of the bride, were the candlelighters. They wore pink gowns with blue ribbon sashes identical to that of the honor attendant.

Keith Shields of Bethel was the best man for Mr. Domes. The ushers were Wayne Domes, brother of the bridegroom, and Vernon Dyck and Abe Schierling, cousins of the bride.

The bride wore a white satin and marquisette wedding gown with long train that was lace-trimmed. The dress had a bertha collar which was also lace-trimmed. Clusters of lilies of the valley were caught up in the skirt. The bride wore a veil of illusion net held in place with a crown of seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white carnations, and silver ribbon and laceron.

Mrs. Rempel, the bride's mother, wore a smoky brown dress bead-trimmed. Mrs. Domes, the bridegroom's mother, wore a royal blue dress, also bead-trimmed. Their corsages were identical, green cymbidium orchids nestled in laceron.

At the reception in the church social rooms, Mrs. Harold Hurlbert cut the wedding cake, which was centered on a lace-covered table guarded by white candles. Mrs. Albin Sundsten served the punch. John Morris and Edward Schellenberg served the ice cream. Mrs. Paul Shields of Amity passed the guest book. The gift bearers were Mrs. Lyle Fleming, Miss Ruth Rosenau, Miss Hilde Boeder, Harold Lee Hurlbert, and Marvin Rempel.

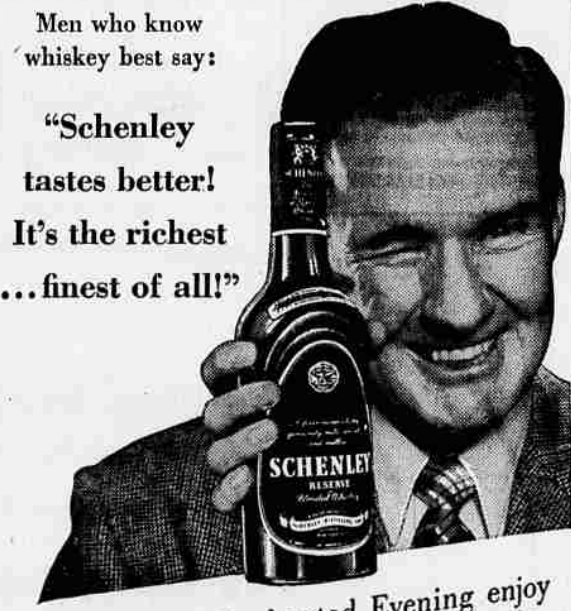

Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Lowell Lambert, Mrs. H. W. Boeder, Mrs. Rudolph Reimer, the Misses Lois Thompson, Laverne Beyerle, Velma and Verda Hiebert, Lenora Balzar, Laurena Quiring, Beverly Lambert, Phylis Neufeld and Zelma Janzen.

For going away, the bride wore a print dress, a red coat, and black hat and accessories, and an orchid corsage.

They will be at home to their friends at McCoy.

Hanging on the front door of the chapter house was a large heart with a red rose fastened to it and the title of the song, "When You Look in the Heart of a Rose" written on it. The ring was fastened to a bouquet of red roses on the dining table. The names of the couple were told when Miss Norma Smedley sang and gave the chapter president a rose with the names "Pat and Gail" in the center. The traditional box of chocolates was passed.
