

Police Officer Shannon Offers Resignation

An officer, admittedly sympathetic to Ice Follies star Jean Paul LeDuce who allegedly was denied the right to post bail on a speeding charge, submitted his resignation Thursday to the chief of police.

The officer was Alton Shannon, who has been with the force for five months. He testified in the speeding case against LeDuce, and at that time said he had discussed the case with superior officers.

His resignation said: "In view of the circumstances and statements made to me by my superior officers since the day of June 18th, 1951, I feel that I can no longer exercise my duties as a loyal officer bearing in mind my oath of office and the interest of the public. I respectfully request that you accept my formal resignation, effective as of this date."

The resignation was dated Wednesday and was submitted Thursday. The incident which concerned the officer followed LeDuce's arrest on June 18. A civil suit by LeDuce named Sergeant Donald Nicholson as the member of the department who allegedly denied the skater the right to post bail on the speeding charge. The civil action is for $30,000. It was considered likely that Shannon would be called as a witness in behalf of LeDuce in the damage action case.

His reference to "statements made by superior officers since the day of June 18th, 1951" (the day of the LeDuce arrest) in his resignation was not explained. Shannon said, however, that Sergeant Nicholson had not discussed the case with him on subsequent tours of duty. His shift captain, Lee Weaver, is on vacation as is Assistant Chief E. C. Charlton.

Chief Clyde A. Warren was unavailable for comment. Shannon said that the resignation was submitted voluntarily and because he felt his views were not consistent with department policy. He said no feeling of personal injustice was involved.

Eccles Quitting Reserve Bank

Washington, June 21 (AP)—Marriner S. Eccles, long-time critic of administration financial policy, resigned today as a governor of the federal reserve system.

The resignation is effective July 14.

There was no hint of his differences with the Truman administration in the letter of resignation, dated today, which was made public by the White House.

In writing Mr. Truman, who demoted him from the chairmanship of the board, Eccles said: "My Dear Mr. President:

"It is now more than 17 years since I came to Washington to engage in a public service that I fully intended and expected would be of comparatively brief duration. A succession of events, including the war period and the special problems of its aftermath let me to stay on. It has been a great honor and privilege to serve my country for so many years, but I now feel the time has arrived when I can and should return to my home and private business affairs in the west."

The incident which concerned the officer followed LeDuce's arrest on June 18. Koerner Takes Office in Austria

Vienna, June 21 (AP)—Austria's 78-year-old socialist president, Dr. Theodor Koerner, was sworn into office today and pledged himself to defend Austria's independence.

Dr. Koerner, goateed former mayor of Vienna, took his oath before a joint session of both houses of parliament. He was elected by popular vote May 27.

The one-time general in the Austro-Hungarian imperial army told the joint assembly:

"Austria's wish to be a respected member in the society of free and freedom-loving nations will be the guide of my actions."

"I do hope the day will soon come when the universal acknowledgement of this sincere wish will remove the last shackles imposed on us and our freedom."

"But if the day ever should come—and may we be spared this fate—when we have to defend our independence and the inner freedom of our republic which was brought to life again six years ago, then I will be at my place."

Not Enough Pilots To Picket UAL Offices

Portland, June 21 (AP)—United Airlines offices here were not picketed today—there weren't enough pilots around to share the load.

W. S. Hughes, captain of the Portland unit of the Pilots' union, added that besides there wasn't much point to it: "Every one knows by now there's a strike on."

Both Western and Northwest Air Lines reported capacity loads and long waiting lists. Neither added extra flights because of lack of equipment and manpower. West Coast reported it was nearly at capacity and planned three extra flights daily to its Oregon and Washington points.

Co-op Hears of Milk Problems

About 50 members of the Dairy Cooperative association, at a quarterly meeting at Mayflower hall Wednesday night, heard a warning from Eugene Keller, co-op official, that some distributors may have to drop out of business this year because of a distribution margin that is thinner than it has been in some years.

"The 3/10 cent reduction in milk price makes a $6000 lower margin per month for operation in the Mayflower plant," he told them. "Besides, dating from May 1, we have to meet a labor cost increase of 15 cents an hour that adds up to $8000 a month to subtract from the margin."

Keller said the co-operative is trying to meet this situation by increasing the work units per man hour and by spurring marketing and sales.

Ray Hobson of A Mity said that although Marion county stands at the top in the state in number of milk cows its milk supply has fallen off 3,000,000 gallons in three years. Hobson is a cooperative director.

The reduction is general all over the state, he said, and the Oregon cow population has decreased 23,000 in the three years.

Oregon dairymen, he declared, have reached the point where they must decide whether they want to stay in business or allow milk to be imported from California and Idaho to sell here at a higher price.

Some of the dairymen said they had recently sold dairy cows for beef, making from 10 to 15 per cent more on them than if they had sold them to dairymen.

Grover Poe talked about methods of improving the quality of milk produced and said 53 per cent of the Dairy Co-op's producers were bringing in milk of less than 20,000 bacteria count, which is considered remarkable.

Presiding at the meeting was Richard Barnes of Silverton, vice president of the Salem unit. S. B. Torvend, president, was absent.

Strawberry shortcake was served after the meeting.

Seabee Unit In 3rd Place

Salem's organized Seabee unit took third place in its class in the 13th Naval District annual Naval Reserve competitive inspections recently completed.

The unit, which officially is the U. S. Naval Reserve Organized Construction Battalion 13-9, had a score of 83.66. It was competing with 15 other organized Seabee companies in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana. Taking first place with a score of 87.21 was Seabee company 13-1 in Seattle and in second place was the Portland company 13-13, whose score was 85.41.

Competitive scoring included military appearance, percentage of personnel regularly attending weekly meetings, utilization of training facilities and instructor personnel and general administrative efficiency.

The Salem unit, which meets Friday night was activated November 15, 1948. Commanding officer from that date until June 10 of this year was Lt. Donald Fisher. Fisher was relieved of his duties on that date to report for active duty with the navy in Seattle June 25. Lt. (j.g.) Russell D. Barry, Lacomb, has now been designated as the commander of the unit.

Excellent Clam Fishing

Astoria, June 21 (AP)—Another day of excellent clam fishing arrived at Oregon beaches today as the morning tide was at a low level. A tide of minus 1.9 feet was slightly higher than the minus two feet recorded yesterday when thousands visited beaches to enjoy clamming at the unusually low tide—the lowest in this area since 1947.

West Breaks-off Big 4 Parleys

Paris, June 21 (AP)—The west today broke off talks among the deputies of the Big Four foreign ministers but left the door open for a possible meeting of their chiefs.

The deputy foreign ministers of the three western governments handed Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko a joint declaration saying the Soviet attitude "shows that continuation of this discussion has no practical utility."

In effect they were saying that since Russia insists on including the North Atlantic treaty in a conference on east west tensions there is no point in continuing the sessions of the deputies here, which began March 5.

Earlier, the United States told Russia her attitude "has in effect brought to a halt" the efforts to write an agenda.

It is estimated that 3,404,000 World War II veterans will still be living at the turn of the next century.

Salem Men Go To Germany

When the 547th ordnance field maintenance company, which has been training at Fort Lewis, left this week for Germany for duty it took a number of Salem men.

The outfit made up mainly of Oregon, Washington and Montana men also has several men from other sections of the Willamette valley in its ranks.

Among the Salem men in the 547th are:

Pfc. Layne Cooper, whose wife resides at 125 Gerth avenue. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Cooper of 910 Churchdale avenue.

Pvt. Dennis R. Berthold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Berthold of 2385 North Fifth street.

Pvt. Roger Lang, whose wife makes her home on Madison street.

Pfc. Ronald Dane Watson, son of Mrs. Frank Rallsback of 2560 North Fifth street.

Pfc. Valfred Mauck.

Pfc. Paul F. Lohse, whose wife resides at 1590 North Capitol street.

The company had been stationed at Fort Lewis for seven months prior to being sent overseas.

Gun Range Soon Ready for Use

Soon to be ready for the education and recreation of members of the Salem police department is a shooting range being built in the airport area near the city pound.

One of the old barracks buildings that was used by the army air force during the war is being used. This particular building was the camp PX.

The range will be of regulation 60 feet in length, with targets both stationary and moving, and with scenery so that a man moving through the brush can be simulated.

By the ingenious use of discarded bicycle wheels at each end of the range the targets may be moved the length of the range for examination and then returned to their places.

At the front of the building will be a lounge for the members.

Klamath Student Killed at Tule Lake

Klamath Falls, June 21 (AP)—A Willamette university student, former athlete at Klamath Union high school, was killed this morning on a bureau of reclamation construction job at the Tule Lake sump in Siskiyou county, Calif.

Bob Petzoldt, 19, was operating a dump truck on the USBR job. He stopped to lift the bed for repairs. While he was working on the rig, the bed fell, crushing him.

Petzoldt was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petzoldt of Klamath Falls. His twin brother, Dick, also was a Willamette student last school term.

Bob Petzoldt, Willamette student, who was killed on a reclamation construction project in Siskiyou county, California, today, was a freshman at Willamette during the last school year, as was his brother Dick.

Bob was a member of the tennis team and won his athletic letter in that activity.

Farmers Utilizing Planes for Service

Farmers own 37.6 per cent of the privately operated airplanes of the state, said Jack Bartlett, of the state board of aeronautics during a talk before the Salem Lions club Thursday noon.

The plane, said Bartlett, will augment but not supplant other methods of transportation. He spoke of the multiplicity of uses to which aircraft is being operated, including the dusting of crops, and the movement of a wide variety of crops and manufactured articles.

At the conclusion of the talk, the motion picture "The Air Age," produced by the state of Idaho department of aeronautics, was shown.
