

No One Has a Good Word for Inflation But Many Like It

By SAM DAWSON

New York, June 21 (AP)—The housewife who hopes for lower prices and the producers and merchants who say they are being hamstrung by controls are squarely at odds again today.

Congress talks of hog-tieing efforts to roll back the prices of beef, clothing and shoes.

It talks of making it easier for dealers to sell autos and household gadgets on time, and of allowing rent increases; in short, of relaxing inflation controls that have aroused bitter opposition of many farmers, manufacturers, merchants and landlords—good voters, all.

No one has a good word for inflation. It sends the cost of living to painful heights, and it eral fold—until the bubble bursts.

Deflation—or a drop in the cost of living and a rise in the value of the dollar—looks mighty tempting to everyone, on paper. But when you try to bring it about through controls and credit, curbs on pay raises, and rollbacks in prices, deflation is about the most unpopular thing around.

It means that farmers and other producers of raw materials get fewer dollars when they sell the fruits of their labor. It means processors of these materials get less for the finished product, and may be caught with the goods on hand and lose a lot of money.

It means that fighting inflation by credit curb leaves auto and household appliance dealers with stock they can't move, and many lower-income people are denied the goods they want because the payment terms have gone out of their reach.

It means that controls bury one and all under an avalanche of paper work and red tape with confusion twice confounded. And always controls breed more controls.

Shaffer Guilty In Knife Row

Albany—A Linn county circuit court jury deliberated but an hour Tuesday before returning a verdict convicting Robert William Shaffer, 35-year-old transient crop worker on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. Shaffer was accused of knifing Marvin Kenneth Juencke during a battle between himself and other waterfront "jungle" habitues May 19.

Juencke and Vir die F. McClendon appeared as witnesses against Shaffer but another material witness, Otto Oscar Isakson, failed to show up and faces possible contempt of court proceedings as a result.

Shaffer is scheduled for sentencing by Judge Victor Olliver, who presided over the trial, Friday at 11:30 a.m.

Editor Flies to Korea with Photos for Sgt.

Tokyo, June 21 (AP)—A newspaper editor travelled 10,000 miles to present Sgt. Joe (Poppa) Finch of Toledo, Ohio, an album of pictures of Mrs. Finch and their newborn son, Paul Michael.

The album was taken to Korea by Michael Bradshaw, editor of the Toledo Blade.

Finch saw a picture of his son and exclaimed:

"He has a nose like mine!"

Finch had sent a money order to the Blade to buy a present for his wife when the child was born.

The Blade in turn sent the sergeant a $50 war bond.

Bradshaw assigned photographers to compile a picture album of mother and son. Then he flew to Korea to present the album.

Petition Asks County For Street Vacation

Vacation of a dedicated street in Garden Home Fruit addition just east of the State Fair grounds is asked in a petition filed by a number of residents of the district presented to the county court Thursday.

The petition explains that the vacation is for the purpose of widening the street in question so that it will more nearly conform to Larson street on the north and Park avenue on the south.

Immediately following the vacation, the petitioners agree to rededicate the street making it 50 feet in width instead of the 40 feet which exists at present.

The proposal must go before the zoning board before final action is taken.

Warm weather warning: Sandwich fillings and salad mixtures spoil quickly unless they're kept refrigerated so store carefully until serving time.
