Chiang's Lobby Complete Flop

Washington, June 21 (AP)—If a lobby exists for the Chinese nationalist government it has been a "complete flop," Rep. Ellsworth (R-Ore) said in his weekly newsletter today.

Ellsworth made his comment in connection with the proposed investigation of the lobby. He said he is not certain there is such a lobby, but if there is one "it surely has been a complete flop in its activities judging from the present pitiful condition of the nationalist government."

The congressman described the proposed investigation as similar to the backfire technique used to fight forest fires. This backfire, he said, is "set for the purpose of slowing down the big blaze of public opinion which is about to consume the administration people."

Statements that the Central News agency, owned by the nationalist government, has spent about $654,000,000 in three years to influence public opinion were called "absurd" by Ellsworth. He said this amount "equals many times the total amount expended by all the news agencies in America which operate on a complete nation-wide basis."

ONE OF THOSE LETTERS

'In Case My Time Comes'
Newark, N. J., June 21 (AP)—You're the wife of a soldier fighting in Korea. As far as you know he's all right. Then you get a letter that starts: "I've asked one of the boys to mail this for me in case my time should come."

It happened yesterday to Mrs. Dorothy Long, 22. But she still is hopeful. The army has sent no official word on her husband, Pfc. Jacob Long, 22.

Worn and creased as if handled over and over again, the letter in the familiar hand was the first word she had that anything had happened to him.

"Just a few lines tonight and I hope I never have to mail this letter, but how would you know how I felt if I didn't," it said.

"You know everyone has to go sooner or later and although I don't want to go yet, the Good Lord has called me, and He is boss."

It closed with endearments to his wife and month-and-a-half-old son, Alfred, he has never seen.

Long's name has not appeared on any casualty lists. There has been no notification from Washington or from his outfit, the 8th cavalry regiment.

Just the crinkled letter written in a familiar hand and a clean envelope address in a stranger's writing.

Korean Peace

One of the many "no comments" came when a newsman sought presidential reaction on a charge by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that Secretary of Defense Marshall was "masterminding," as the reporter put it, a great conspiracy without the president's knowledge. Mr. Truman said he didn't know how that senator could read his mind.

Tells of Plaza's Visit
In a reference to the state visit of President Galo Plaza of Ecuador, Mr. Truman told questioners that inter-American relations in general are better now than ever before in history. He said he hopes to keep them that way.

He described President Plaza as a good man anxious to do the right thing. He said he and the Ecuadorean president would get down to business discussions tomorrow and a communique would be issued when they are ended.

Mr. Truman disclosed that he wore an Ecuadorean straw hat in welcoming President Plaza yesterday—a hat he said is still in good shape although it is three years old.

A visit to the supreme court and instruction in court trial will follow the legislative sessions. The girl governor will be guest of honor at a governor's banquet this evening at Louisiana hall.

Heated campaigns were carried on by the members of the "Federalist" and "Nationalist" parties Wednesday evening. Banners, slogans, songs and other signs were used.

Allied Patrols

For the first time in five days no communist warplanes were aloft.

In the first four days this week the Reds roared across the Yalu river from Manchuria into flaming battles in the North Korean skies.

3 Allied Planes Lost
Far East air forces (FEAF) announced three allied planes were lost in these fights. An American Sabre jet and a Mustang fighter were shot down. Another Sabre jet was missing.

FEAF revised Red losses downward. The corrected total listed 24 communist aircraft destroyed or damaged, instead of 28. Nine were listed as shot down (six MIG-15 jets, two Stormovik tank bombers and a Yak fighter), one probably destroyed and 14 damaged. The damaged craft were mostly swift Russian-made MIG-15s.

Bad weather cut UN air activity to 486 sorties Wednesday, including 150 night attacks.

Allied predictions of a limited objective Chinese offensive before Monday were reported by AP Correspondent Jim Becker.

Aid Portland Police—Salem detectives aided Portland police in recovering property and guns belonging to Robert L. Ripple, held for assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon. The property was contained in suitcases released to Salem residents by Ripple.

11 Medals of Honor Awarded to Dead Heroes

Washington, June 21 (AP)—General Omar Bradley said today that in Korea "the free nations gained at least one precious year for whatever may come."

He told the kinfolk of 11 gallant men of the army to whom he gave the Medal of Honor, the nation's paramount military decoration, that these men made an "eminent contribution" to attaining that period of grace.

Ten of the men—infantrymen, engineers, a medic, men and officers—are dead and one is missing in action. Of 23 medals of honor awarded to army soldiers who fought in Korea, only three have been alive and present to receive them.

The valor of these 11, above and beyond the call of duty, was demonstrated on what Bradley said was "that grim battleground" of Korea. He said their deeds had "placed their names on the roll of courageous, patriotic Americans whose exploits will never be forgotten."

For their deaths and for their daring the five-star general of the army offered "the deep sympathy and profound gratitude of our nation."

The army awards have gone to both soldiers and officers of four branches of the service—18 to infantrymen, two to engineers, two to members of armored outfits and one to a hero of the army medical service.

Among the recipients were Sgt. 1/C Loren R. Kaufman, Ninth regiment, Second infantry division; his father, D. A. Kaufman, 529 Southeast Grand avenue, Portland, Ore.

McKay to Heed

In addition the legislature drafted and passed a constitutional amendment providing for an emergency board with the powers that the old board was thought to have had, an amendment that will be passed upon by the voters at the general election in November, 1952.

Under the law setting up the advisory board, the legislature followed the same plan of organization as was prescribed for the old board.

Members of Board
Membership on the new board includes Paul E. Patterson, president of the senate; John F. Steelhammer, speaker of the house; Sen. Howard Belton and Rep. Henry Semon, joint chairmen of the ways and means committee together with Sen. Dean Walker, appointed by Patterson and Reps. Earl Hill and Rudie Wilhelm, appointed by Steelhammer.

The law governing disposition of the state emergency board, requires that before the governor can make any allocations from the fund, the state departments requesting additional funds must submit written justification of the request and the director of finance must also make a report and recommendations.

This data must then be presented to the emergency board for its consideration after which the board makes its recommendations to the governor who has the final determination as to whether the request shall be granted or denied.

The new board has not yet met to organize but Governor McKay intimated that he would soon request a meeting of the emergency board.

Billfold Stolen—Eugene Lowe, 1530 South Church street, reported to Salem police that a bill fold containing $44 had been removed from his trousers while his clothing was hanging at a store where he is employed on Broadway.
