Nut Growers Buy Property, Increase Handling Facility

Promise of faster and more efficient movement of the nut crop of Oregon and Washington to market has been assured through the purchase by the Northwest Nut Growers association of the Beall Pipe & Tank company property, North Columbia boulevard and Interstate avenue, Portland.

The site includes approximately 20 acres of land improved with two permanent buildings, Frank B. Harlow, of Eugene, president of the board of directors of the northwest group states.

"This property will enable us to increase the efficiency of handling and shipping operations and, most important, it will make it possible for us to increase the speed with which we are able to get our members' nut crops to the eastern market—a factor that can mean a very definite financial advantage to the individual grower member of the nut growers," asserts Harlow. "This new location will take the place of several temporary locations used during the past several years on a lease basis."

Purchase of this property culminates four years of planning and research by the nut growers organization to secure a favorable location for the warehousing and shipping operations. The location was chosen because it offers many advantages for the handling of the northwest nut crops, which is distributed nationally under the Blue Pirate label, Harlow states. The two permanent buildings, one 100 by 300 feet and the other 50 by 200 feet, are well situated and readily adaptable for use in handling the filbert and walnut crops. There is OWR&N trackage to the property and it is within the reciprocal switching area.

Auburn Girl Wins Blue Ribbon with Champion Goat

East Salem—Two Auburn girls who are active 4-H club members, each having three 4-H projects which they keep up, are Rosemary and Maribel Starr.

This week Rosemary is displaying a new blue ribbon, the first prize for pure bred Alpine doe kid, Fleur de lys, awarded her in age classification at the Oregon Dairy Goat Breeders association kid show at Holiday park in Portland, Sunday, July 15. She also received a purple ribbon for the best of breed.

Another first place blue ribbon winner, but of a different breed, was "Nuchies Russell's Ladd," a pure bred Tongenbuck buck owned by Russell Durkee. He also received a purple ribbon for the best of breed. All kids at the show were born after December, 1950.

Ex-Crown Prince Rites Thursday

Hechingen, Germany, July 21 (AP)—Former Crown Prince Wilhelm, who died at his villa here early yesterday, will be buried Thursday in the Hohenzollern family cemetery near his castle. The funeral date was set by his son, Louis Ferdinand, who came here from Bremen.

Royalty from Germany and other European countries are expected to attend the Protestant services.

A daughter, former Princess Cecilie, is en route to Germany from the United States, where she is the wife of an Amarillo, Texas, interior decorator.

The 89-year-old crown prince, once the heir apparent of the German empire, was a son of Kaiser Wilhelm II and a great-grandson of England's Queen Victoria.

Among the 200 or 300 telegrams and cables of condolence were one from King George of England and West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer.

Hop Growers Crop Sales Set

Paul T. Rowell of Salem, managing agent for the hop control board, reported from Yakima on Friday night that the U. S. hop control board has approved the sale of 235,500 bales of the 1951 hop crop.

The total yield for the season is estimated at above 300,000 bales.

The quantity authorized for the market is under the 250,000 bales of last year, Rowell explained, because brewers are using a lesser quantity of hops.

By the Friday decision growers can sell an average of only 77 1/2 per cent of their crops.

Special Blood Day Planned

More blood for the armed forces—that is the goal of members of civilian components of the Armed Forces in the Salem area.

Arrangements have been made with these groups for a special blood day Monday, July 23, with the place the Army Reserve armory on the Airport road and the time 6 to 10 p. m.

Those working on the special blood day, however, have emphasized that they would like to have the cooperation of civilians in the program, along with members of the reserves of all branches of the armed forces and the National Guard. All of the blood received at this time goes directly to the Armed Forces.

Largest group expected to appear to donate is the National Guard, which has arranged to transport its men at three different times, 7:30 p. m., 8 p. m.

and 9 p. m. The first two groups will be from Salem units, the last from Woodburn.

Naval Reserves estimate that they will have 25 or more men and also participating are the men from the Salem Naval Air Facility. Neither the Army Reserves nor the Air Force Reserves have a completed estimate yet of the number of their members who would participate in the program, but both are busy contacting their men.

Luke Easter, first baseman for the Cleveland Indians, has been injured three times this spring.
