Expert Tells the Boys Just How to Carve That Turkey

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—If I may take a lifetime, but I am devoting same to teaching the male of our species the art of carving a turkey. I give out this important information every year. And every year I get letters from people who don't follow instructions and wind up carving their thumbs, instead. I'm not the world champion carver. My friend, H. L. Shrader, extension poultry husbandman in the department of agriculture, is. And quoting the expert, let's get down to the white meat, knife in hand. Most men prefer to stand up while carving. Coats off, vest open, sleeves up—and arms free to go to work. The wife can help by trussing the bird beforehand with the wings locked underneath. This steadies the bird for the carver

Parents Fined for Deserting Tiny Baby

Portland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Fines of $1,000 each and sentences of one year in the county jail were meted to a Portland couple whose 4-month-old daughter was found at home alone. The sentences were held in abeyance, however, pending investigation by juvenile court authorities. The couple, Donald B. Speer, 34, and his wife, Patricia, 27, were charged with leaving their daughter alone in their one-room home Sunday night. Police, called by neighbors, said they found gas leaking from a kitchen stove burner. The child suffered no apparent ill effects. She has been placed in a nursery.

Top Speakers Slated for Farm Bureau Convention

Top speakers of state and national renown, including Allan B. Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, will be featured at the 20th Oregon Farm Bureau Federation annual meeting and convention held the week of November 26 at the Senator hotel in Salem, announced Calvin Mikkelsen, president of Marion county farm bureau today. With the largest membership in the history of the farm organization, 5,496 farm family members, the convention is expected to draw a record crowd to the capital city. For Kline, a Vinton, Iowa hog farmer, it will be his first appearance in Oregon as a representative of the world's largest farm organization. He will address the general session Thursday afternoon, November 29, at the Crystal Gardens ballroom. Scheduled to appear on the convention program in addition to Kline are: Mrs. Paul Palmer, vice president, A.F.B.F. associated women; H. H. Alp, director A.F.B.F. commodity service; Senator Dean Walker; Thomas Lawson McCaff, administrative assistant to Governor Douglas McKay; Senator Richard R. Neuberger; Representative John Housnell, Senator Eugene Marsh; Representative Alva C. Goodrich; and Earl Price, dean and director of the Oregon state extension service. Topic of urban as well as rural interest will be presented to the general session on Wednesday and Thursday. The topics include: "The Tax Problem of Oregon," "Government Reorganization in Oregon," "Reapportionment of the Oregon State Legislature" and "Redistricting of Oregon Schools." A panel discussion entitled "How We Can Prevent Infla-

Portland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, still not completely recovered from injuries suffered last summer when a horse kicked him in the jaw, will deliver 11 talks in his 11 day visit to Oregon beginning Nov. 28. His speaking schedule: Nov. 28, the Willamette river basin development commission and the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation, both at Salem. Dec. 1, the young republican state convention, Portland. Dec. 2, the sermon at the First Baptist church, Portland. Dec. 3, Portland Chamber of Commerce. Dec. 4, the Eugene Rotary club. Dec. 5, a convocation at the Yamhill county high school; the Schoolmasters' Club, Willamina; Catholic conference, Portland. Dec. 7, the Portland City club. On Dec. 8 he will introduce Sen. James Duff (R., Penn.) at the Oregon Republican club convention. Morse then will return to Washington for treatment to his injured jaw.

Letter Changes Widow to Wife

Tacoma, Nov. 21 (AP)—Dorothy Hayden of Tacoma, a Korean war widow yesterday, was a happy but tearful wife today. A letter datelined Korea made the change. It was from her husband, S1C James R. Hayden, who has been a captive of the Chinese Reds for more than a year. He had been thought dead. "I thought he was dead," Mrs. Hayden said today. "It was such a shock to get that letter. I was sure he was dead, and so did his parents in Kentucky. We never had any hope that he was still alive." Hayden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hayden of Fancy Farm, Ky. The letter, dated September 9, and passed by communist censors, was brief and stilted. It read: "My darling wife and family: Just a few lines to let you know I am all right. I hope peace will soon come and I can come home. We are receiving good treatment and good food. Love, Jimmy."

Alimony Cut So Hubby Can Pay for Lessons

Los Angeles, Nov. 21 (AP)—Bradford Murphy, 33, must pay his estranged wife and former dancing teacher, Bergie Murphy, 27, $1 a month alimony. The court fixed the low alimony yesterday after Murphy testified he is still paying $75.33 a month on dancing courses she sold him. Mrs. Murphy said her husband deserted her last September after three months of marriage. Because she violated the dancing school rule forbidding dates between instructors and pupils, Mrs. Murphy said, she was fired. Murphy said he still has 70 hours to go in a course she sold him there.

Telephone Company's Tax Totals $169,178

The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company this week paid its 1951-52 real and personal property operating taxes in Marion county totaling $169,178.20. The company's total operating property tax payments this year in the 31 of Oregon's 36 counties in which it operates was approximately $2,790,000, after discount, an increase of better than $171,000 over last year's total payment.

Kansas Solon Hopes Ike Will Be Available

Supreme Allied headquarters, Roquencourt, France, Nov. 21 (AP)—Sen. Frank Carlson, Kansas republican, said today he hoped Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be available for the republican presidential nomination in 1952. After a 45-minute conference with Eisenhower, Carlson was asked: "Do you think General Eisenhower will be available for the republican nomination?" "I hope that the situation here in Europe will be such that he will be available for the nomination," Carlson replied.

Second Trial Set For Mrs. Ryan

San Luis Obispo, Calif., Nov. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Ryan, wealthy New York society matron, faces a trial a second time next in the shooting of a young trespasser on her ranch. Superior Judge Ray B. Lyon has ordered Mrs. Ryan, widow of financier Basil Ryan, to stand trial again on the charge. The first court jury deadlocked after deliberating eight hours. Mrs. Ryan is charged with killing Leonard D. Ray, Jr., last June 9 when he refused to leave the ranch near here. Mrs. Ryan claimed at both a coroner's inquest and a grand jury hearing that she shot in self defense. She said Ray jammed his rifle into her stomach and she believed her "life to be endangered."

Annual Barn Dance At St. Paul Friday

St. Paul—The St. Paul Annual Barn Dance will be held in the old high school gym in St. Paul Friday evening, Nov. 23, starting at 9:00 p.m. and ending at midnight. As in the past years, the old gym will be decorated like the old barns of by gone days. Live chickens will be given as prizes to the best dressed dancers. Music will be furnished by the Oregon Hillbillies, Howard Saucy of Dundee, Oregon has informed the committee that he will be present to call a number of the square dances.

Actress Spurns Political Office

Hollywood, Nov. 21 (AP)—Actress Greer Garson said today it has been suggested she run for congress in New Mexico, but she has to decline the honor. The flame-haired actress has spent much of her time in New Mexico since her husband, Col. Buddy Fogelson, bought a ranch there. Recently a New Mexico newspaper columnist proposed she be offered a candidacy. "Any such invitations are a great honor and I appreciate them," she said. "But at present I have a job at MGM and I expect to stay here for the next few years." Miss Garson said her husband has purchased a half interest in the weekly Santa Fe News.

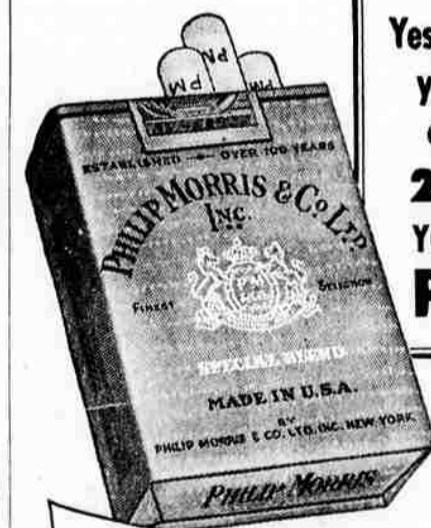

"It's a small paper with a big following and a special reputation, and we intend to keep it that way," she added. "It won't become a daily."
