

Sweet, But Short—Barbara Payton and Franchot Tone don't look so happy as when this picture was taken. Barbara flounced out on Franchot in Hollywood and told friends she'll wind up their 53-day marriage by filing for divorce. (Acme Telephoto)

Honeymoon Over for Barbara

Hollywood, Nov. 21 (AP)—Barbara Payton scurried into hiding today with the statement she is through with Franchot Tone forever—just as soon as he "pays a few bills" here and there.
Through her attorney, the honey-blonde starlet announced she wasn't in such a hurry to file for divorce now that her bridegroom of 53 days has beaten her to the punch.
Tone, wealthy, cultured and angry, got his complaint in the court records yesterday morning, a few hours after he and Barbara battled and she stomped out of their hillside love-nest.
Tone charges Barbara with "extreme mental cruelty" and said she destroyed "the legitimate aims of matrimony."
He refused to elaborate on the charge, but his attorney, Henry Herzbrun, said the marriage blew up in an argument over Barbara's plans to make a picture with Actor Tom Neal, who beat up Tone in a battle for her affections last September.
Herzbrun said Tone told him the fight started when he told his wife he "didn't like the idea" of her making a movie with Neal.
"She told me that she was going to do it whether I liked it or not," Tone told the attorney.
Herzbrun said that led to a "discussion" that ended the marriage.
Barbara at first tried to get her suit in court yesterday but ran into a few legal complications.
"We have to check with Tone's attorney regarding a settlement," her lawyer, Robert Feder, explained.
"That won't be very much. Merely court costs, attorneys' fees and obligations since they were married, including furniture. Then we'll file for divorce—and maybe cross-file at the same time."

'Cactus Jack' Garner to Be 83 Tomorrow

By CLAUDE RAMSEY
Uvalde, Tex., Nov. 21 (AP)—John Nance Garner, still as salty a character as when he was vice president, will be 83 years old tomorrow.
His main ambition is to live nine more years, to the age of 92.
"Then I can say I spent half my life as a private citizen," said "Cactus Jack."
Garner spent 46 years in public office. Of these, 39 were spent in Washington—from 1902 when he first went to congress until 1941 when he finished his second term as vice president and split with Franklin Delano Roosevelt over the third term issue.
He has no formula for longevity, except that "I smoke five or six good Mexican cigars a day, and have a little whiskey at night. Sometimes I have some in the morning, too."
Not much about Garner has changed since he came back from Washington. His voice may be a bit higher pitched, and sometimes nowadays he doesn't bother to wear his teeth. But he looks just about the same as when he was more in the public eye.
And he moves about his turkeys, guineas and peacan trees at a pace sometimes that would tax a man half his age. He sticks pretty closely to the 11-room house at 333 North Park street which he built back in 1918.
"I haven't eaten but one meal of victuals out of this house since I came back in 1941," he said, but on the eve of his 83rd birthday he said he may get away from home.
"A rancher friend has invited me out to shoot a buck," he said. "Can't tell you his name because he doesn't want people traipsin' over his ranch. But I have a key. And he says he has a buck tied up. If I'm feelin' good, I may shoot me a buck and stay overnight in oat javelina."
Javelina is wild hog. Garner recommends it highly.
"It's the best meat you ever ate, if you get the lean part down each side of the backbone."

Earnings of Workers Near $1,500,000,000

The state unemployment compensation commission said today Oregon has real reason to be thankful this year, with earnings of non-farm workers expected to pass $1,500,000,000.
That would be about 20 per cent higher than ever before.
Employees covered by unemployment insurance received $574,720,656 in the first six months of this year, a gain of 24.7 per cent over the same period of 1950. Although the increase is not expected to be so great during the remainder of 1951, reported pay rolls are estimated at $1,200,000,000 or more. The 30 per cent of employees of small firms and others not covered by the law will bring the 1951 grand total well over the billion and a half mark, officials predict.
Average covered employment of 337,562 during April, May and June not only set a new high for this period but quarterly pay rolls of $308,110,543 were more than nine millions over the former record reported for the booming third quarter of 1950. Last June's employment of 350,692 was 21,041 above a year before and only 4,246 below the all time high in August, 1950.
Lumber, metals, machinery and construction paid the widest gains. But transportation, service groups also were well utilized, trade, finance and above previous marks. Woods products concerns paid out $166,638,254 in the first half of the year, indicating 1951 totals well over last year's $293,726,444. Construction pay rolls of $46,973,101 up to June 30 were 42 per cent higher than in the first half of 1950 but eased off later.
Here are other first half totals: All manufacturing, $269,224,034, up 31.3 per cent. Food processing $25,560,342, up 24.6 per cent. Transportation and utilities $56,228,557, up 18.9 per cent. Wholesale and retail trade $143,295,639, up 16.6 per cent. Finance and realty $21,264,520, up 14.4 per cent. And service $33,980,186, up 10.1 per cent.

Disagreement Over Deficit

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Two government departments—treasury and commerce—are in sharp disagreement about the probable size of the deficit the government will run up during the year which ends next June 30.
The commerce department, in an analysis of business trends it made public yesterday, estimated the deficit at $4,000,000,000. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder had predicted it will be about $7,500,000,000.
Commerce arrived at its figure on the basis of an estimate from the senate finance committee that taxes will bring in about $65,000,000,000. It said the budget figures spending will be about $69,000,000,000. The treasury had estimated taxes will produce $2,500,000,000 less and spending will run $1,000,000,000 more.

Threaten Suit, Unpaid Pledges

Lebanon—Attorneys for the board of directors of the Lebanon community hospital are instituting legal action against those who have failed to make good their pledges, according to a letter prepared for the press by William Good.
"A majority of the 2,516 persons pledging varied amounts have already paid in full and on time, but a few have not only failed but utterly ignored their given pledge," the report stated.
Acting on the assumption that pledges were made in good faith, the hospital board awarded a contract for the building of a new hospital at a cost of $516,000. Its construction is now under way, and completion expected next summer.

Typhoon Strikes Central Philippines

Manila, Nov. 21 (AP)—A tropical typhoon swept a path of destruction through the central Philippines today. Planes were grounded, shipping disrupted and communications broken.
A Philippines air line plane left for the United States six hours ahead of schedule, to escape 60 miles an hour winds expected to hit Manila by tomorrow.
The typhoon, with its torrential rains and 90 mile an hour winds, caused heavy damage to crops as it cut westward across Samar, Masbate and Romblon islands. A weather bureau forecast indicated the center of the typhoon would strike the southern tip of Minor Island, 170 miles south of Manila, and pass on into the China sea.

Washington School Holds Open House

Washington school held its annual fall open house in connection with National Education week and attendance of parents was pleasing to the sponsoring groups.
The rooms and the halls reflected the work the pupils have accomplished during the fall term. There was a demonstration of the new inter-communication system and refreshments were served in the multi-purpose room.
Mothers who assisted during the evening were Mrs. Robert Preston, Mrs. Thomas Morris, Mrs. Irwin Lenaburg, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Leonard Ryan, Mrs. Harold Klein, Mrs. Edward Fox, Mrs. Kenneth Elwood, Mrs. Clarence Fairbrother, Mrs. Dillard Elkins, Mrs. Lester Capps, Mrs. Halbert Kemper, Mrs. Louis Downing and Mrs. Edmond Spensi.
The Mothers' club will not hold a November meeting but will meet as usual in December.

Oregon Shrimp Catch Becomes Commercial

Portland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Oregon coastal shrimps may provide the Pacific northwest with an important commercial fishery.
That was the report yesterday of George Harry, biologist in charge of marine research, to the Oregon state fish commission.
Harry reported that in recent experimental expeditions off Depoe Bay, as much as 10 pounds of shrimp were brought up in a single drag.
The pink shrimp are similar to those caught in Alaskan waters.
The commission will continue research at Depoe Bay and off the mouth of the Columbia river next spring.

Only One of the 10 on FBI's Original List Still Missing

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Only one of the 10 men on the FBI's original "most wanted" list in 1949 is still missing.
He is Henry Randolph Mitchell, 56, sought for the $10,353 robbery of a Williston, Fla., bank, January 21, 1948.
For all the others, appearance of their names among the "most wanted" has meant almost automatic capture.
The FBI credits its list—and the wide publicity given it by the press and radio—as an important weapon in its battle against the underworld.
But agents agree that the men on the "most wanted" list are lame compared with the gangsters who terrorized the nation during the early 1930's.
For example, Raymond Edward Young, a 38-year-old burglar, was nabbed in a Denver bakery Saturday, only five days after he was added to the "most wanted list." He surrendered without any fight.
Morley Vernon King, who murdered his wife, was arrested October 31 when FBI agents strolled into the kitchen of a Philadelphia restaurant. There was King calmly shucking oysters. He gave up without a struggle and even wondered why the G-men hadn't come around sooner.

Aptitude Tests for Lebanon Students

Lebanon—Gordon DeCoss, training officer for the state employment service, is in Lebanon this week, seeking office personnel of the local branch to give aptitude tests.
Following completion of the course, Lebanon officials will present tests to high school seniors to determine job qualifications of the youths.
The tests determine the inherited ability covering 20 occupational patterns and 2000 jobs.

Solons Back from Tour of U.S. Bases Agree We're Prepared

Washington, Nov. 21 (AP)—Ten congressmen, back from a 10,000-mile inspection tour of U.S. military bases, agreed today that "if war comes, we will be prepared to meet force with force."
The group reported that construction of allied military bases ringling Russia is proceeding "remarkably" fast in some places, but is "lagging" in others.
The joint house committee, including members of the armed services and executive expenditures groups, returned Monday night from a two-week trip to Newfoundland, Britain, France, Germany, Australia, Italy, French Morocco and the Azores.
Chairman Porter Hardy (D., Va.) said the committee inspected construction at 14 bases, including several in Europe "within a few minutes' jet-flying time from the Soviet Union." The legislators also visited secret sites where bases are planned as part of the armed forces' multi-billion dollar construction program.
The congressmen were briefed in Paris by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the Atlantic Pact army. Hardy said that "Eisenhower bluntly put to critics of our program in Europe the question: 'What other sensible alternative is there?'"
Hardy said that construction in north Africa, "starting from scratch only a few months ago, has reached the stage where the essential facilities to assist in the defense of western Europe now exist."

Pistol-Waving Woman Led Attack of Chinese Troops

By ROBERT UDICK
With the King's Shropshire Light Infantry, Korea, Nov. 21 (AP)—Frontline infantrymen described today a pistol-waving, whistle-blowing "woman in black" who leads Chinese assault troops.
Men of the King's Shropshire light infantry, just out of the frontlines, told of seeing the woman in the van of an attack Saturday.
They said she was dressed in a black jacket and black trousers and had long black hair. She led communist troops attacking the British infantrymen's position.
Waving her pistol she would sound a blast from time to time on her whistle. One soldier said the whistle seemed to be a signal for machine gun fire.
"There must be something to the reports," Capt. R. H. Garnett, of Shrewsbury, Eng., said. "There were too many reasonable and reliable witnesses reporting her presence. Of course, there was a helluva lot of noise, smoke and soot, and no chance to sit down and take notes on it or have a good observation."
The captain reported the woman's unit was heavily armed with automatic weapons—a burp gun or a machinegun for every two men.

Jeep Will Get 'Big Brother'

Portland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., of Toledo, O., announced here today it has begun production of a new six-passenger sedan, a "big brother" to its jeep.
Howard P. Grove, vice president of Willys, addressed a meeting of Pacific Northwest distributors and said the new, low-priced car probably would be on the market by end of the year. He said the company would expand its dealer organization in Oregon and Washington to promote sales of the new car.
(In Detroit, the Kaiser-Fraser corporation announced that it will make a new low-priced automobile named the "All-State" to be sold by Sears, Roebuck & Co. The announcement said the "All-State" would look much like the Willow Run company's Henry J., with distinguishing appearance characteristics. The new vehicle will be in production next month.)
Grove said a six-cylinder high compression F-head engine would power the new Willys.
Heretofore, the firm has specialized in jeeps and station wagons after halting passenger model production during World War II.
