Bible Letters

Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not. Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep. Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits. Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men. (St. Paul to the Romans, 12: 14-17)

Calvary Baptist New Year's Eve

"The outstanding service of the year" is the pastor's description of the New Year's Eve service at the Calvary Baptist church. The program to which all are cordially invited will begin on Monday evening at 9. The first hour will feature congregational singing, special instrumental and vocal numbers, with a number of baptisms taking place at this time. Following this the Marantha class of the Sunday school will provide refreshments for the fellowship hour. Color pictures depicting some of the highlights of the year will be shown.

The last hour will include a brief retrospect given by the pastor, Omar N. Barth, and will be followed by the holy communion, and a final candlelight testimony and consecration service. Rev. Russell Raker, Jr., executive secretary of the Oregon Baptist convention will be guest speaker during the Sunday morning worship service. This will be followed by a baptismal ceremony.

Nazarenes Join For Watch Party

Stewardship Film At St. Mark Church

A new stewardship film, "All That I Have," will be shown to the congregation and friends of St. Mark's Lutheran church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The film portrays the story of a medical doctor whose relatives want him committed to an institution because he suddenly begins to give away large portions of his income. Most of the action takes place in the court room. The entire procedure brings out a graphic lesson in Christian stewardship. The film was produced by the Lutheran church and is a full length feature. The public is invited to come and enjoy this "film night" at St. Mark's.

Dust or Destiny Film to Be Shown

The beautifully colored film entitled "Dust or Destiny" will be shown at the Sunday evening service of the Englewood Evangelical United Brethren church. This 48-minute moving picture was produced by Irwin A. Moon at the Moody Institute of Science. The film portrays the marvelous mechanisms of the human eye, ear, and heart. Also among various other marvelous characteristics among birds and animals, the film follows the unerring flight of homing pigeons and explains how bats can fly by their own radar.

Albany's Oldest Married Couple Fete 73rd Year

Albany — Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Weaver, both 94 years old and Albany's oldest and longest married couple quietly celebrated Christmas and also marked the start of their 73rd year of married life.

Both were born in the mid-west three years before the start of the Civil War, he on January 28, 1857 in Winnebago, Wis., and she August 29, the same year in Durand, Ill. They came to Albany from Nebraska.

Tragedy struck the couple when three young daughters, their only children died within three weeks of diphtheria. Mrs. Weaver was stricken with the disease at the same time but pulled through. She wryly remarks, "I guess I'm tough."

Mrs. Weaver does all her own housework, and displays a pantry full of fruits, jellies and jam she "puts up" every summer. She also has time to play an organ given her at the age of 15. Both Mr. and Mrs. Weaver have a host of friends and someone is always popping in and out of the house.

Despite the fact that Mrs. Weaver does her own housework she draws the line at doing the laundry. "I don't do my own washing, but why should I? I'm 94 and they have good laundries. Why should I break my back?"

Albany Awaits City Manager

Albany — Albany will have a city manager if the man favored by the special council city manager committee is willing to accept appointment to the local position. Albany has been without a city manager since the first of 1951 when J. D. Baughman, who had served under the city manager form of government resigned.

The plan became assured Wednesday when the city council passed without a dissenting vote a motion offered by Councilman Frank Dooley instructing the committee to re-interview the prospective candidate last interviewed here.

The council has boosted the pay from $7200 to $8000 a year, it was announced.
