Rev. George H. Swift, rector of St. Paul's, who was the selection of the Eagles lodge Tuesday night for its annual citizenship award.

Citizen Plaque To George Swift

Rev. George H. Swift, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, was announced Tuesday night as the selection of the Eagles lodge for its annual good citizenship award.

Rev. Mr. Swift is not an Eagle. The basis of the selection, made by a board of past presidents of the lodge, was the clergyman's contribution to the good of the community. He was called to the Tuesday night meeting of the lodge where a plaque was presented him in recognition of his services.

Starting three years ago the award has been made annually by the Eagles, the first time to R. (Tad) Shelton, county assessor, and the second time to David O'Hara, alderman and supervisor of the elections division of the state department.

Other guests called on two separate afternoons enjoying a social hour and refreshments.

Mrs. Solum came to the United States at the age of three years from Thronhjen, Norway, her birthplace, as one of a family of 12 children. The Solums have been residents of Silverton since 1907, coming here from Eugene. Prominent in the progress of the Immanuel Lutheran church, Mrs. Solum has been affiliated with the Ladies Aid of Immanuel for 10 years.

Oswald West 79 on Tuesday

Portland (AP) — Oswald West, former governor of Oregon, celebrated his 79th birthday here Tuesday.

West, a democrat, was governor from 1911 to 1915. He has maintained a keen interest in politics and had this to say of the present presidential race: "If God still reigns, and wishes to preserve this government from crooks and wasters, He will direct the republicans to nominate Eisenhower and will leave them free to select their own running mates."
