Eivers Appointed—Dr. Austin Eivers, deputy under Dr. Fred Lange for a number of years, has been named herd inspector for district 3 by the Marion county court. Dr. Lange submitted his resignation several weeks ago.

Master Barbers Elect—Oregon State Master Barbers association held an official meeting at the Senator hotel Tuesday during their state convention, and elected these officers: President, Al M. Mattley, Salem; first vice president, W. Knapp of Corvallis; second vice president, J. E. Swanson of Klamath Falls; secretary-treasurer F. P. Penner of Portland.

Correction—A Capital Journal story yesterday listing proposed initiative measures for the November ballot said a tax of one half of 1 per cent on property was proposed to produce an age pension of $100 a month. Instead it should have said one-half of one per cent on salaries over $250 a month.

Egg Prices Hiked—Eggs were 3 cents higher on some grades in quotations listed in Salem Friday morning. The buying list is now as follows: AA, 45 cents; large A, 41-48 cents; medium A, 36 cents; small, unchanged at 23-29 cents. In the wholesale list, large grade A are generally quoted at 54 cents; mediums at 50 cents, a one-cent boost.

Marion Demos May Nominate

Marion county democrats may nominate another candidate for state representative, Dave O'Hara, head of the state election bureau said Friday.
Only two democrats were on the May 18 primary ballot for state representatives from Marion county, Cornelius Bateson and A. M. Vistica. Both were nominated. By 70 write-ins the democrats also nominated republican W. W. Chadwick, Salem hotel man, who was in fourth place among republicans. Marion county has four representatives.

Next in line for write-ins was Frank Doerfler. But he did not win the republican nomination so he cannot accept the democratic nomination. Oregon law is that a candidate who fails to win the nomination of another party cannot be considered.

North Salem Garage—Jack Scrogie of Brooks and Morris M. Rose of 4407 Toni avenue, Salem, have filed with the county clerk the assumed business name of North Salem Garage.

Winola Avenue Not On County Program

A group of seven women and one man visited upon the Marion county court Friday in connection with working out some program for the improvement of Winola avenue, just west of Liberty road.

The court, while expressing sympathy with the problems involved in providing safe conditions for children on their way to and from school, pointed out that the county has no funds to spend on a road that has not been taken over by the county.
The suggestion that the property owners take advantage of the Bancroft act brought the response that it was virtually impossible to secure the necessary cooperation of 70 per cent of the owners.

Economy Seen in Detention Home

Juveniles and their problems were up for discussion during a meeting held Thursday by the Salem Family and Child Welfare council.

Don Miller, head counselor at the MacLaren School for Boys at Woodburn, stated that a detention or shelter study home for juveniles would prove economical and eliminate the necessity of sending delinquents to the boys' school.

At the shelter home there could be provided laboratory research in human relations and a program of general helpfulness could be worked out, it was stated.

Polio Official At Workshop

Elmer J. Church returned this week from attending a polio workshop in San Francisco. Church is vice chairman of the Marion county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The San Francisco session was a regional one for nine states with Dr. R. E. Van Riper, National Foundation medical director, directing the event. Representatives attending the workshop were Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Washington, Nevada, Oregon, California and Arizona, coming from 85 chapters of the foundation.

Taking part in the workshop discussion with Dr. Van Riper were George P. Voss, director of chapters; Miss Elaine Whitelaw, director of women's activities, and Robert A. Burcaw, regional director.

"From all I heard at the conference," said Church, "I am convinced that in the years ahead the dark shadow of polio will be removed from our homes. We all left San Francisco with the feeling that the time and work we put into the March of Dimes will be repaid a thousand-fold in the future."

Truman Urges

This is the issue that brought about a Southern revolt against the democrats in the 1948 national convention and election.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, seeking the republican presidential nomination, at Ableton, Kan. last week stated his "unalterable support of fairness and equality among all types of American citizens" and added:

"I really believe we can do more by leadership in getting the states to do it than to make it a federal compulsory thing."
Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, now leading the delegate race for the GOP nomination, is on record as favoring a voluntary FEPC rather than a compulsory one.

Spring Smoker Set For Monday Night

A spring smoker for members of Capital Post 9 and all members of the American Legion will be held Monday night at Legion hall on South Commercial street.

Everybody Working for Soap Box Derby Success

By RON GEMMELL

You Salem Soap Box Derby boys are indeed fortunate! Last night a whole batch of guys interested in getting you into that July 13 race and seeing that the champ gets back to Akron, Ohio, for the All-American Derby, made extensive plans in a session at the Douglas McKay Chevrolet company.

Geek whiz, kids, everybody is working to see that you have the time of your lives on Derby day. And we mean hard work.
We even have a clean-up committee, which will have to organize enough manpower to get out on that Bush Pasture park on Monday after the race to take care of restoring that beautiful course.

Bill Page, who is a member of the inspection committee and who has been spending most of his evenings inspecting your "bugs," is going to head it up. He's figuring on getting the services of the some 40-odd boys in the new Bent-8 club, a boys organization headed by Don Archibald and Don Porter, to assist.

(Of course, most of us on the major Derby committee will be out there to help out.)
Big deal of the session was a presentation of Derby course plans by Chet Stackhouse, our course director. He outlined, with the aid of a map drawn up by Assistant Derby Director Bill Byers, exactly where the 50-odd officials are to be stationed to insure that you lads will get a maximum of efficiency when you start buzzing down that specially constructed course that City Manager J. L. Franzen, City Engineer Harold Davis, the Marion County Commission — and just about every construction and sand and gravel company in Salem is building for you.
And, Jack Maulding, chairman of our prize committee, says he's got a lot of good things in store for you kids. There will be a prize for each and every one of you.

How lucky can you get! We're going to have concessions out there, too, so folks can have cold drinks, hot dogs, etc. Bossman of that committee is Lloyd Evans of the VFW, who has had considerable experience in that line. Each of the co-sponsoring organizations—the VFW 661, the Optimist club and the Junior Chamber of Commerce—will be operating them.

All proceeds from the concessions go into the Derby fund for next year.
St. Elmo Massengale, who is going to see that all you kids get free cokes, also is going to get the Cherrians rolling on our July 12 parade, that is to end up at the Derby course.
Both City Manager Franzen and City Engineer Harold Davis assured us that your course will be ready soon if the weather doesn't interfere.

You boys should be all means phone into Les Green at the Douglas McKay Chevrolet company as soon as you have your cars built so that an official inspection can be made. Les says he has an eight-man team to inspect your racers and that 41 have already been given the going-over that is necessary.
Say, we're rolling!

Over 63,000 acres of Oregon's most beautiful countryside have been set aside by the highway commission as state parks.

Rites Friday for Paul Wallace

Funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Paul B. Wallace, prominent Salem business man and long active in civic affairs here, who died in Chicago Monday morning.

Wallace, whose native city was Chicago, died from a heart attack, while en route east to attend the 50th anniversary of the graduation of his class from Princeton university.

Officiating at the service were Dr. Paul Poling and Dr. G. Herbert Smith. Oregon music was by Mrs. Ralph Dobbs and singing was Mrs. Bruce Spaulding. The service was under the direction of the Virgil T. Golden chapel.

Full bearers were all business associates, Fred Anunson, Samuel Patrick, K. Smith, Ralph Johnson, Harris Lietz and E. Burr Miller.

David Randolph, who was elected president of the South Salem Lions club.

Randolph New Head of Club

David Randolph was installed president of the South Salem Lions club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the organization held at the American Legion building earlier in the week.

Installation was in charge of Harry Scott, charter member of the downtown Lions club.

Others installed were: Charles C. Nielson, first vice president; Charles Sweistris, second vice president; Louis Newman, third vice president; Nels T. Johnson, secretary, F. H. Weir, treasurer; Darryl Jones, lion tamer; Edwin Maerz, tail twister; Arthur Martin and Ray Morrow, directors. Hold over directors are Frank Hamstreet and Clayton Jones.

Steel Strikers

The WSB recommended a 26-cent hourly raise for steelworkers now earning an average of between $1.90 and $2 an hour and also called for a union shop.

In addition to the union shop, Murray listed these other issues as blocking a final settlement:
1. The steel industry's insistence on a management clause in any new contract. Murray said such a clause, defining management's rights, would allow companies to launch speedups.
2. The question of seniority. Murray said the U. S. Steel Corp. wanted all seniority questions resolved to its satisfaction.

3. Incentive pay. The labor chief declared U. S. Steel also insisted on its version of incentive.
4. The union shop. Murray said the industry falsely gave out the impression that the union shop is the only issue. He called that "a plain unadulterated lie."

The motion to concur with the governor's recommendations was made by Rep. Earl Hill and seconded by Senator Dean Walker. The action of the board was by unanimous vote.

Toy Truck Stolen—A. W. (Bill) Krebs Thursday reported to city police that a $28 toy truck had been taken from the backyard of the home of his sister, Mrs. Betty Page, at 1462 Mission street.

states, with visits to delegations in Virginia and Maryland as well as Pennsylvania.
With the convention about three weeks off—July 7 at Chicago—neither Taft nor Eisenhower has the required 604-vote majority sewed up.

The Associated Press tabulation, pegged to avowed and conceded preferences, shows: Taft 464, Eisenhower 392.
Democrats, meanwhile, add a few more delegates to their July 21 Chicago convention list today —16 in Connecticut and 22 vote group in Arkansas.

The Arkansas democratic committee directed the state's 22 votes be cast for "favorite son" Sen. J. William Fulbright as long as the delegation considered it would be "appropriate and beneficial to the party."
