

Altrusans Complete Projects

Salem Altrusa, women's service club affiliated with Altrusa International, has completed its two year project of helping the handicapped.

The club's efforts during the two years were devoted to raising $1518.80 for a group of varied projects. The major project was helping with the purchase of equipment and testing materials for the newly organized special education department of District 24 CJ. These contributions have helped to speed up the work of this department.

Other projects included aid to the well-child clinic of Marion county; contribution to the March of Dimes; Christmas gifts to the needy and to the children at Chemawa Indian school; contributions to "grants-in-aid," a fund to help Pan-American women; and a "back to college" shower and a $10 monthly contribution for incidentals to a Peruvian girl attending the University of Oregon. This young lady is the recipient of an International Altrusa scholarship. This year the club has sponsored an "Altrusan of the Month," an outstanding girl from Salem high school and academics, and granted a $50 scholarship to one of these girls.

Money for these projects was raised by several methods. The first and largest money-raising endeavor was the advertising napkins. Squares on 1000 napkins were sold to merchants at a cost of $10 per square. These napkins were distributed at benefit dinners in Salem and in the outlying communities. The second in importance in amount of cash netted was the Altrusa cook book, "Cooking Can Be Fun," consisting of American and foreign recipes. Another project was the salmon dinner given for the public in the Isaac Walton League hall in October. Miss Margaret McDevitt is president of the club. Past president was Mrs. Sue Booch. The project chairmen for the past two years have been Miss Minnie Just and Mrs. Leon Barrick.
