Giant Derby Entrant Has Real Problem in Weight

By RON GEMMELL

Wouldn't you know! One of our Soap Box Derby bug-builders may have to make his racer for that July 13 whizz deal on our specially constructed course in Bush Pasture park out of tissue paper.

Eddie Page, who is a building, only stands 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 195 pounds, is having a heck of a time trying to get the weight of his bug down to specifications.

Eddie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Page of 3225 Fisher Road, has quite a problem! As you all know by now, those bugs can't weigh over 250 pounds—including the weight of the boy.

Well, 14-year-old Eddie, who is under sponsorship of the Salem Hardware company, has some tall figuring to do. With his weight at 195 and the weight of the wheels of his bug at 30 pounds, that only leaves him a latitude of 25 pounds for his racer.

But he's in there pitching! Last night, lads, we had quite a session of our basic organization.
