

WIL Prexy Denies Protest Against Senators

Abel Will Investigate Osborn's Allegations

By CHRIS KOWITZ, JR.
Western International league president Robert Abel has denied a protest lodged by Don Osborn, manager of the Spokane Indians, against the Salem Senators.

Osborn filed a protest at Spokane, where the Senators played over the weekend, alleging that the Salem team was violating the class A league's salary limitations.

In a telephone conversation this morning, Abel said from Tacoma that such a claim is "not grounds for protest. It never was."

Abel said that Osborn's protest "will be denied."

The league president did indicate however, that he will make an investigation as to whether or not the Salem team is paying its players more than the $5200 allowed by the Western International league.

If a team is found to be violating salary rules, that club may be fined by the league.

Spokane won two of three games from Salem. The Indians bested the Senators 2-0 last night, after the two clubs divided a twin bill Saturday.

Just where Osborn obtained his information on the alleged salary violations is unknown. He was unavailable for comment this morning because he is traveling with his team from Spokane to Vancouver.

Going over the salary limit was a common thing in the Western National league last year, when the circuit was a class B league.

This year the WIL was stepped up to class A, and proper notice served to all clubs that they were not to step beyond the salary limits.

It looks like Victoria is off to the races in the Western International League.

The rip-roaring Tyees cooled off the red-hot Yakima Bears Tuesday by scores of 1-0 and 8-2 to gain revenge for the series they recently lost to the state-side crew.

It has been a long time since any of the other members of the Class A circuit have been able to tame the Canadians. Now their lead runs into double figures over their nearest pursuers.

Bill Bottler, although giving up 11 walks, allowed only four hits to gain credit for the second-game win. Ben Lorino allowed only two safe

Vancouver pulverized Wenatchee, 22-2, in the first game and then went on to make it a sweep, 6-2. The Caps gathered 20 hits in the curtain-raiser raising batsmen's paradise. Tommy Lovrich gained the second-game victory as the Caps came from behind with three runs in the seventh.

Lewiston opened with a 2-1 conquest of Tri-City, then took the nightcap, 7-2. Glenn Tuckett drove in four runs in the second match with a homer, double and a single. A walk, an error and a fly led to the unearned winning tally for Lewiston in the opener.

U.S. Moves Into Top Spot

Stan Musial Regains NL Batting Lead

St. Louis, (AP)—Stan Musial regained the National League batting lead Sunday although he failed to make a hit in five tries. Going into Sunday's games Musial trailed Bob Addis of the Cubs with a .328 mark to Addis' .330. Addis failed to hit in five tries but dropped nine points while Musial, who has been to bat 135 more times than Addis, dropped only five points.

O'Brien Breaks Shot Mark; Yanks Win Four Gold Medals

By LEO H. PETERSEN
The United States track might swept to four Olympic gold medals and established one new record Monday. Parry O'Brien of Southern California set a shot put mark of 57 feet, 1.44 inches, while other U.S. victories were scored by Charley Moore of New York in the 400-meter low hurdles, Lindy Remigino of Manhattan College in the 100-meters dash, and Jim Fuchs of New York third.

It took a photo to decide Remigino's victory finish over Herb McKenley of Jamaica. And third-place Art Wint of Jamaica wasn't far behind. All three were caught by the stop watches in the same 10.4 time.

Moore set a new Olympic 400-meter hurdles record of 59.8 seconds Sunday, but the track was too slow for that today as he beat out Russia's Jurii Lituev.

Moore was the only U.S. point scorer in the hurdles, but won by a good margin. Second-place Lituev's time was 51.3.

All three American entries qualified in the women's 100-meter dash first round. Mae Faggs of New York took her heat in 12.5 seconds. Catherine Hardy of Fort Valley, Ga., State Teachers College won hers in 11.9 seconds and Janet Moureau of Boston was second in her heat, but nevertheless qualified.

All three U.S. pole vaulters—Bob Richards, Laverne, Calif.; Don Laz, Aurora, Ill., and George Mattos, Santa Cruz, Calif., had little trouble making the 13 feet, 1 1/2 inches qualifying height.

Mal Whittfield, Columbus, Ohio, and Reggie Pearson, New York, qualified in the 800 meters.

The University of Washington's four man crew with cox gained the rowing final with a 7 minute, 7.6 seconds heat victory.

Willamette River Boat Races Draw Crowd of 4000

Lebanon took home the intercity trophy from Sunday's boat races along the Willamette river in Salem.

Lebanon racers took firsts in three of the five classes included in the day's activities.

A crowd estimated at between 3,000 and 4,000 were on hand for the races, and enthusiasm ran high enough that Salem Boat club members have promised more races in the near future.

Salem boats failed to place first in any event. They took two seconds and three third places.

Ay-Round the Corner

Seven of the ten boats competing in the class E event at Sunday's boat races on the Willamette river roared around one of the turns. About 4000 fans turned out to see the afternoon of boat races, with Lebanon racers taking home the most of the honors. John Brown of Lebanon, who is in second position in this photo, went ahead to win the race.

State Semi-Pro Tourney Opens Tomorrow Night

Silverton—The 1952 Oregon state semipro baseball tournament opens Tuesday night at Silverton's McGinnis field, site of many state tourneys in the past.

Salem News Agency and the Silverton Red Sox, both members of the Oregon state league, will tangle in the tourney's opening game at 8 o'clock standard time Tuesday.

Silverton will be highly favored for the contest, on the strength of their 10 victories in their last 11 games.

A 10-game Red Sox winning streak was broken yesterday when the Harlem Globe Trotters defeated them, 6-3.

Other teams participating in the state tournament are Mt. Angel, Stayton, McMinnville and Albany.

One game will be played each night through July 31. Winner of the tournament will earn the right to meet the Washington state champion for a berth in the national tournament at Wichita, Kans.

DiBiasi Likes Solid Ground

Vince DiBiasi, newest member of the Salem Senator pitching corps, refuses to ride airplanes . . . when he was with the Portland Beavers, he and teammate Joe Lafata would keep each other company on the train while the rest of the Portland team traveled by air . . . Lafata isn't riding the rails himself now . . . he, like DiBiasi, has been released by the Beavers . . . so Portland has an all-flying team . . . and how they flew in their recent series with Los Angeles . . . seven wins and two losses.

Kegling Chatter

Bowling babble: Mary Colvin of Salem became a member of the bowlers' carbon copy club by tossing a 143-143-143 in a recent series . . . congrats to Frank Evans, Pinky Hartwell and John Glott. That Salem trio was listed as honorable mentions for the 1952 all-western bowling team . . . also to Dick Phipps, for turning in the first 700 series in over a year at Capital alleys. Phills tossed games of 178, 208 and 225 for a 711 series . . . L. Lance and C. Foreman of Salem are among those to pick up the "impossible" 7-10 split recently.

Shor Is Nice of Him

Toots Shor, owner and operator of New York's favorite hang-out for sports luminaries, is always eager to do what he can for sports personalities of the past and present . . . his latest little favorite: financing a trip to the Olympic games at Helsinki for Jim Thorpe, "world's greatest athlete," who made history in the 1912 event at Stockholm.

Works, Eh?

One of the theories of how to win a baseball pennant is to whip the second-division clubs and forget about the rest . . . we respectfully call your attention to the National league standings of today and the fact that Brooklyn has won 35 out of 36 games from the sixth, seventh and eighth place teams in league play.

Mat Stars Die

Wrestling fans will be sad to learn that three prominent stars of the mat have died in the last two months . . . they were Stocky Kneilson, Alex Kasaboski and Terry McGinnis.

Phillips Field To Be Dedicated At 8 Tonight

Salem's new softball field in Bush's pasture—Phillips field—will be dedicated with a brief ceremony and three games of three innings each tonight.

After dignitaries give forth with appropriate dedication speeches, the Bears meet Teamsters at 8 o'clock. Following that, Salem Merchants tangle with Hallmark Cards and Campbell Rock Wool faces Randle Oil. Each game will be for three innings only.

Ed Randle, Ralph Maddy and Don Vandervort have been working on the dedication night. Purpose of the dedication is to give Salem fans an opportunity to see Salem's newest recreation facility in use.

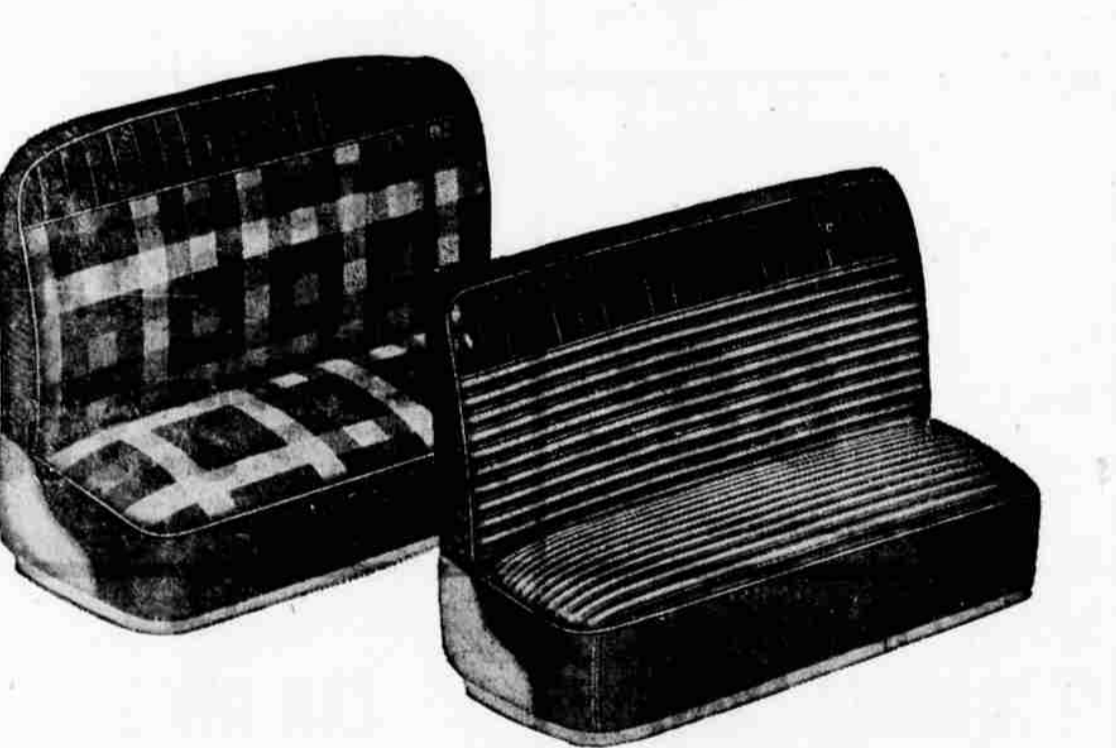

Estey, Kidd Win Portland City Titles

Portland (AP)—Dick Estey and Mrs. Naomi Kidd, both Portlanders, were Portland city golf champions Monday after triumphing in the finals held at the Eastmoreland course Saturday.

Estey, 22-year-old ex-state champion, sank a 25-foot putt for a bogey five on the 36th hole to take a 1-up decision over Ben Hughes of Portland and the men's crown as the 35th annual Portland city golf championship matches closed.

Mrs. Kidd defeated Mrs. Richard Grubbs of Portland, 2 to 1, in the scheduled 36-hole women's title bout. All even after 17 holes, the pair of woman golfers broke apart on the 18th when Mrs. Kidd took it with a par four to go to lunch one up. After that the game was Naomi's all the way to the 35th hole where the match ended.
