Stock Market

New York (AP)—The stock market was quietly higher Monday with the Democratic National Convention getting most of Wall street's attention. The close was without feature.

There was little or no trading emphasis in any part of the list with prices spread out over a range of fractions lower to between 1 and 2 points higher.

Volume came to an estimated 800,000 shares.

Chicago Livestock

Chicago (AP)—Farmers who put hogs on the market Monday received some of the best prices in 11 months. Average values were up 25 to 50 cents over Friday.

Two loads sold at $23.25 a hundred pounds, matching the recent peak of May 19 which was highest since Aug. 13.

Most barrows and gilts sold from $20.00 to $23.00 and sows from $16.50 to $19.00. Clearance was good.

Cattle were steady to 50 cents lower, vealers steady to $1.00 off, and sheep unevenly strong to 50 cents lower with spring lambs showing the decline and ewes the strength.

Most choice and prime steers brought $31.50 to $34.50, a few loads going on up to $34.75 to $35.50. Choice and prime heifers were $32.00 to $33.00. Cows topped at $23.00, bulls at $27.75, and vealers at $33.00.

Most spring lambs took $29.00 to $30.00 with the top at $30.50. Old-crop lambs and yearlings were mostly $23.00 to $24.75, one load touching $25.00. Ewes were $9.00 and below.

Estimated receipts included 9,500 hogs, 14,000 cattle, 400 calves and 1,500 sheep.

Heavy Burden On Counties

A heavy burden will be placed on the budgets of the O&C land grant counties by the expenditure of the federal government in constructing access roads into timbered areas.

This was the report relayed to the county court Monday by Commissioner Roy J. Rice, who represented the court at a conference held in Portland late last week. The counties will be required to build connecting roads with the access roads to carry the heavy loads that will come out of the timber. The government is prepared to spend $2,750,000 in access road construction.

Construction of access roads is something of a problem because of the checkerboard design of the land involved. Part of it is privately owned, while the federal government holds title to some and additional acreage is O&C grant land.

It was reported at the conference that 80 per cent of Douglas county-budget for the year will be devoted to roads.

Legislation calculated to clarify the O&C land grant situation is expected to be considered at the next session of congress, reports Rice. Before legislation is introduced, congress would like a more concrete picture as to the tax situation in Oregon and it is probable hearings in this connection will be held in the state.

Deserter Turns in After 47 Years

Portland (AP) — Banks C. Roddey, who Sunday told police here that 47 years ago he deserted his Army post in Alaska after embezzling government funds was held in jail for Army authorities.

He told police: "It's been on my mind constantly. I should have turned myself in a long time ago." Here is the story he told:

In 1905, during the gold rush, he began embezzling government money while an Army sergeant at Fairbanks, Alaska. He discovered one day that his accounts were $300 to $400 short and that he had no chance of repaying the money. So he made up his mind "to get away as soon and as far as I could."

He trekked 300 miles overland to a seaport and sailed to San Francisco. Later he came to Portland where he made a meager living as a mechanic under the assumed name, James T. Coss.

He spent six months in the Oregon State prison in the early 1930s for armed robbery.
