Silverton Parks Attract Weekend Family Reunions

Silverton—The 100th anniversary of the arrival of the White clan was observed in reunion at Coolidge and McClaine Silverton city park, Sunday.

Descendants of the four children of Virginia Q. (Foster) White attended the reunion. Her husband, Peter White, died while crossing the plains and was buried at Fort Laramie. Mrs. White, 39 years of age, was left with four children, the oldest only 7 years of age. Mrs. White homesteaded in the autumn of 1852, seven miles north of Silverton, the property is still in the family name with the residents, the family of Gasner White, son of John Robert White who was the son of Virginia Q. White. Her other three children were Marion Jackson White, who never married; America Q. Ross and Elizabeth Jane Gleason. It is believed by the members of the clan that Mrs. White was born in Missouri, May 2, 1813, her parents having previously lived in Kentucky and Illinois.

Honoring Mrs. Virginia Q. White was a large picture enlarged and appropriately framed, draped by a hand-woven blue and white counterpane woven by Mrs. White, and brought across the plains. The central decorative theme of the dinner table was a huge brass vase of many colored gladioluses from the Harvey Hallett gardens.

Among other remembrances of the honored woman on display was her Christian church letter of transfer from Missouri, a vanity case, a snuff box and an unique nut cracker. Read to the guests present was a letter of greeting from Merle Briggs, son of Lulu White-Briggs, who is the oldest great-grandson of Mrs. White. He was born on the White homestead, and is now a member of the high school teachers faculty of Anady Union high in Sebastopol, Calif.

Two four-generation groups were among the guests, Sunday. These were Gasner White, Ruth nell and daughter, Nadine, all from Long Beach, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Don Miley recently returned from Salem where he was attending summer school at Willamette university.

At the Warren Varcoe home over the week-end were her mother, Mrs. Rose Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bach and Joe Marriage, all from Portland.

Mrs. Gwen Schaer and Mrs. A. T. Barnhardt, teachers in the local grade school, returned Friday from Monmouth where they had attended summer school for the past six weeks.

Billie Mills of Newport has been at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kelle for the past two weeks. Mrs. Marshall Lake of Portland spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of her grandmother-in-law, Mrs. Lillie Lake. Mrs. Marshall Lake is employed in Portland while her husband is with the armed forces in Korea.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Ambers have returned to Gates from Medford and are again operating the Maples tavern on the highway east of Gates.

Emerson Yoder was elected

Beck, Betty Beck-Davis and Bobby Davis; and Jennie Loudon, Virgil and Jessie Loudon, Clover and Gale Harding and Thomas and Gene Harding.
