Portland (AP) — Defending Champion Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., was scheduled to test the Waverly Country Club course Wednesday in a warm-up for opening of the 1952 National Women's Golf tournament Monday.

Miss Kirby arrived Tuesday but decided against an immediate practice round. She planned to tour the layout Wednesday with Miss Claire Doran, Cleveland, O., a member of the American Curtis Cup team, who arrived with Miss Kirby.

Mrs. Harold Wheeler, registration chairman, said more than 40 of the field of 162 entered already had signed in at Waverly and were getting the "feel" of the course. Among those who will compete Monday are Miss Gracie DeMoss of Corvallis and Miss Pat Lesser of Seattle.

Slav Olympic Athletes Say They'll Stay

Ruesselsheim, Germany (AP) — Eight husky young men from Yugoslavia's Olympic rowing team disclosed here Monday they are not going to return to their Communist homeland even if Premier Marshal Tito does say his brand of Communism isn't like Stalin's.

The team's manager, Slavko Jankovic, said he and seven others are asking asylum of the West and "We want to go to Canada."

Seeking refuge with him are six members of the Yugoslav eight-oar crew, and the stroke oar from the two-man squad with coxswain which competed at Helsinki.

"We hear that there are also four other Yugoslav rowers now in Bochum, Germany, who are not going back, but we are not sure about that," Jankovic said. The other seven with Jankovic did not want to give their names because all had relatives and one had a wife in Yugoslavia. Their ages range from 21 to 36 years.

Emil Zatopek Declines to Visit States

Vienna (AP) — Czechoslovak Olympic star Emil Zatopek, who won three long distance events at Helsinki, has refused an invitation to visit the United States with his wife.

Zatopek in a Prague radio broadcast said Monday he had received several invitations to visit the U.S. and other Western countries, but he "refuses to take part in an American circus."

Ring Critic Thinks Philly Best Place for Title Fight

By JACK CUDDY
New York (AP) — Tommy Loughran, one of the most severe critics of current boxing, surprised his listeners Wednesday by predicting:

(1) The Jersey Joe Walcott-Rocky Marciano heavyweight title fight at Philadelphia Sept. 23, will draw more money in the City of Brotherly Love than if it had been slated for New York or any other metropolis.

(2) Marciano, "the most colorful fighter since Jack Dempsey," will win the championship from ancient Walcott and will inspire thousands of youngsters from coast to coast to become professional boxers.

Loughran, former world light heavyweight champion, said, "I can't understand why everyone is bemoaning the fact that the big fight will be held in Philadelphia instead of New York. It's really a Philadelphia fight. After all, Walcott comes from Camden, N.J.—just across the river from Philadelphia—and he has a tremendous following in that part of Pennsylvania and in New Jersey. Also, anyone who would come from New England to New York would add a bit of mileage and continue on to Philadelphia. And New York fans will go to Philadelphia if they figure they're going to see a knock-down-drag-out brawl."

Could it be that the erect, brown-haired, 49-year-old ex-warrior with the scar tattos about his brows and mouth favored Philadelphia because it was his home town until he moved to New York in 1945, long after his 1937 retirement? "No," said Tommy, "I favor nothing and nowhere in boxing today. I suspect much dishonesty in the sport. But I must give credit where it is due. I believe Philadelphia is the best site for the fight, and I believe Marciano will beat Walcott."

"Yes, I've seen both fight several times. Marciano is the heaviest puncher and most colorful fighter since Dempsey. Yes, he's much more colorful and captivating than Joe Louis was. Louis was a plodder, a stalker, a mechanical fighter with great handspeed. He left little to the imagination. He always wanted the opponent to lead. Marciano marches in throwing punches—like Dempsey used to do. He gambles that he'll knock you out before you stiffen him. You've got to admire a guy like him."

Loughran, now a successful sugar broker in Wall Street, is generally considered one of the smartest boxers that ever tossed leather, although he was not a great puncher. He had 227 professional bouts from 1919 to 1937. He won the light heavy crown from Mike McTigue in 1927 and gave up the title in 1929 to campaign as a heavyweight.

He challenged huge Primo Carnera for the heavyweight crown at Miami, Fla., March 1, 1934. But he lost the decision after "Satchel Foot" Primo had spent most of the 15 rounds stepping on Tommy's erstwhile speedy toes.

"It will be a great thing for boxing if hell-for-leather Marciano beats 38-year-old Walcott," he said. Tommy concluded, "And he will."

Cary Pushing Boros for Top Money Maker

By BILL ROSENRETER
Kansas City, Mo., (AP) — Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., who won his fourth major golf championship of the year by beating Jack Burke, Jr., Houston, Tex., in a playoff here Monday, had a golf bank account of $30,139.98 Tuesday and was pressing Julius Boros for the top money-making position of 1952.

Scoring a six-under-par 66, to beat Burke's par golf by six shots, Middlecoff was only $4,242.99 back of Boros, the U. S. Open champion as both headed for the Fort Wayne, Ind., Open beginning Thursday.

Burke, who missed a 30-inch putt Sunday for a clear claim to the Kansas City Open championship, never was in contention after the first four holes Monday. Middlecoff started off with four birdies in a row to be three up, made the turn in 32, four under par and as many strokes better than Burke, and then coasted in.

The victory was the second in three playoffs for Middlecoff this year, and also was the second playoff loss for Burke.

Ex-Notre Dame Coach Says Irish Are Still Building

New York (AP) — Hughie Devore, who served a one-year hitch as Notre Dame football coach during the last war, ignored the Irish Wednesday in a pre-season forecast and picked Michigan State as the major power of 1952.

According to the soft-spoken husky Irishman, who is now head coach at New York University, it may take another year or two before Notre Dame again regains the national championship.

"I don't think Notre Dame will be as strong this year as a lot of people think," said Devore, who was a star end under Knute Rockne at the South Bend institution during the early '30's.

"They're still rebuilding out there," he added, "and it all depends if those kids come through. I know Frank Leahy used mostly sophomores last year, but they still may be a little green."

Fearful that as an ex-Irish player and coach he might be charged with heresy, Devore hastened to add the men of Leahy "will give a good account of themselves" this season despite their inexperience "because they're one of the best-coached teams in the country." Along with Michigan State in the midwest, Devore likes Princeton in the east, Maryland in the south, Texas in the southwest and Southern California in the west.

"I don't think there is any question that Princeton will be as strong as ever this season," Devore pointed out, "although Columbia could be the east's dark horse. And there are three teams on our schedule at NYU-Boston university, Holy Cross and Fordham, that should rank as contenders in the east."

Like Leahy at Notre Dame, Devore, too, is in the midst of a rebuilding program. During his two-year tenure as Violet coach, large Hughie has joined his players in only two victory celebrations, and he still isn't certain what the forthcoming season holds in store for him and his players.

"We'll be playing one of our toughest schedules in years," Devore explained, "and I'm not sure my boys will be quite up to it. Our main problem is depth. We have approximately 18 lettermen back, but we look weak at several positions, especially at quarterback. And that's where our opponents are strong."
