Long-Planned Trip to Rome Realized by Father Bernards

By MARGUERITE GLEESON

Members of St. Joseph's Catholic parish in Salem are more than slightly interested in the picture of their former pastor, Father T. J. Bernards, with Rt. Rev. Francis P. Leipzig, bishop of Baker, Ore., taken in Rome with Pope Pius XII.

The trip to Rome was given as a gift to Father Bernards, now of Oregon City, two years ago during the closing months of the 1950 holy year.

Before plans had been completed the Eugene pastor was named bishop of the eastern Oregon diocese and ceremonies in connection of the new bishop made the trip impossible.

Then when Father Bernards was getting ready to leave, Father Head, OSB, the priest who was to assist at St. Joseph's during his absence, was lost by drowning near the Oregon coast.

Abbot Thomas Meier of Mt. Angel had no one who could be spared to help out in Salem and so the trip was postponed. Father Bernards was known not to be too unhappy at the postponement since he wanted to make the trip with his close friend of seminary days, Bishop Leipzig.

Then Salem friends heard that the long postponed trip was to be made this year.

Father George O'Keefe, who was pastor of St. Vincent de Paul parish in Salem in the spring of 1950, the holy year, was given a similar trip to Rome and made it in the later summer and early fall. Transferred to St. Stephens in Portland later, he returned to tell the Salem parishioners of his trip in the fall of 1950 after he returned.

Members of the parish recalled this week that the presentation was made in St. Joseph's hall which was torn down in the spring of 1951 to make way for the new church now being constructed.

O'Rourke, Oswego; Neil Morfitt and Miss Dorothy Wooten, Astoria; Gerald Kelly, St. Helens; Mrs. Cecil Johnson, Scappoose; Kenneth Potts and Mrs. Leon Perry, Salem; Cal Martin and Mrs. Frank J. Guerin, Newport; Robert Gordon and Mrs. Irving Smith, Tillamook; Mervin Brink and Mrs. William B. Chandler, Hillsboro; Andy Van Otter, Amity and Mrs. Townner Menefee, Yamhill.

According to district chairman Meeker, the ground-swell for Eisenhower has increased since the general's visit to Oregon and Meeker expressed complete confidence that Eisenhower's victory in November would come about by activities of those who demand a change in administration.

$85,000 Asked In Damage Suit

Suit for judgment of $50,000 general and $35,000 special damages was filed in the Marion county circuit court Tuesday by Edna B. Sloan against Bernard Bender and Grace Weeder.

The complaint states that the automobile which the plaintiff was driving was struck by the one operated by the plaintiffs the night of November 26, 1950, near the juncture of Lancaster drive and Macleay road.

The plaintiff charges that the defendants were operating at a speed that was greater than reasonable, that they were driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and that they failed to render assistance when her car became engulfed in flames.

$20,000,000

"Frankly I don't like the idea of mortgaging the future," the governor declared. "I have always favored the pay-as-you-go plan of financing. The drastic need for new and improved highways made the highway bond proposal, approved by the 1951 legislature, a necessity. But on a building program, I would want to give the subject more study.

Members of the board began studying the 1953-55 building program. It was decided that a number of meetings would be required before members of the board could work out priorities to recommend to the legislature.

Balanced Budget

Governor McKay said that it now appeared that the budget for the next biennium could be balanced and leave about $5 or $6 millions to be applied to a building program. The board of higher education has submitted a $9 million building program and the tentative institutional building program for the next two years totaled about $8,000,000. This would be increased, the governor said, if the people vote in favor of establishing a domiciliary state hospital for mentally ill near Portland.

"It is obvious that neither this board or the board of higher education can expect the legislature to approve its entire submitted program," Gov. McKay said. "For that reason we must make up a priority list so that the legislature can decide which building comes first."

Supreme Court Building

Francis Keally, New York architect, submitted tentative plans for a new supreme court building to be located south of Union street on North Summer street. The center of the proposed building would be only 36 feet high, thus leaving a view of the dome of the capitol for those approaching the capitol from the north.

Keally also showed members of the board a sketch showing development of the mall to Union street, with additional office buildings that he declared might not be needed for 25 or more years.

Keally told members of the board that he would remain in Salem for a number of days and hold a further conference with them later in the week.

Six Men, Six Women On 2nd Hansen Jury

Albany, Ore. (AP)—A jury of six men and six women was seated Tuesday to hear the retrial of Mrs. Margrethe Hansen, 52, Corvallis, on a murder charge.

Mrs. Hansen was convicted in Benton county in January of 1951 on a charge of killing her husband, Sigurd, with the family car in their garage in September of 1950. The jury recommended life imprisonment. However, the State Supreme Court reversed the conviction and ordered the second trial to be moved here.

Big Truckers Bill Cost Highways $17 Million

Portland (AP)—Budgets of $1,001,000 for the State Park Department and $274,711 for the Travel Department were approved here Monday by the State Highway Commission.

The commissioners reported that these budgets and the general budget now under consideration would have to be revised if the constitutional amendment banning weight-mile taxes for trucks is approved at the Nov. 4 election.

The commission said the amendment, if approved, would result in a loss of 17 million dollars in highway revenues in the next two years.

The trucking industry, which is sponsoring the amendment, contends the weight-mile tax program, approved by the last legislature, is unfair to truckers.

In other action the commission discussed asking the legislature for an amendment to the law to allow the commission to sell logs which weighmasters force overloaded truckers to dump at weighing stations.

Approved an access road from Lakeside, Coos county, to the new Coast Highway, one mile north of Lakeside.

Approved an agreement with Salem for cooperative traffic signal installations.

Approved a survey for permanent location of Highway 99 West between Monmouth and Orr Corner in Polk county.
