Bill Offered to Change Date Of Higher Truck Fee Payment

A bill to change the effective date of the increased truck fee law from January 1, 1952, to November 5, 1952, will be introduced in the legislature by the interim highway committee.

This action, agreed upon at a meeting of the committee Thursday, will be taken in the interest of the Oregon truck owners, many of whom opposed the big truckers' bills which were overwhelmingly defeated by the voters at the November 4 election.

"If the increased fee schedule is made retroactive as provided for in the Attorney General George Neuner's opinion, it would work a tremendous hardship on many small truckers in Oregon," said State Senator Elmo Smith, chairman of the committee.

The committee pointed out that their position in the matter is only a recommendation, and there is no assurance of concurrence by the legislature. Therefore, the committee warned all persons affected should take proper precautions to preclude any possible penalties being found against them.

The committee members were unanimous in taking the action which is expected to result in forgiveness of the increased tax during the first 10 months of 1952.

Members attending the meeting Thursday in addition to Sen. Smith, included Senators Angus Gibson, Reps. Pat Lonergan,
