Planes Ferry Ton of Food

Anchorage, Alaska (AP)—Commercial and bush pilots, operating as an airlift team, ferried a ton of food to an interior Alaska village where residents were reported starving after a mass outbreak of pneumonia.

Reports reaching here Sunday said most of the 85-odd residents of Nikolai were hit by pneumonia and the villagers were unable to obtain food through fishing and trapping.

The Air Force started the airlift when the village's plight became known Friday. Air Force planes flew the food to McGrath, some 60 miles from the village.

Air Force planes were unable to land at Nikolai and Northern Consolidated Airlines fliers and bush pilots with ski-equipped planes took over the mercy mission, flying needed supplies to the village Saturday and Sunday.

Memorial of Used Clothing In Honor of Air Force Officer

Denver (AP)—A memorial of used clothing is piling up here and elsewhere in honor of a compassionate air force officer who died in Korea fighting for those he wanted to help.

Millions in Waste Seen

Washington, (AP)—Rep Scrivner (R., Kan.) says the government is wasting millions of dollars by giving uniforms to servicemen at the time of their discharge.

"Most of them will tell you quite frankly unless Uncle Sam reaches out and grabs them again, they are never going to put on a uniform," he said during a recent hearing by a house appropriations subcommittee. The record was made public today.

Anyway, Scrivner added, the uniforms are for trained-down soldiers and "within three or four months after they are discharged, the veterans will have 'gained' so much weight that they cannot even get into their uniforms."

Brown's Daughters Off for Honeymoons

Beverly Hills, Calif. (AP)—Joe E. Brown's two daughters and their bridegrooms are off on a honeymoon together to Coronado, Calif., and the Hawaiian Islands.

Comedian Brown made two trips down the aisle of St. Martin of Tours Catholic church Saturday to give his pretty daughters in marriage.

The first was with blonde Mary Elizabeth Ann Brown, 23, who married Stephen K. Fair, Jr., 22, of Los Angeles. The second was with brunette Katherine Frances Brown, 19, who became the bride of Armond L. Lisle, 23, of Beverly Hills.

The Rev. Augustine C. Murray performed the two double ring ceremonies before 800 guests.

The clothing will go to needy South Koreans at the request of Maj Theodore H. Kuch, Jr., former resident of Trenton, N. J., who was killed in action flying a combat mission last Dec. 5.

Shortly before his death, Maj. Kuch wrote asking his wife and parents to send him all the clothing they could round up so he could distribute it to suffering South Korean children.

"That is the Christmas present I want," he wrote his wife, Miriam, now living in Trenton.

"Old clothes, small ones, holey ones, any kind," he wrote. "But send them. Tell the story; let the people know. These people are our allies and they need and can use what we throw away—so don't throw it away. Send the clothes to me and I'll see that they are distributed."

Mrs. Kuch opened the drive at the officers' wives club at Lowry air force base here. The first shipment went to the chaplain of the Eighth bomb squadron, Third bomb group, to which Maj. Kuch was attached.

The drive did not let down with word of the major's death. Rather, the 'Lowry wives are working harder than ever to fulfill Kuch's wishes for his new friend in Korea.

The 3416th aircraft gunner group, with which Kuch served as operations officer while stationed at Lowry, has taken up a collection to pay for shipping clothing to Korea.

Since they received the request of their son in mid-December, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kuch, Sr., of Trenton have been pushing the campaign there and more than six tons of clothing have been collected.

The senior Kuch has requested missionaries, chaplains and air force officers to carry out the intentions of his son.

Clark Lee, War Writer, Dies

Pebble Beach, Calif. (AP)—Clark Lee, 46, one of the nation's top reporters who covered World War II from the fall of Bataan to the surrender of Japan, died yesterday of a heart attack.

He and his wife, Liliuokukalani, a Hawaiian princess he married in 1938, had returned from Spain only a few weeks ago.

Lee's career—which began in 1929 when he joined The Associated Press carried him throughout the world.

After serving in AP bureaus in Mexico City, Honolulu, Shanghai and Tokyo, Lee was caught in Manila when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor.

His eyewitness and often exclusive accounts of the fall of Bataan won him wide acclaim. He later reported battles both in the Pacific and European theaters.

Clark Lee, foreign correspondent, who died Sunday.

In 1946, he settled in this picturesque coastal community for a career of free-lance writing.

Keizer School Plan Favored

Keizer—At a public meeting of the Keizer school board Friday night at the school auditorium to discuss the proposed erection of another school in the Keizer district, it was indicated by the residents attending that they were in favor of the new 7-room school.

Approximately 50 attended the meeting and a majority seemed to favor the plan.

The building, if erected, will be situated on property near the end of Evans Ave., where a 10-acre tract is under consideration.

A special bond election is set for Tuesday, Feb. 24 in the Keizer school, polls to be open at 2 p.m. and close at 8 p.m.

The ballot will propose contracting of a bonded indebtedness of $154,000 for the purpose of constructing, equipping and furnishing a new school in the district.

The present school according to Sam Orcutt, president of the school board, is now filled to capacity and with an estimated increase of 126 next year will bring double shift classes unless extra rooms can be acquired.

Chester Arthur, born in Fairfield, Vt., had a birthplace farther north than that of any other U. S. president.
