Golfer Ben Hogan, supported by a million dollars' worth of acting talent, will emerge next month as the star of a television movie.

Called "Faith, Hope and Hogan," it was made on a golf course at Palm Springs, Calif., by Father James Keller and his Christophers, Inc. The Christophers, a unique, world-famed group, hold that individuals working hard as individuals, can change the world into a better place.

Father Keller believes the Hogan story—one of the world's most amazing comebacks—will give courage to millions of people faced with handicaps.

Hogan, nearly killed in a 1949 auto crash, came back from a hospital bed to regain his niche as one of the great golfers of all time.

The movie was shot without script. Father Keller's only advice to Hogan was to say "just whatever comes in mind."

The master golfer more than held his own in the movie with such masters of the ad lib as Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and Phil Harris. Others in the cast are home run slugger Ralph Kiner and movie producer Bill Periberg.

Periberg, a millionaire moviemaker, played a spur-of-the-moment bit as Hogan's caddy. All the artists donated their talents for the movie, soon to be released for the television networks.

Ray Milland, in his original role, will co-star with Phyllis Thaxter in "Close To My Heart," on KOIN-CBS Radio's "Lux Radio Theater" Monday, March 2. Story concerns a young couple who adopt a founding baby, at the wife's insistence, while the husband sets out to learn the identity of the baby's real parents, only to discover that the child is the son of a murderer.

Gordon MacRae welcomes Lucille Norman and Jane Smith as his special guests for "The Railroad Hour" presentation of "Rose of Algeria" on Monday, March 2 (NBC-KGW), 8:30 p.m.

AVOID TRAFFIC SNARL!

One way to avoid a traffic jam is revealed by KOIN-Columbia Pacific Radio Network's Eddie Albright, who received the following item from a listener. A Mrs. Fischer of Medford, Oregon, drives to her job followed by her dog. When she parks her car, the dog goes to sleep under the car. . . Then when Mrs. Fischer finishes her shift, the dog takes the center of the street and barks at all approaching cars till they stop and permit her to drive safely out and point toward home . . . with her faithful dog scampering along behind her!

Mowers Replace Sheep in Park

Power mowers are replacing 70 ovine grass clippers on the meadows of San Francisco's Golden Gate park. The city sheep, purebred Shropshires, will be sold by sealed bids to be opened at San Francisco City Hall, on March 9.

The flock was started a number of years ago by the late John McLaren, park superintendent, and now consists of 52 ewes, three rams and 15 wethers.

Frank Brown of Carlton selected most of the registered rams used in the flock. A more recent sire was imported from England by Ian McKerrow of Wisconsin.

Condition of Indians Makes McKay Unhappy

Washington (AP)—Secretary of the Interior McKay said yesterday that "one of the things I am not very happy about" is the fact that some 40,000 Indians are still on reservations.

Appearing on a CBS television program, McKay urged "full citizenship with full responsibilities" for the Indians. He declined to say how long that might take, adding that "you can't change things overnight."

Study Water Need

Monmouth—A post card poll is being taken of the water users on the city water system on methods preferred for solving the water shortage. This is the first step taken by the citizens committee appointed recently, composed of George Cooper, Anton Postl and C. J. Rolison.

Irish Eat Most and Indians the Least
United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—A new United Nations report says the Irish — those that live in the republic of Ireland, that is — are the world's heaviest eaters.

The U. N. Statistical yearbook for 1952, published today, said that each Irishman averaged 3,500 calories a day in 1951. India had the lowest per capita intake — 1,570 calories, with Burma next lowest at 1,990.
