

OCE, Portland in the NAIA Basketball Finals

Wolves Upset L-Clark; WU Loses to Pilots

By CHRIS KOWITZ, JR.
Portland — Willamette university was eliminated from the Oregon state NAIA basketball tournament by University of Portland, 90-71, in the opening round here last night, but basketball fans of the Salem area who showed up in time for the night's first game had something to cheer about; Oregon College of Education upset Lewis and Clark college 45-35.
As a result of last night's games, OCE and Portland single at 9:30 tonight for the state championship and the right to represent Oregon in the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tournament at Kansas City later this month.
Portland U has won the Oregon title for four straight years, and will be heavily favored over OCE tonight. But, then, Lewis and Clark was heavily favored over the Wolves last night, too.
The Lewis and Clark-OCE game was a thriller all the way, with the score tied 16 times and the lead changing hands 14 times.
No more than five points ever separated the two teams. The

Frank Stojack Defends Coast Rattle Crown

Frank Stojack, the politician from Tacoma, defended his Pacific Coast junior heavyweight wrestling championship at the Salem armory last night, defeating challenger Al Szasz.
Each wrestler had taken a fall in the two-out-of-three falls match, when Szasz clamped his pet wrist lock on Stojack. Szasz apparently had the match won when Stojack suddenly came to life and got Szasz in an airplane spin. That decided it in favor of Stojack.
Elmer and Logger Larsen teamed up to defeat Red Vagnone and Frank James in a tag team match in the semi-final event. James was substituting for Buck Weaver, who has the flu, and James and Vagnone spent about as much time scrapping with each other as they did with their opponents.
Bruno Lubich and Bill Fletcher went to a no-fall draw in the opener.

Salem Team Drops Out in Semi-Finals

Central Point (AP) — Eugene and Portland advanced to the finals of the Oregon AAU basketball tournament Tuesday night.
Eugene topped Bend 80-47 and Portland swamped Salem 91-51.

The title will be decided in a game Wednesday night between Tuesday's winners. Bend and Salem will clash for third place.

B-2 Tourney Set for Start

Moore Shrinking 7-5 Favorite Over Nardico

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Joey Maxim, making his first start since he lost the light heavyweight title to Archie Moore, is a shrinking 7-5 favorite over rugged Danny Nardico of Tampa Wednesday night in a 10-rounder at Miami Stadium.
Surprising support for Nardico, who made a big hit locally by knocking Jake LaMotta off his feet for the first time, Dec. 31, brought the price down from an early 2-1 close to even money. Nardico might even enter the ring the favorite if the current trend continues.
The bout, scheduled for 7 p.m. (PST) will be beamed across the nation on a television network.

Matthews III; Bout Postponed

Portland (AP)—Fight promoter Tex Hager said Tuesday the heavyweight bout between Harry (Kid) Matthews and Freddie Beahore scheduled here next Tuesday has been postponed because Matthews has been hospitalized with tonsillitis.
Hager said he was informed by Jack Hurley, the Kid's manager, that Matthews would not be able to fight for a month or six weeks. Hager said the fight will be re-scheduled sometime next month.

Big Jim Jeffries Dies Of Heart Attack at 77

Burbank, Calif. (AP)—James J. Jeffries—Big Jim, the beller-maker boy who became one of the world's greatest heavy-weight boxing champions—died last night. He was 77.
Jeffries, a semi-invalid since a stroke seven years ago, died in his home in bed after asking his niece and housekeeper, Mrs. Lillian Bull, to call a doctor.
He had been feeling rather well in recent weeks, even up to attending a social function or two, Mrs. Bull said. But he died before the doctor arrived.
Dr. William M. Nethery said a heart attack (coronary thrombosis) was the cause.
Never knocked out in his 19-year ring career, Jeffries reigned as king of the heavyweights from 1899 to 1905, when he retired undefeated. But, coaxed out of retirement, he met Jack Johnson, his successor as champion, in 1910. Johnson won on a technical knockout in the 15th round to close the career of Jeffries, then 35.
But in his prime, many veteran fight fans aver, there was no one like Big Jim for speed and hitting power. Carrying 220 pounds on a 6 foot 1½ inch frame at his peak, he twice knocked out Jim Corbett and the great Australian, Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons.
His victories over Sailor Tom Sharkey, Gus Ruhlin and Joe Choynski rank among the fiercest battles in the days when prize-fights were long and brutal. His overall record: 23 fights, 11 knockouts, 7 decisions, 2 draws, 2 exhibitions—and the one loss to Johnson.

Kramer Leads 22-19

Havana (AP)—Jack Kramer beat Australian Frank Sedgman 12-10, 5-7, 6-4, before 4,000 tennis fans in the Sports Palace Tuesday night to take a 22-19 lead in their pro tennis tour.
Night games Thursday, the first starting at 7 o'clock, send Valsets of the Polk county B league against Corbett, and Sublimity of the Marion county B league against Colton.
Semi-final games will be played Friday night, beginning at 7:30, with the championship final set for 9 p.m. Saturday, following a playoff for third place between the losers of Friday night games.
Winners of the three-day tournament will earn a berth in the Oregon state class B tourney, slated for Willamette's gym on March 12, 13 and 14.

A playoff opening Friday will determine which of the three schools will get the District 16 title. Jefferson will meet Benson and the winner will play Roosevelt on the following Tuesday.

James J. Jeffries

Born in Carroll, O., April 15, 1875, of Irish-American stock, Jeffries was one of eight children of a Methodist clergyman. The family moved to Los Angeles when Jim was only 6, and the lad went to work early in railroad shops and iron foundries as a boiler-maker.
He had his first professional fight in 1891, at the age of 16, knocking out Hank Griffin in the 14th round and earning $500. His mother then persuaded him to quit the ring until he was 21.
Jeffries won the heavyweight title by knocking out Fitzsimmons in the 11th round at Coney Island, N. Y., June 9, 1899. Five months later he successfully defended his crown with a 25-round decision over Sharkey.
