

Guests at Star Meet On Tuesday

More than 50 guests attended the friendship night of Chadwick chapter, Order of Eastern Star, on Tuesday evening. Chapters from Independence, Albany and Dallas were especially honored with guests present from other Willamette valley cities and out of state.

Escorted to the east were Mrs. Paul H. Hauser, grand historian of grand chapter; Mrs. Clara Van Loan of Independence, grand representative of Texas; Mrs. W. H. Lewis, grand representative of Tennessee; Mrs. Arthur Lewis and Richard Carlson, worthy matron and patron of Naomi chapter in Dallas; Mrs. Dena Hofstetter, worthy matron of Ada chapter in Independence; George Bickman, worthy patron of Brazillia chapter in Albany.

Initiated into the group were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Shaw. Mrs. Lawrence Taylor was chairman of the refreshments committee and assisting her were Mrs. William Gardner, Mrs. Herman Feltelson, Mrs. Loren L. Loose, Miss Gwen Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Robinson, Mrs. Kenneth Dick, Miss Genevieve Ashford and Mr. and Mrs. Ira Darby.

Board Meets

Salem Heights—Mrs. Robert Hartman was hostess to the executive board of the Salem Heights Mothers club at breakfast on Tuesday morning at her home on West Salem Heights avenue.

Final plans were made for the club's annual chicken dinner to be on March 13, at 6:00 p.m., at the Salem Heights school cafeteria. Mrs. Hale Mickey was named as chairman, and Mrs. L. A. Clinker co-chairman. The proceeds are to be used for the school. Mrs. Myron Butler reported on the Parents council meeting and announced that March 22 was the date for the "Cannery Scandals" put on by the Cannery locals to support the milk fund in the schools.

Other mothers attending were Mrs. L. A. Clinker, Mrs. Francis Gaskins, Mrs. E. A. Bam-

Some Notations . . .

By M. L. F.

Everything glitters this year, from bathing suits to house dresses, every costume seeming to have its touch of sparkling trim — all because of the coronation in England, they say . . . And the "jewels" will go through the washer, so they say . . . And because we like to ape our British cousins, we lose no chance to glitter along with them albeit we have no crowns . . . But speaking of glitter, certainly the annual spring fashion show sponsored by Salem Women's Army and Navy league, Tuesday afternoon at the Marlon hotel, was a glittering affair, one of the showiest events of its kind in a long time here . . . A capacity house greeted the showing, too . . . It was a beautiful array of spring and early summer attire from Johnson's store . . . Again we say Mrs. James T. Brand should go into the business of being a commentator — half the success of the show comes from her original chatter and comments . . . The setting was especially interesting for the Tuesday show . . . The theme was "Reflections of 1933" so the mirror or reflecting idea was carried out . . . The models stepped through a huge frame representing the frame around a mirror — this one an all-white frame trimmed with an eyelid effect laced with cyclamen pink ribbon . . . A huge oval mirror faced the models just as they turned to step up on the ramp that ran out through the crowd . . . Old fashioned furniture and numerous spring blooms completed the setting . . . Organ music was played throughout the show by Mary Barton . . . Jan Denny also played the organ. Mrs. H. G. Malson, president of the league, welcomed the guests . . . Also carrying out the reflections theme was the twin-sister idea, three sets of twins modeling clothes, some identical costumes, others identical in style but in different colors . . . There also were two or three mother and daughter teams, one of the most effective combinations being Mrs. Lynn M. Hammerstad and daughter, Lynne ford, Jr., Mrs. O. K. Neilson, Mrs. J. M. Ballard, Mrs. Del Ramsdell, Mrs. Vernon Wadsworth and Mrs. Louis Kurth.

Among the guests glimpsed at the show and tea — Mrs. Howard Belton, Canby, Mrs. Angus Gibson, Junction City, Mrs. Richard Neuberger, Portland, Mrs. E. A. Geary, Klamath Falls, Mrs. B. A. Stover, Bend, Mrs. Paul Geddes, Roseburg, all from the group of legislators' wives; Mrs. Ralph Wirth, Mrs. Russell E. Pratt, Mrs. Charles E. Wagner, and her daughter, Mrs. Vernon Drye; Mrs. Joseph B. Felton, Mrs. Glenn Woodry, Mrs. Arnold Kreuger, Mrs. W. J. Braun, Mrs. Kenneth Potts, Mrs. Edward Roth, Mrs. Robert E. Joseph, Mrs. Loring Schmidt, Mrs. J. B. Monette, Mrs. Harry S. Dorman, Mrs. David Eason, Mrs. Homer Smith, Jr., Mrs. Bruce F. Pickett, Mrs. Robert Y. Thornton, Mrs. Clifton Mudd, Mrs. Wilmer H. Page, Mrs. Harold Fox, Mrs. Charles D. Wood, Mrs. Henry M. Hansen, Mrs. George Alken, Mrs. Carl W. Chambers, Mrs. William C. Ferry, Mrs. George T. Bunn,
