

At OSC Students Look to Spring Term

By ALICE LEHMAN
(Capital Journal Correspondent)
Oregon State College, Corvallis (Special)—Happy days are here again since the OSC basketball team won 3 out of 4 games from Oregon in conference play for this season. The Oregon State team now holds the chancellor's trophy donated by Dr. Charles D. Byrne, chancellor of higher education in Oregon. This trophy presented for the first time this year goes to the winner of the Oregon-Oregon State series. Also along the line of basketball is the NCAA tournament to be held in the Coliseum March 13 and 14. For these two nights the coliseum will be transformed into a TV theater. Technicians were down from Seattle and said conditions are excellent. A tower will be set up on the Agriculture building here on campus to transmit the game to Portland and, from Portland to Seattle it will go by telephone wire.

The Oregon State college concert band presents its winter term concert Tuesday night in the coliseum. The band is now preparing for their spring vacation tour to southern Oregon. Members of the concert band from Salem who played in the concert Tuesday and who will be touring with the band are: Jim Todd, student director; Bob Scott, Jerry Gillespie, Arvin Cross, Lloyd Hamlin, Donna Whitlock, and Alice Lehman. The OSC traveling talent show left yesterday for Portland in their first of a series of exchange assemblies. Members from Salem traveling with the show are: John Day, who does a "Charleston" act, and Jim Todd and Jerry Gillespie, members of the band.

Elections continue and several names have been listed from Salem. Katja Lietuviets was elected intramural manager of Jameson House. Katja is also running for secretary of Women's Recreational association. Business and Technology club is holding its elections tomorrow. Two Salem men, Richard Evans and Dennis Feika, are running for treasurer of the organization.

This past term Evi Taram and Jo Sittler have been active in the WRA intramural program. They both worked as assistants of intramural basketball.

Come next Saturday upper class students will travel to the coliseum to register for spring term classes. This will be the last trip through the lines for the seniors. Seniors from Salem include: Kenneth Andresen, Leona Burgoyne, Clement Butte, John Day, George Error, Charles Foster, James Ginguch, Herl Holdin, Lloyd Honeysette, Robert Irving, Gordon Johnson, Florence Kubin, Lorraine Welling, Alan Olsen, Bill Rock, Don Young, Alvis Miller, and George Porter.

Miss Saylor is a sophomore in liberal arts at the university, and a graduate of Salem high school.

Camp Fire Girls Group in Portland

Camp Fire Girls councils in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana were represented at the annual regional meeting in Portland February 26-28. There were 170 Horizon girls registered for the conference. Five Horizon clubs from the Willamette area council were represented. Delegates from Salem were Joyce Randall, Sandra Carter, Judy Loucks, Julie Miller, Gilberta Bates and Gail Blush. From Dallas clubs were Clydene McWhirter and Kathleen Kelley, and Nancy Briggs and DeEtte Davis represented Corvallis Horizon clubs.

Adult council members representing the Willamette area council were Mrs. W. E. Gardner of Salem, regional representative; Mrs. Raymond B. Olson, chairman of the Salem district; and Mrs. Frank Kolsky, Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woods, Mrs. William Young and Mrs. Robert Kelley from Dallas; Mrs. John Swarhout, Mrs. John Giffin, Mrs. John Smith who participated on the camping panel; Mrs. Cal Monroe, Mrs. C. H. Briggs, Mrs. Wally Pease, and Mrs. S. M. Zeller from Corvallis. Mrs. Zeller was elected for a second term on the executive committee.

Lions Auxiliary Names Delegates

Silverton — Mrs. Clifton Dickerson and Mrs. Mae Higginbotham were elected as delegates to the annual spring board meeting to be in Astoria on April 15 at the Monday evening meeting of the Silverton Lions club auxiliary. The meeting and banquet are to be at the John Jacob Astor hotel and will be an all-day and evening affair.

Mrs. Larry Taylor, president, gave a report prepared by the nominating committee, Mrs. William Robbins, Mrs. Walter Lelsy and Mrs. Harry Sherwood. The auxiliary secretary is Mrs. Vester Seydell.

Preparations are under way for assembling an Easter basket for the club's adopted family, the material to be left at the Dickerson store on Friday, April 3, before 5 o'clock.

There will be a white elephant sale at the April 6 meeting.

Mrs. Nyhus was named as chairman of a committee for arranging a box social.

Activities of the auxiliary include sending a girl to the American Legion auxiliary girls state; collecting embroidery materials for the Salem tuberculosis hospital; and taking used Christmas and greeting cards to the Fairview home. Mrs. Clifton Dickerson and Mrs. Mae Higginbotham volunteered to deliver the donations to the homes.

Evasion of Taxes Charged

Portland (AP)—The first of a series of criminal complaints accusing Oregon residents of income tax evasion in 1946 were filed here Tuesday by the U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau.

Ralph Granquist, Oregon director of the bureau, said additional complaints would be filed before March 15, the deadline for the statute of limitations applying to 1946.

Those named in complaints filed Tuesday included: Noble H. Chowning Sr., Coquille, accused of reporting an income of $8,391 instead of $17,910. Willis J. McReynolds, a 150 known as R. L. Leathers, Reedsport, accused of reporting a partner's income of $15,910 instead of $56,910. Isaac L. Hasson, former operator of a Portland card room, accused of reporting his income as $51,485 instead of $86,902.

Staff members from the Willamette area council participating in the Portland meeting were Miss Enid Wolcott, executive director, and Mrs. Janice Hiebert, field director from Salem; and Mrs. Arden Wallace, field director from Corvallis.
