TRAINING CAMP NOTES

By BEN OLAN (AP Sports Writer)
It took a long time for Alvin Dark and the New York Giants to get together on contract terms and it will probably take the rest of the spring training season for Manager Leo Durocher to decide where the 36-year-old infielder will play this year. Dark finally agreed to sign a contract yesterday. A telephone conversation with Giant President Horace Stoneham rang the bell for a two-year pact calling for an estimated $32,500. Dark is the first Giant player since Walker Cooper in 1946 to receive a two-year contract.

With rookie Daryl Spencer, up from Minneapolis, being tabbed as the regular shortstop, Dark is expected to be tried out at second base in the early exhibition games. If the experiment fails, he will be given a chance at third base.

Dark, who batted .301 in 1952 and fielded .965 at shortstop, appeared to be heading for an extended holdout siege. But Stoneham, who it is believed upped his original figure, indicated everything worked out well.

"There were no hard feelings on either side," he said, "and I think you can safely say both sides are satisfied with the final arrangement."

On the other holdout fronts, Ralph Kiner was in the Pittsburgh doghouse yesterday. Kiner, reportedly barking for some $76,000 of the Bucs' cash, remains at his Palm Springs, Calif., home and his absence from the Pirates' Havana quarters is causing no end of anguish to President John Galbreath.

"With Kiner, baseball should come first," Galbreath said yesterday. "He should be thinking about the other members of the squad instead of his sideline occupations." The husky outfielder owns a gift shop in Palm Springs.

At Tucson, General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians reported pitcher Early Wynn and outfielder Larry Doby would come to camp shortly to discuss salary. Both spent the first week of training at home.

Current guesses are that Doby is shooting for $35,000 and Wynn for $40,000. Neither Wynn nor Doby will be able to work out with the Indians until their pay dispute is settled.

Shelter for Oregon Ducks Being Made

With assistance from game agents and interested citizens, many Oregon wood ducks will be well-housed this spring. . . . Outfielder Rip Ripuski is one of the most improved players on the St. Louis Cardinals, according to Manager Eddie Stanky. . . . Johnny Sain, Bob Weisler and Al Cicotte will face the Cardinals in the New York Yankee Grapefruit opener on Saturday. . . . Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider and Don Thompson hit home runs in a Brooklyn intrasquad game. . . . be well-housed this spring. Reports State Game Director F. W. Schneider. This year, game agent will erect 1000 wood duck nest boxes converted from surplus ammunition boxes purchased at the Hermiton Ordnance depot. Another 300 nest boxes have been built at game farms. Several hundred additional wood duck nest boxes are being built by school children, Boy Scouts, and other interested citizens. Champion wood duck box builder is James Rasmussen, 78-year-old retired North Bend builder who has turned over 100 boxes to Game Agent Robert Corthall for distribution in Coos and Curry counties. Other boxes have been built by students of the third grade school and Boy Scouts of Troop 28 in Croswell. Wood ducks, the most colorful waterfowl breeding in Oregon, nest only in hollow trees, and a shortage of these natural homes near water is believed limiting the local wood duck population, explains the game director. Since first setting out wood duck nest boxes on a trial basis in 1951, game agents have noted few vacancies. Bees, screech owls, and sparrow hawks also compete for the wood duck nest boxes. Rough, weathered lumber is recommended for building the boxes. Young wood ducks use sharp toe nails to climb the wall of their home and jump from the entrance hole when their mother calls.
