Loaded Gun Bill Introduced

As expected, a loaded gun bill has been introduced in the legislature. The effect of the bill, if passed, would be to prohibit carrying a rifle or shotgun with live ammunition in the magazine, in cars or other conveyances on public roads or highways. "Conveyances" is a term general enough to include horses, bicycles, wagons, etc., as well as cars. The existing law defines a loaded gun as one having live ammunition in the breach. The new law would alter the definition, so that no ammunition could be carried in the weapon in any manner. Offhand, there seems little that is objectionable in the bill. We think that few people of good sense would carry a loaded gun in their cars in the first place. However, there will be opposition to the bill, more on principle than on the merits of this specific measure. One of the traditional rights of Americans has been to bear arms, and opponents of the bill will state that this is just another step in the direction of forcing citizens to register their sporting weapons. This bill, of course, goes nowhere near that far, and we feel there is no great cause for alarm.

It would seem that conservation interests have won a round in the Pelton dam controversy, though it is too early to be sure. However, indications are that the Pelton dam bill, when and if it comes out of committee, will be turned down till very little of the original bill is recognizable. The right of appeal from decisions of the Hydroelectric Commission will very likely still be present, but there has been little real opposition to this.

Game Law Enforcement Bill Still Live Issue

Apparently, the bill to place game law enforcement in the hands of the Game Commission is not such a dead pigeon as has been commonly supposed. There will be a public hearing on March 19. A possibility exists that the bill will come out of committee soon after, and the support that will be raised in its behalf will surprise a great many people, who have already written this bill off as defeated.

Steelhead are still being taken on the coast, and lacking rain, this weekend should be good. The season closes March 15, and most steelies anglers will be fishing right up to the end. Incidentally, quite a few nice cutthroat trout are being taken on the coast, many running sixteen and seventeen inches.

Bass Fishing Begins

Early-bird bass fishermen are already in evidence on the Willamette. Some big bass, in the three to five pound class, are being netted. Bill Boyer and Bob Singleton, both of Salem, have been successful in recent days. Consensus of opinion favors the use of deep running plugs at present. As the water clears and warms, surface lures will account for many fish. Though the good bass fishing is still a couple of months off, now's a good time to get in practice for some excellent, close to home fishing.

Satch Paige Developing Underhand Toss

San Bernardino, Calif. (AP)—LeRoy Paige, the timeless Satchel of the St. Louis Browns, is working on another pitch to bedevil the opposition. Satchel is developing an underhand, or submarine, pitch.

Rubber-armed Satch doubtless is thinking of the future, when, for instance, he gets to be an old man—if he ever gets to be an old man—and needs this style of delivery to fall back on.

Baseball has seen many an old timer add a few more years to his career with the submarine throw.

Paige, of course, would be the last to admit that he's anywhere near the old man stage. The fact that the club roster shows him to be a mere strapping 45, or the possibility that he might even be as old as Jersey Joe Walcott, fazes Satch not a bit.

"Sooner or later my fast ball will slow down a little so I figure maybe this new underhand pitch will come in handy," Paige explained.

Actually, on a give pitch, there is certainly nothing slow about Satchel's fast ball.

Just think what Old Satchel did for the Browns last year. He won 12 games. He "saved" 10 more, and he figured in 34 percent of all the games Marty Marion's young team captured during the season. He struck out 91 batters to lead the pitching staff in this important department.

Wulf Leads Soph Teams in Scoring With 152 Points

Bob Wulf, with 152 points, led the Salem Sophomore basketball team in scoring during the recently-completed season.

Phil Burkland was second with 145. Other players over the 100 mark were Neal Scheidel with 127 and Marv Rhine with 124.

A total of 13 players saw action on the team during the season.

The Soph team played against junior varsity teams from other schools in preliminary games to the SHS varsity hoop contests.

The Salem Jayvee team competed in the Salem City league this season.

Three Huskies, Two Ducks Gain ND All-Stars

Seattle (AP)—Washington and Oregon players dominated the Pacific Coast Conference Northern Division all-star basketball team announced here by PCC Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt Thursday, with three Huskies and two Ducks getting nods for starting berths on the mythical squad.

Heading the list of Northern Division cage talent was All-America Bob Houbregs of the University of Washington, who, as a center, cracked the PCC scoring record this season with 408 points in 16 loop games.

Houbregs, along with Oregon's Chet Noe, a forward, was a unanimous choice for the first team. It was the second time Houbregs was named to the all-star team, being named last year.

Rounding out the first team as selected by Northern Division coaches were guards Joe Cipriano of Washington and Ken Wegner of Oregon and forward Doug McClary of Washington.

The second team: Forwards, Dwight Morrison, Idaho, and Pete Mullins, Washington State; center, Hartly Kruger, Idaho; and guards, Mike McCutchen, Washington, and Ron Robins, Oregon State.

Honorable mention went to Tom Flynn and Bruce McIntosh, Idaho; Ed Halberg, Oregon; Tony Vlastelica, Oregon State; and Charlie Koon, Washington.

Seattle (AP)—Washington's Northern Division basketball champions square off Friday night against the Southern Division titlists, California's Golden Bears, in the opening game of a best-of-three series to determine the Pacific Coast Conference crown.

The Huskies, paced by All-America Bob Houbregs, whipped through a 16-game Northern Division schedule with only one loss, to Idaho, while the Bears took the Southern Division crown with a 9-3 record.

The Washington quintet, which rambled over the Californians in two pre-season games here, has an over-all season record of 25-2. California's was 16-8.

The second game of the series will be played Saturday night and the third, if necessary, is scheduled for Monday night.

The winner of the series will go into the NCAA western regional playoffs at Corvallis, Ore., March 13-14.

Graham 2-1 Favorite Over Joey Giardello

New York (AP)—Welterweight contender Billy Graham is a 2 to 1 favorite to beat middleweight Joey Giardello at Madison Square Garden Friday night and the veteran New Yorker vows "there will be no doubt about it."

"This time I'll be so far in front there won't be any room for argument," said Graham, loser of two split decisions to the 22-year-old Philadelphiaan.

"I'll win it big," said Giardello. "He'll have nothing to cry about this time."

The three officials who will work the fight certainly hope they're right. It's going to be a tough assignment. Both boxers are counter-fighters who prefer to have their opponents do the leading. And their fighting styles always are difficult to evaluate.

The 12 rounder will be broadcast and telecast starting at 7 p.m. (PST).

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

By BEN FLEGAR (Associated Press Sports Writer)
The "Hondo Hurricane" is blowing up a storm out West again. It may mean that Clint Hartung, the most publicized rookie to come out of World War II, is finally going to make the grade.

Hartung, immediately dubbed the "Phenom" when he showed up at the New York Giants' Phoenix camp in 1947, hung around with the Giants for five years without ever living up to his service reputation as the greatest pitcher since Walter Johnson and the greatest hitter since Babe Ruth.

The Texas kid showed promise in both directions. But the Giants finally gave up on him last spring. They sold him outright to Minneapolis of the American Association. A good minor league season earned him another chance.

The new Hartung is an outfielder. At least he is hitting like an outfielder is expected to, although his fielding still favors the hap-hazard style—the kind that causes you to worry about the guy's life when a high fly comes his direction.

Hartung was the hitting star yesterday in an intrasquad game, driving home both runs as the second-stringers blanked the regulars, 2-0. He belted a solid single and a lustrous triple in three tries. He almost got hit in the head with a fly ball in the field but he had the double handicap of a strong crosswind and a brilliant sun.

He doesn't figure to be the brightest star of the year but it may be that he's shown enough improvement to hold a nice steady job.

Referees Named For State Class A Tournament

Portland (AP)—The Oregon School Activities association Thursday named six referees for the state Class A high school basketball tournament at Eugene March 17-21.

They are Ed Wellnitz from District 6, Frank O'Neill from district 2, Ralph Harper from district 9, Len Patterson from district 15, Canny Echanis from district 1, and Virgil Swanson from district 14.

Bearcats to Be Guests of Salem Breakfast Club

John Lewis and his Willamette university basketball team, which tied Pacific for second place in the Northwest conference this season, will be guests of the Salem Breakfast club Monday.

The club meets at 7:30 a.m. at the Senator hotel, and all male sports fans, whether or not they are members of the club, are invited to attend.

New Hoop Coach At LA Loyola

Los Angeles (AP)—Loyola University of Los Angeles has accepted the resignation of its basketball coach, Ed Powell, and named Billy Donovan, his assistant to succeed him on a one-year contract.

Powell asked to be released from the contract to accept another offer, the nature of which was not disclosed in Thursday's announcement.

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP)—The Seattle Rainiers' holdout pitcher, Vern Kindfather, is in camp "practically signed."

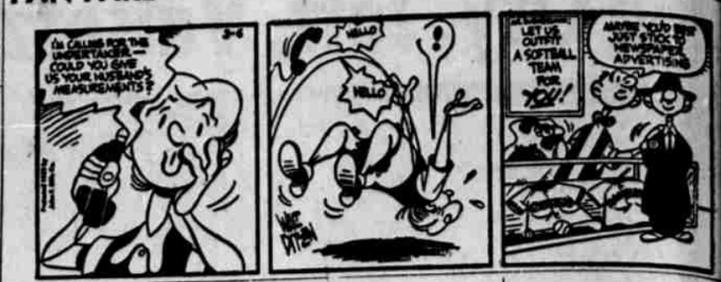

General Manager Leo Miller said the club had offered a substantial raise to Kindfather, who won 21 last year.

In an intrasquad game Wednesday the Thomases beat the Tobins 3-2.

day, March 14. This will be in conjunction with a larger stock car and farm implement showing. Location is on the Bank of Lebanon parking lot.

On the opening evening the Crowfoot school band and that of Lebanon high school will provide music.
