

Death Penalty for Girl Commuted to Life

Singapore (AP)—The death sentence imposed on a Malayan girl communist for whom Hungary offered to trade an imprisoned British businessman was commuted today to life imprisonment.

The Sultan of Perak, of one of the federated Malay states, granted the clemency appeal of Lee Meng, 25, sentenced to die last September for carrying weapons and "consorting with bandits." She was acquitted in a previous trial.

An official announcement said the sultan acted "on the advice of the state executive council."

Prime Minister Winston Churchill last week rejected a Hungarian government proposal to exchange Edgar Sanders, 48, for Lee Meng.

Sanders was sentenced to 13 years in prison by Hungary in 1950 on spy charges at a trial with his American chief, Robert A. Vogeler. Vogeler was released from a 15-year sentence in April, 1951, after the U. S. granted Hungary certain concessions.

Churchill told the house of commons last Monday: "There can be no question of bartering a human life or deflecting the course of justice or mercy in Malaya for the sake of obtaining the release of a British subject unjustly imprisoned in Hungary."

Lee Meng insisted at her trial that she was not a communist bandit. Various local appeals for clemency were made on humanitarian grounds and in protest against the legal system that permitted her to be tried twice for the same crime.

Armed Boat Rumor Sifted

Mexico City (AP)—The U. S. Embassy says it has no confirmation of reports that North American and Cuban shrimp boats have carried arms while fishing off Mexico's coast.

Published reports have said the foreign boats were armed, some with machine guns, and that Mexican fishermen have asked permission to arm themselves as a protective measure.

Charge d'affaires Paul Culbertson of the U. S. Embassy said he has received no confirmation at all of the reports, and added that the 13 North American boats seized last week off Campeche were certainly unarmed.

Meanwhile the Campeche case continued to simmer Saturday in the wake of Culbertson's conference with the Mexican minister of foreign relations on the subject.

Culbertson told a news conference that the case centers around whether the shrimp boats were fishing when captured by a Mexican gunboat, and not where they were captured.

Aberdeen-Angus Auction At Fairgrounds Tuesday

By CLAUDE STEUSLOFF

A distinguished group of Aberdeen-Angus breeding cattle consigned by 22 cattlemen from every section of Oregon will be sold tomorrow at the State Fairgrounds in the second annual Oregon Aberdeen-Angus association sale.

There will be 15 registered bulls, 29 registered females, three registered baby calves and 42 commercial cattle.

Entry 13, a senior yearling bull consigned by Gerald West of Klamath Falls, is scratched. He died of bloat last week.

Joe Johnson and James Ellings of Oregon State college animal husbandry department are grading the cattle this afternoon.

Consignors of registered cattle include: Mrs. Frank Binder, Elkton; Alvin & Charles Cheyne, Klamath Falls; James Coffield, Eagle Creek; Thomas Densley, Baker; Lazy F Ranch, Medford; J. Q. Freeman, Baker; Fred Gansner, Kimberly; Hawthorn Farm, Hillsboro; Ben Hilton, Grants Pass; Harold Rankin, Herrington; C. R. and Robert Smith, Pendleton; Don Sabel, Powell Butte; E. J. Soderburg, Enterprise; Spring Meadow Farm, Corvallis; Gerald West, Klamath Falls and Edith and Earl Wilson, Malin.

Commercial cattle are all heifers, mostly purebreds but not registered. They are offered for cattlemen not interested in purebreds. Consignors are: Hawthorn Farm; Kesi and Wedman, Haines; William Lippencott, Williams; Archie Riekkola, Astoria; Don Sabel and Carl Williams, Salem.

Walter Palmer of Los Angeles, who sold the cattle last year, will again be on the block. Ring assistants are: Walter H. Smith, American Aberdeen-Angus association; Sherm Guttridge, Western Livestock Journal; Jiggs Jesse, Pacific Stockman; and Si Williams, Western Livestock Reporter.

Gerald West is chairman of the sale committee. Don Sabel, Dr. Frank Freeburger, Medford and Carl Williams are committee members.
