

Rites Held for Linn Suicide

Lebanon—Services were held Monday afternoon for Mrs. Ella Anna Gainer, 46, Linn's fifth suicide in 1853. Her body was found in the family car late Friday night by Robert Cate, a neighbor. She had driven the vehicle off the highway into a grove near her home about four miles north of Lebanon, and County Coroner Glenn Huston attributed her death to carbon monoxide poisoning.

A hose was found attached to the exhaust pipe of the car, leading into the vehicle through a window. Four notes were found in the auto, all addressed to relatives.

Police had been asked to look for Mrs. Gainer late Wednesday night when she vanished from her home after reportedly making a suicide threat.

Born at Platte Center, Neb., Jan. 31, 1907, she had lived in Lebanon for the past nine years.

Surviving are her husband, Gleason R. Gainer, whom she married in 1942, and two daughters, Janet I. Gainer and Mrs. Bette E. Lunde, both of Lebanon. She leaves a brother and sister living outside the state.

Middle Grove

Middle Grove—The auditorium for the three one-act plays given at Middle Grove school house Friday night was filled.

Special musical numbers were a piano solo by Wyetta Capps; a vocal quartette, Henry Sprick, Gil Blankenship, Wallace Turnidge and Chuck Wenger.

The words for the song had been written by Mrs. Robert Pickrel and put the audience in the mood for the play "Laughing Ghost."

For the first interlude readings were given by Mrs. Robert Pickrel and Norman Fletcher; a piano duet by Deena Lou Kleen and Doris Reynolds and a vocal solo by Mrs. Earl Malm. The play the "Family" followed.

The last group of musical numbers were a piano solo by Gay Lee Keppinger; another number by the men's quartette and guitar numbers with a song by Hubert Aspinwall. The entire cast closed the program singing "The Martins and the Coys."

The March meeting of the Middle Grove home extension will be held Thursday, March 12 at 10 a.m., in the home of Mrs. William Scharf. The project, "Herbs for Variety and Accent," will be given by project leaders.

Mrs. Melvin Van Cleave was chairman for the lunch committee which served for the Hereford sale at the Lewis farm at Aumsville Saturday with proceeds going to the Middle Grove association club's fund.

A guest for the past week in the Wallace Turnidge home is his mother, Mrs. Mazell Kimsey from Springfield.

Keizer Grange In Host Role

Keizer—Keizer Grange was host to 23 members of North Howell Grange last Wednesday night, on the county's annual visitation program. Also present were two members from Macleay Grange and four from Silverton Hills, including Mrs. Ida Benson, Pomona Master.

Ed Rogers reported for the legislative committee on several bills now before the legislature; and Clifford Orey reported for the Agricultural committee on the treatment of soil with insecticides.

Grace Fleming, HEC chairman, reported that a rummage sale was planned for Wednesday, March 11, at the Grange hall; and W. E. Savage announced that the Grange would sponsor the Salem Civic Players in a 3-act comedy "The Young Scamp" at the hall, Friday, March 20.

Appearing on the lecturer's program were Mrs. Florence Guy, Patricia Guy, Mike Mills, Kathleen Bair, Dale Ward, Clifford Orey and Mr. Redding of North Howell Grange.
